THE CAMP INSPECTED TORONTO YACHT WON ATTACKS ON ROYALTY

BY COL. THE HON. SAM HUGHES ON THURSDAY.

The Minister of Militia Was Very Much Pleased—The Arrangements Satisfied Him Very Much.

Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, paid an official visit to the cadet camp at Harrisfield on Thursday morning. He arrived in the city on Thursday morning over the Canadian Pacific railway. At 11.25 he left for London, Ont., to inspect the camp which is being held at that point.

When speaking to a Whig representative, at the camp grounds, the minister of militia stated that he was well pleased with the camp. When asked as to the messing, Hughes stated that it was good. "It is something new and it has proven very successful," was the statement of the minister.

During his inspection Col. Hughes was accompanied by Col. V. Williams and Col. T. D. R. Hemming. The three officers made the trip around the camp grounds in an automobile.

One brigade was inspected at a time. The officers of the different brigades were introduced to the minister. Col. Hughes shook hands with a number of the little lads in the different corps. He also made an inspection of the rifle ranges and the swimming pool in the centre of the grounds.

After the inspection of the brigades the minister returned to the camp headquarters, where a number of clerical men were introduced to him. In speaking to them Col. Hughes stated that he hoped by this time next year he would be able to furnish the chaplains of the different corps with uniforms.

Col. Hughes stated to the Whig that he was delighted with the showing made by the highland corps from Williamstown high school, which is attached to the 1st brigade in command of Major W. Y. Mills. The corps, which is forty-two strong, has made a hit while in camp. The uniforms worn by the boys cost $1,000. Those in charge of the corps are Capt. W. C. McLennan, Capt. J. A. B. McLennan, Lieut. H. G. Arnold and A. D. McIntyre.

On Wednesday afternoon the camp was inspected by Col. R. G. Gwynne, director of cadet service. Col. Gwynne stated that he was well pleased with the camp as it was one of the best he had the opportunity to visit. He made a thorough inspection of the mess tents and expressed himself well pleased with the service given by Reid & Hambrook, caterers.

Harold Flower, one of the members of the Peterboro corps, was injured on Wednesday evening while watching the baseball game. It appears that when one of the lads was in the act of hitting the baseball the bat flew out of his hand and hit the Peterboro cadets in the face. A bad cut resulted by the blow. He was taken to the Station hospital, Queen street where he is receiving treatment.

The bon-fire concert held on Wednesday evening was a big event. The lads gathered around the fire and spent a very happy time.

Thursday afternoon the cadets were given off. Some went down the river on the steamer America while the remainder took the street cars for Lake Ontario Park.

On Friday afternoon the brigade sports will be held on the camp grounds. Good prizes will be given in each event.

A number of the young lads in camp are complaining about sore feet.

Thursday was a very warm day in camp. During the morning a couple of the lads on parade fainted as a result of the intense heat.

On Thursday morning Lieut.-Col. H. R. Duff lectured to the brigades on first aid and St. John's ambulance work.

It makes Col. Hemming, the camp commandant nervous to see papers lying about the ground, and if there is no one in sight to do his bidding, the colonel will advance and pick up the papers.

None of the boys are allowed to do any loafing during the hours of the day. The cadets are kept on a very close watch is being kept on the ice cream booths lest the "kiddies" might put in some idle minutes. On Wednesday morning, two young lads who persisted in skipping drill were paraded before the commanding officer and given a sound lecture.

A number of the cadets, who are about nine years of age are very homesick, and will be glad when it is time for them to return to their mothers and fathers. One of the worst cases of homesickness was reported on Wednesday when a lad about nine years of age appeared at the hospital tent for treatment. When the doctor asked the "kiddie" about his troubles he replied: "I want my mamma." When the doctor located the trouble, he took the lad on his knees and he remained there for considerable time.

THE FIRST OF THE GEORGE CUP RACES.

Defeated Watertown Challenger Handily—Kingston Yachts Stood Up Well in Their Classes.

