The little girl was stricken while picking flowers at Barriefield. She was removed to the Hotel Dieu, where an operation was performed at eight o'clock, which revealed that the appendix had burst. FIRE DRILL AT CHURCH.

Boston Rector Interrupted Mass to Give Instruction.

Boston, June 23—Services during the 9 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church here were interrupted by the Rev. Father Rennan, to give the 1,200 assembled men, women and children instruction in leaving the church in case of fire. At a sign from their rector the parishioners all rose from their seats, and in 2½ minutes the church was cleared. The congregation was divided into five groups each group taking a separate exit. The rector's instruction's were: "Walk lively, but don't crowd. Waste no time, but do not run" In explaining the purpose of the drill, the rector said: "Fire drill in our schools has proved to be necessary and satisfactory. There is no reason why it should not be just as necessary in our churches and other public buildings."

ANOTHER TORY EDITOR QUITS.

R. S. Pelton, publisher of the Iroquois News, in Whitney's own riding is another temperance editor who has been compelled to step outside his party and stand for principle. He says thousands of temperance conservatives are face to face with the issue: How should I vote? He feels that "he cannot consistently vote for any candidate be he conservative or liberal who refuses to pledge himself to abolish the bar when the opportunity is presented." The editor tells of pledgings and appeals made to Whitney for advanced temperance legislation, but to all these "the government politely but firmly refused to consider."

The editor goes on to say: "The government is going to get a bad shaking up in this election * * * the better element in the conservative party will never again, if indeed it will on this occasion, submit to the liquor influence in this province dominating the policy of their party and government. The party has been pushed against the wall in this campaign by the government's inaction, fighting on the defensive, sullen and angry. There can be no settlement, however the present election may result, that does not carry with it the final suppression of the liquor traffic in Ontario."

Found a Friend in Dr. Chase

His Medicines Proven Effective, and Always Kept at Hand in This Home

Mrs. Chas. Lovell, Agassiz, B.C., writes:—"I feel it my duty to tell you what a great friend Dr. Chase's medicines have been to myself and family. I cannot praise his medicines too highly, and Dr. Chase's name is a household word in our home. Well, quite a number of years ago I sent to you for a sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment for protruding piles, and, having used the sample and found relief, I sent to a neighboring town for four boxes, and I am completely cured.

"I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for constipation, and, after using them, I am completely cured of this dreadful disease. I am the mother of ten children, of whom nine are living, and when seven of my children were all very bad with whooping cough, caught in the middle of a severe winter, I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and they were all cured before the winter was over, and now we are never without Dr. Chase's medicines in our home, and I recommend them to all."

BAR BACKBONE OF CURSE

Rev. Father Minehan, of Toronto On The Open Bar---It Is The Drunkard's School.

Some people say that if you close the bars you will drive the liquor traffic into the homes. Well, we have heard Protestant ministers by the hundred condemn and denounce the bar, many of them life-long conservatives. Let us hear what the Rev. Father Minehan, of Toronto, has to say of the bar-rooms. He is a priest who is in as close touch with the lives of the toilers in Toronto as is possible for any one interested in social and moral reform work to be. Father Minehan says of the bar:

For my part I do not believe that it will be necessary to go to this extreme (speaking of prohibition). I believe that the spinal column of the liquor curse is the bar-room. Practically every drunkard with whom I have been brought in contact received his initiation in the bar-room and graduated from that seminary to drunkenness.

It may be said that if you close the bar-room a man may bring liquor home and enter upon a debauch in his own house. Yes, he can, but the number of men who will swill at home is, according to my observation, very small, and their number will grow smaller as their nursery, the bar-room, is cut off, for they are mainly bar-room products. Rarely have I seen the police van drive up to the door of a home; whenever I have seen it on its gloomy errand it is generally going towards or coming from some bar-room. When I meet any member of my flock who has been on a spree, I almost invariably hear his confession: "Father, I did not intend to get drunk; but they pressed me to have a drink with them. I had to order my treat like the rest, and the moment we had two or three rounds of drink we were all ready to sing, 'We Won't Go Home Until Morning.' And sure enough some of us did not go home until morning, or until well on to noon, for we found ourselves figuring in the daily parade of drunks that interview the police magistrate."

Dr. Ross is in favor of keeping these bars open. He has never lifted his little finger to help the carrying of a license reduction by-law. Yet he claims credit for the government because of the number of times measures have been carried. They were carried, however, by the temperance people, not by the government. And the local option law is a liberal measure. All Whitney did was to add the three-fifths clause to it, resulting in keeping many bars open that would otherwise have been closed.

LAKE ONTARIO PARK

IS NOW OPEN FOR THE SUMMER SEASON.

There Was a Big Crowd Present for the Vaudeville Performance, Which Was Very Enjoyable.

No better weather than that of Monday night could have been provided by the weather man for the opening of Lake Ontario Park. All the street cars were filled with people from 7.30 till 10 o'clock. The park is very prettily lighted this year. The lights shining through the trees and their reflection in the water certainly gave a welcome change to the harsh lights of the city streets.

Shortly after eight o'clock the "movies" were started in the pavilion and the big crowd watched the three thousand feet of film unwinded. The vaudeville was next in order. The first sketch was McGreevy and Devon in a comedy entitled "Fun on the Farm." McGreevy, as a typical farmer, kept the audience in roars with his work, and Miss Adrian Devon was a "queen." These partners had to respond to several encores for their clever acting. Their programme includes juggling, slack wire stunts and singing. They sang "Come and Kiss Your Little Baby" and when they closed with "This Is the Life," they brought down the house.

The second part of the programme was "Musical Seeley" in a novelty musical act. He uses the banjo, Swiss bells, aluminum harp and aluminum chimes. Every one of his instruments was illuminated by some arrangement and the effect was as pretty as one could wish for. The illumination of the stage in the way Seeley did last night, is something that has never before been shown and created intense interest.

The programme will change on Thursday evening. The big event with the children will be on Wednesday. This is the first of the popular one-cent days, and a matinee will be given at 3.30 o'clock.
