ULSTER'S 12TH OF JULY PEACEFULLY OBSERVED

Resistance Of Home Rule Was Urged

THERE WERE NO RIOTS

NATIONALIST FORCES RESTED ON THEIR ARMS.

Premier Asquith Says Parliament Would Prorogue About the End of August—New Session in December.

London, July 14.—The recognition of the danger inherent in the existence of two armed volunteer bodies seems to have imbued Irishmen with a sense of added responsibility and the battle of the Boyne was commemorated yesterday in Ireland with tremendous enthusiasm.

But there was no more notable absence of disorder than on past occasions of this kind.

Following the custom, a great procession marched from Belfast to Drumbragh, where Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster unionist leader, made his now famous speech, defying the government either totally to exclude Ulster from home rule or come out and fight.

Lord Londonderry, at Enniskillen, and Walter Hume Long, unionist member of parliament for Strand at Garvagh, made speeches in a similar vein to other large demonstrations of Ulster men, but no disorder was reported at any point.

Rival nationalist and Orange processions at Glendarmot reached the stage of jeering at each other and for a few moments a riotous scene of trouble, but the police succeeded in keeping them apart until the danger was over.

One feature of the situation seems to be that while Sir Edward Carson and the other leaders are using unrestrained language, both Ulstermen and nationalists are showing admirable self-control. Another feature is that the more defiant the Ulster leader's speeches become, the more pronounced becomes the feeling among the members of parliament on both sides that a satisfactory compromise eventually will be reached.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons yesterday that the present session of parliament would come to an end about the close of August, and that the session would begin in early winter, which is thought to mean in December. Before the present session ends the government will introduce its proposals for the reform of the house of lords.

Under this arrangement home rule and Welsh disestablishment will automatically pass into law by the end of August.

WOLVES OVERRUNNING COUNTY OF RENFREW

Farmers Apply To The Government For Aid In Exterminating Them

Ottawa, July 14.—That wolves are overrunning Renfrew county and destroying the farmers' sheep in that district is the word received by the government here, which is asked to take some steps by the offering of a bounty or by some other means to stop the depredations and exterminate the marauders. It is stated that during the month of May alone seventy-five sheep were destroyed in the county by the wolves, which are supposed to have wandered down from the vicinity of Algonquin Park. Large numbers of deer have also been destroyed in the same manner.

Farmers, it is said, have stopped raising sheep in the district as a result of the inroads of the wolves. They have not been bothered with them for thirty years, and their presence has only commenced to be noticed during the past three years. The present bounty is small especially, it is stated, as the hide is reckoned by the provincial government.

Styles Change In a Flash

Styles change with such sudden flashes these days that it pays to lay in things a few at a time," said a wise woman.

With fashion fluttering from one extreme to the other it keeps one busy to be up to date.

The safest guide to fashion's kaleidoscope are the advertising columns of The Whig.

The modern woman finds as much real news and useful information in the advertising columns as she does in any part of the paper.

MURDERER'S WIFE IN NIGHT

And Shoots Himself—Murderer Suffered From Cancer.

Utica, N. Y., July 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Edgett were found in bed yesterday dying from wounds inflicted, the police believe, by Edgett, in a jealous rage. Mrs. Edgett died in hospital and her husband cannot live.

The scene of the tragedy was their home at Yorkville, a suburb of Edgett, a watchmaker, 55 years old, had suffered long from cancer. For several weeks he had been unable to leave his room and was about to undergo a fourth operation. He was removed to his bed from a chair about eight o'clock last evening.

Mrs. Edgett retired at 11.30. About 4.30 a.m., her oldest daughter, Leona, was awakened by the sound of someone crying. She went to her parents' room but found the door locked. Calling a younger sister she aided the latter to climb through the window of the bedroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgett were both lying upon the bed, which was saturated with blood. Beside the dresser was a bloodstained sledge hammer. Under the bed was a .32 calibre revolver. It was evident that Edgett arose during the night, procured the sledge hammer and entered his wife's head, fracturing the skull in three places. He then shot himself through the head with a bullet from the revolver. Both were removed to St. Luke's hospital where Mrs. Edgett died at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Edgett is alive with a bullet in his brain. The physicians say he cannot live. Mrs. Edgett was the mother of 13 children, 11 of whom are living. Four of these are of tender age. Edgett's father died in Utica state hospital 3 months ago and one of the sons has been confined in that institution.