Prinyer's Cove, July 8.—Canadian craft more than held their own on the first day of the L. Y. R. A. regatta outside Prinyer's Cove, twenty miles from here in the Bay of Quinte on a splendid triangular course off Pleasant Point light. The R. C. Y. C. yacht Nirwana defeated the Watertown N. Y. boat Neagha handily in the first race of three for the George cup and other Canadian boats also won from American competitors, though the Watertown won in Division D.

No fault could be found with the weather. Although it promised little early in the morning, before the first starting gun was fired, a steady breeze came out of the south west and held until all had finished freshening toward mid-afternoon. The start was at 12.02 and the Nir was finished at 1.57.40, Neagha crossing the line at 2 p. m. exactly.

In class R of Division D, the telen surprised the Chirya on the home leg by coming from leeward, eating up that boat's fifty-fathom lead and crossing the line a minute and thirty seconds behind the Watertown, which finished first.

The classes M and P covered the nine-knot course twice, the others but once. In class P the Patricia, winner, was followed by Norman Gooderham, doing some neat work at the rounding buoy and gained part of her lead through skillful manoeuvring. The judges were Rev. F. W. Armstrong, Trenton; Judge Reeves, Watertown, N.Y.; Harry Moon and Murray Wilson, R.C.Y.C., Toronto. Summary:

Wolfe Island News. Wolfe Island, July 9.—Mrs. Edward Weaver, Brownville, is visiting her relatives here. Oliver Hawkins has purchased his brother, Patrick's, farm for a handsome figure. Mr. Gray and sister went Sunday to T. O'Connell's, Reid's Bay. James Russell had a fine crop of strawberries and keeps a large number picking them for market. Mrs. G. Pyke, Kingston, is visiting friends here. William Hall has returned home after spending a few days visiting relatives at Collin's Bay. Rod Walker had added a fresh coat of paint to his house. The potato crop looks very promising. Unless some blight strikes them there will be an excellent crop.

Peter Ward and wife, Watertown, spending a few days visiting relatives here. John Green and wife, Syracuse, N.Y., have returned home after spending a few days visiting relatives here.

There are a lot of men right here in this village that harbor the conviction that the world owes them a living. Stuff and nonsense. The world owes no man anything who will not make an effort to be self-sustaining.

MEMBERS OF GOVERNMENT SAID TO FEAR THE TENDENCY OF THE MASSES TO ASSIST THEMSELVES IN VIOLENT FORM.

New York, July 9.—The Tribune's London correspondent cables:

A serious situation which, it is feared may lead to open attacks on the royal family, is said to have developed as the result of what is regarded as unwarranted interference by the Tory party to persuade the king to refuse to sign the home rule bill.

Attacks similar to that made by John Ward, the labor member, at the time of the Curragh affair, are feared. The labor Irish members had their appetites whetted by the Curragh affair, and are ready at any time to renew the attack. They watch closely proceedings at Buckingham palace, and are said to resent the presence of the queen at the ministerial interviews.

Left to himself, it is said, the King would sign the bill. Since the army crisis he has been most anxious to avoid conflict with his ministers. For a short time Queen Mary's appearance at the meetings was distasteful to Premier Asquith, did not attend them, but for the last two weeks she has missed none.

Members of the government say that even the queen does not realize the true seriousness of the situation and that much more than home rule for Ireland may depend on the king's action and the possible defying of the parliament act. They say that Queen Mary does not realize the significance of the growth of labor unions, strikes, and syndicalism and as the result the rapidly growing feeling of independence and power in the masses, the people desire to assert themselves and their rights.

Within the last six months there have been attacks in public speeches, not only in parliament, but through the country, on the king and queen and the principle of royalty, which were unheard of and unthought of two years ago. Not even Ben Tillett in his wildest speeches to the East End strikers has ever gone so far as some of the speakers in the recent by-elections and other public meetings throughout the country. Men in responsible positions have the gravest fears for the consequences.
