CATARAQUI CEMETERY

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COMPANY ON SATURDAY

There Were 240 Interments Made During the Last Year — This Was Thirty-six Less Than the Previous Year.

The Cataraqui Cemetery company held its annual meeting on Saturday afternoon. The superintendent's report was read by George Nicol and contained this information:

During the year ending April 30th, 240 interments were made, or thirty-six less than the previous year, making a total of 2,537 bodies now in the cemetery.

The number removed from the vaults for interment in other grounds was twenty-seven, or nine less than last year.

The ground sold during the year was three whole, twelve half, twenty-eight quarters, four, eight lots, and forty-one single graves. This makes a total of 6,690 square feet, as compared with 10,000 feet sold the previous year. There are now 553 lots under perpetual care. Fifty-one monuments were erected during the past year.

A long-felt want has been supplied by the erection of an office building and fire-proof vault. A card index system of interments has been installed and is proving very convenient.

A number of hedges and railings have been removed, making an improvement in the appearance of the grounds. The superintendent would like if many of the dilapidated railings on some lots were removed and the slabs laid level with the ground. This would lessen the labor in keeping these lots in order and also improve appearance.

These directors were elected: Mrs. B. W. Robertson, R. E. Kent, Dr. A. P. Chown, H. W. Richardson and W. F. Nickle, M.P. The auditors appointed were A. W. MacLean and J. F. Leslie.

Mr. McKendry says that there was no one at the corner to give warning to drivers and the rope could not be easily seen. He holds the Board of Works responsible.

IN BETHEL CONGREGATIONAL

Rev. D. N. Morden, of Ottawa, Preached on Sunday.

Rev. D. N. Morden, of Esplanet Presbyterian church, Ottawa, preached in Bethel Congregational church Sunday, commemorating the fortieth anniversary of that church's founding. The text for the morning service was Psalm 139:1, 2, "How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of Hosts, My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and flesh crieth out for the living God."

Nine years ago Mr. Morden was a student and preached his first sermon in that church and hence on this anniversary day he was particularly glad to be in charge. He reminded the congregation that Dr. Del had been away from the courts of the Lord. The churches of old were built on a hill and hence "up to the house or the court of the Lord." If people would always think of the Lord and do their work, no matter how menial the tasks might be, in the Christ-like spirit, their work would never cause them worry.

In connection with the 40th anniversary of the founding of Bethel Congregational church it was noticed there were in attendance two members who were present at the first service. The first service in 1874 was conducted by the late Rev. Peacock in the old Johnston street school. The congregation then moved to a little frame church on Johnson street where D. Scott's house now stands.

The two members who were noticed in the church on Sunday evening were B. W. Robertson and W. Clark, of Earl street.

RUNAWAY GIRL CANGHT
And Returned to Her Father's Home in Pittsburg.

The fourteen-year-old girl, who has been causing a great deal of trouble, having run away from her home in Pittsburg, was located on Saturday afternoon. She had been working on Wolfe Island, came to the city on Saturday morning, afterwards going to the home of the young man who wants to marry her.

After several calls by the inspector of the Children's Aid Society at the home of the young man, it was repeatedly denied that the girl was there, but she was known to be in the house, so the place was carefully watched, and after a while the young couple were seen to go for a walk.

When found they were walking arm-in-arm on a lonely road in Portmouth. The girl was at once brought back to the city, the young man protesting, saying that he was going to marry her. The girl was then turned over to her father.

Death of Mrs. M. Simmons.
The death occurred at her late home, in Verona, on Sunday afternoon, at 1.10 o'clock, of Georgina Jackson, wife of Myers Simmons. The deceased was stricken with apoplexy on Friday and death ensued on Sunday. The late Mrs. Simmons was married forty-one years ago and had resided for the greater part of her life in Verona, spending four years in Kingston. The deceased was a daughter of the late William Jackson, of Sydneyham. She is survived by one daughter and two sons, Mrs. A. McArthur, Montreal, Frank, Stirling, N.Y., and Frederick, Toronto. The funeral will be held from her late home on Tuesday afternoon, to Verona cemetery. Mrs. Simmons was an enthusiastic worker in the Methodist church, a woman of kindly life and her death is much deplored.

Knocked Down by Automobile
After the baseball game on Saturday afternoon just as the people were making their way back from the cricket field an accident occurred on Bagot street near Gore. An automobile was coming along the former street and at this corner a young man, George Redmond, started to walk across the street just as the approaching machine was within a few feet of him. Of course he was struck down. He was carried to the side of the roadway and temporary aid tendered him. The young man driving the machine stopped and the ladies who were in the machine got out and the injured man was taken to the Hotel Dieu, where, after an hour or so he revived, having sustained no serious injury.

A Bouquet for Grand Trunk
Two ladies travelling from Pittsburgh to the Lake of the St. Lawrence via Huntsville, Ont., this month, were so pleased with the service they received on the Grand Trunk dining cars that they wrote the superintendent of dining cars as follows:

"It gives us great pleasure to testify to the excellent service and courtesy of the dining car conductor on the train which we travelled on to Huntsville. We felt that the long distance from Pittsburgh had been made pleasant by the service on the Grand Trunk line. We also agree that we have never had a better meal in a dining car."

Confirmation at Wolfe Island
The confirmation service, Sunday, at Trinity church, Wolfe Island, was very impressive and beautiful. The bishop of Kingston, Dr. Bidwell, preached an eloquent sermon on "The Power and Work of the Holy Spirit in His Church and Members." The church was filled to the doors, and some were obliged to go away for lack of room. The bishop confirmed thirty-nine candidates, twenty-five males and fourteen females. His lordship preached at St. George's cathedral at evening.

Known in Kingston
Dr. Alexander B. Lindsay, of Halifax, one of the Empress of Ireland drowned, was a pupil of Prof. J. M. Lano, of the Royal Military College, when the latter taught in Halifax.

Mrs. C. Holloway, of Quebec, who is also among the Empress' drowned, was the mother of a former cadet of the Royal Military College.

On Sunday evening, the Bishop of Kingston offered special prayers in St. George's cathedral for those bereaved by the Empress of Ireland disaster.

MOURNING AT CITADEL

FOR THE DEAD MEMBERS OF THE SALVATION ARMY

Mayor Shaw Attended the Sunday Morning Service and Conveyed the Sympathy of the City.

The services at the Salvation Army citadel on Sunday were in keeping with the great loss which the Salvation Army suffered as a result of the sinking of the S. S. Empress of Ireland. Many members of corps made special references to the great disaster which had befallen the army.

The big memorial service will be held at the barracks on Sunday afternoon, June 7th, when all the ministers of the city will be asked to attend.

The members of the local corps are wearing a badge of mourning.

On Sunday morning Mayor Shaw was present at the Salvation Army citadel and conveyed the sympathy of the city to the members of the army over the loss of so many of the staff, as a result of the sinking of the Empress.

The passing of Major and Mrs. Creighton, who went down with the ill-fated Empress, recalls incidents in connection with the early days of the Salvation Army in Kingston. Citizens, who were members of the local corps when Major Creighton had charge, some twenty-five years ago, can well remember the treatment the army officer was given while preaching on the street corners. On many occasions stones were thrown at him by spectators. On one occasion he was chased into the barracks at the corner of Queen and Bagot streets, by an ugly mob who hurled stones through the windows.

A member of the local corps, when speaking to the Whig, stated that he could well remember the day that a hotel keeper in Kingston turned the hose on Major Creighton while he was preaching on the street in front of his tavern. The army was not popular here then. To-day it has the support of every class and creed.