Richard Croker will return to New York from Ireland next September and seek to oust Charles F. Murphy from the leadership of Tammany Hall.

CAPT. CRAIG REBUKED.

He Was Foolish to Hint at Divorcing His Wife.

London, July 14.—The Birmingham Post, (Unionist), says:

"We are not altogether surprised that the visit of Sir Edward Carson to Ulster, and announcements made on behalf of the unionist council are being represented as constituting an impudent attempt to intimidate the government. Truth to tell, the demonstrations seem to have been very strangely managed if there is no thought of exhibiting the mailed list, Captain Craig, on Thursday, acted with singular ineptness and lack of discretion. We can understand that there may have been good and sufficient reasons for letting Ulster people know that the provisional government is actually in being, although it has not yet done anything by way of governing, but it is extremely difficult to understand why Captain Craig, giving publicity to this reverse just met by Premier Borden in Manitoba, according to Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and canals, who is visiting this city to-day, enroute for an inspection of the Welland canal. In his estimation, the favorable expression of opinion by the electors will more than counterbalance the shock met by Sir R. P. Roblin.

CANADIANS FORCED TO PAY INCOME TAX

For Work In United States While Yankees Are Exempt In Canada

Ottawa, July 14.—A live question of international importance was brought to the attention of Sir Robert Borden, yesterday, by Oliver Wilcox, M.P. for North Essex. It relates to the recent imposition of coming into force of an income tax imposed by the United States government by the Underwood tariff upon Canadians who live on the Canadian side of the boundary, but work in the United States. It amounts to one per cent of their total income, while the American escapes with an exemption up to $3,000.

"This regulation affects 2,500 people in Windsor alone," declared Mr. Wilcox, "and there are thousands of others along the border. We in Canada impose no such tax although investigation has proven that far more Americans who live at home work in Canada than do Canadians in the United States."

Mr. Wilcox desires a protest lodged with the American government, and retaliatory action if nothing is done about it. It is probable that the matter will be taken up by the Washington authorities through the British embassy.

MRS. LOCKWOOD EJECTED

From Home in Which She Lived Fifty Years.

Washington, July 14.—Mrs. Belva Lockwood was ejected by order of the court from the home in which she lived for fifty years and where she worked for international peace and woman suffrage, rather than campaign for president of the United States and received the congratulatory of her friends as the first woman admitted to the bar of the United States supreme court.

Mrs. Lockwood superintended the moving of her furniture, trunks and many other things to the little back hall room which is all she can now afford. The Lockwood home will be torn down to make room for a modern office building.

HELD ON CHARGE OF KIDNAPPING BAKER'S SON

Nine Men, One Woman, Under Bail Aggregating $133,000—Boy Guides Police

New York, July 14.—Nine men and a woman, all foreigners, were held under bail totaling $133,000 as alleged kidnapers of eight-year-old Frank Longo, son of a prosperous baker, who was stolen from his home last spring held prisoner for weeks and released after an unsuccessful effort by his captors to obtain $700 ransom. The prisoners were arrested recently upon indications given the police by the boy, who guided them to a house which he said had been his jail.

Nicola Katola, one of the nine men, was held in $10,000 additional bail on the charge of kidnaping another boy of six years.

Search for the Ferry Hessemer. Windsor, Ont., July 14.—The bottom of Lake Erie will be practically combed by a syndicate of Detroit and Windsor business men, who have taken a six months' option on the car ferry Marquette and Bessemer. Rasputin, who has been one of the most prominent figures in Russia in recent years, was staying in a native village, Pokrovskoy, in Siberia, when a woman, a stranger to the locality, approached him pretending to be a beggar. After accosting him she stabbed him in the abdomen with a long military dirk.

CARSON GIVES NOTICE TO THE GOVERNMENT

That Ulster Must Be Given a Clean Cut Out Of Home Rule

Drumbragh, Ireland, July 19.—The Orangemen's demonstration here yesterday culminated in a scene of immense enthusiasm around the tiny platform where Sir Edward Carson, Bible in hand, pledged the covenant, never to surrender to coercion, to remain loyal to the throne and never to waver in their support of their leaders in the fight against home rule.

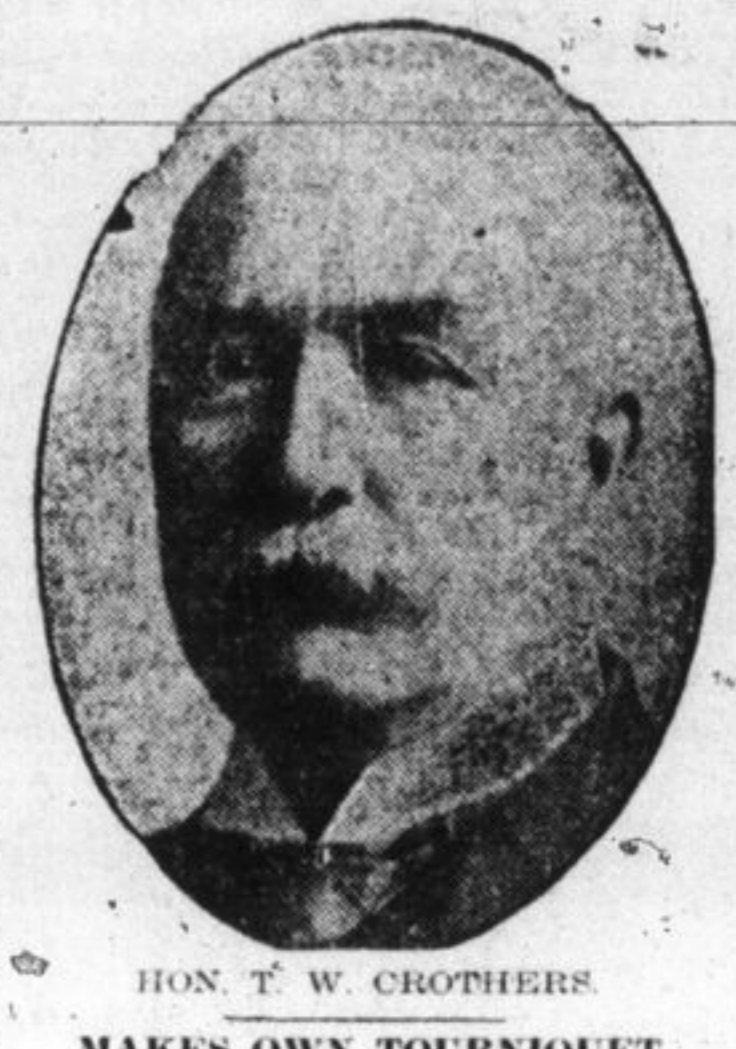

Sir Edward, in a speech, which evoked tremendous enthusiasm, served notice on the British government that unless it was prepared to leave Ulster alone it would very shortly find the Ulstermen recognizing no government except the provisional government of Ulster.

He said he had been given authority to act, if necessary; that meant he was to exercise his powers without regard to consequences to himself.

The Ulstermen, he added, were not going to give way, and were bound to win, because God would defend the right.

Sir Edward Carson offered the government the alternative of giving Ulster a clean cut out of home rule or of coming to fight the Ulstermen. These, he said, were the only possible alternatives. Ulster, he concluded, was claiming only justice, government would take it for it and if it did not get it from the self.

His left leg went under the wheels and he was severed above the ankle. First bandaging the limb with a garter, he took a knife and cut his shirt into strips, making a tourniquet, which he twisted tight with pencils. It was nearly an hour before John Trimble found him and summoned Dr. Promyr, who attended him and removed him to his parents' home.
