HAVE TILL AUG. 3RD TO COMPLETE PRINCESS AND KING STREET PAVEMENT.

Foley and Gleason's Contract Allows Them Until That Date, if no Rainy Days Intervene in Meantime. On enquiry of the city engineer, R. J. Metcalf, the following statement in connection with the street paving was given to the Whig: The paving of Princess street and King street was commenced on May 11th and the contract states that the work must be completed inside of sixty working days. The contractors were tied up for four days by the city not having the excavations ready. They were tied up for five days by rain. This makes a total of sixty-six working days from May 11th, exclusive of holidays. The sixty working days would be up on Wednesday, July 22nd, if the excavations had not tied up the contractors. The nine days more make the time August 3rd. The cars will likely be running on the north track by Tuesday, and then the bricks along the south track can be laid. The asphalt can then be laid on the north side, and that side can be used in two or three days. The contractors realize that the merchants have been very patient when the work was blocked, and as they have worked in other places, are as anxious to complete the work as the merchants are to have it done.

FRENCH CHAMPION'S HISTORY. Idol of Parisian Fms Fights Way to The Top. Carpenter is the first of the French pugilistic school to gain worldwide recognition. Born at Lenz, France, on January 12, 1894, he is in his twenty-first year. Although he did not begin to box until he was thirteen, his rise has been both rapid and spectacular. Beginning as a bantam, he worked through class after class until to-day he is considered by many experts as the best light heavyweight in the world. Weighing in the neighborhood of 170 pounds, he has a 23-inch reach, 41-inch chest and is five feet ten inches in height. Edward ("Gunboat") Smith is an Irish-American, born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 8, 1888. He began fighting in the west six years ago, but did not become prominent among the white heavyweight pugilists until he came east in 1912.

Smith's record since 1912 follows: 1912 - Knockouts - Lacroix, 4 rounds; Jim Sullivan, 2; Hubert Roe, 5. Won - George Gunther, 20; Willie Lewis, 20. Lost - Frank Klans, foul, 19; Billy Papke, 18. 1913 - Knockouts - Morgan, 8; Bendsman Rice, 3; "Cyclone" Smith, 3; Bombardier Wells, 4; Lurie, 3; Jack Lancaster, 3; Bombardier Wells, 4; Lurie, 3; Jack Lancaster, 3; Bombardier Wells, 1. THE MAGNETIC GIRL. How She Compels Others to Obey Her Will. 100,000 Copies of Remarkable Book describing peculiar Psychic Powers to be distributed Post Free to readers of "The Kingston Whig." The wonderful power of Personal Influence, magnetism, Fascination, Mind Control, call what you will, can surely be acquired by everyone no matter how unattractive or uninteresting they may be. Knowledge, author of the new book entitled "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces." The book lays down many astounding facts concerning the practices of the Eastern Yogis, and describes a simple though effective system of continuing the thoughts and feelings of others. It shows how one may gain the love and friendship of those who might otherwise be indifferent; how to quickly and accurately judge the character and disposition of an individual; how to cure the most obstinate diseases and habits without drugs or medicine; even the complex subject of projecting thoughts (telepathy) is explained. The author, who is the popular stage favorite, whose portrait appears herewith, declares that Prof. Knowles' book opens the door to success, health and happiness to every man, no matter what his or her position in life. She believes that Prof. Knowles has "discovered" principles which, if universally adopted, will revolutionize the mental status of the human race. The book, which is being distributed broadcast free of charge, is full of photographic reproductions showing how these unseen forces are being used all over the world, and how thousands upon thousands have developed powers which they little dreamed they possessed. The free distribution of the 100,000 copies is being conducted by a large department, and a copy will be sent post free to anyone interested. No money need be sent but those who wish to do so may enclose 5 cents (stamps of your own country) to cover postage, etc. All requests for the free book should be addressed to: National Institute of Sciences, Free Distribution Dept., 287 D. St., 2nd Floor, Bridge Road, London, S.E., England. Simply say you want "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces," and mention "The Kingston Whig."

Wants Pins to Lock Door. A traveller, on a freezing January night, called at an inn, but found it full. "Well, landlord," he said, "I can't sleep out on the snow crust. You must put me up somehow." "I guess, then," said the landlord, "we'll make up a bed in the hall and curtain it off for you." Accordingly this was done. And the traveller, under a rather thick blanket, fell asleep. But in the middle of the night he awoke freezing. An icy draught blew through his hair and mustache, it even reached his thick blanket and swept over his bare legs. The traveller arose. The sheet that had been hung up as a partition had become unfastened and it was waving merrily in the breeze. "Landlord!" said the traveler. "What is it?" a voice shouted back. "Landlord," said the traveler, "will you please let me have a paper of pins to lock my bedroom door with?"

The Boston Grasshopper. Boston people are supposed to know what the value of Faneuil hall represents. Samuel Cooper, when American consul at Glasgow, tested some men who applied to him for aid. Claiming to be sailors from Boston and in need of assistance, they replied to the consul, who, being somewhat suspicious of them, asked if they could tell what the weathervane on Faneuil hall was. The first said it was a fish, the second declared it to be a horse, but the third said it was a grasshopper. Upon this, Mr. Cooper decided that the last was the only Boston man in the lot, and said: "I will give you all the assistance you need, but the other men will have to walk to Boston for all me. Any man who claims to be a Bostonian and can't tell what the Faneuil hall weathervane is must be an impostor." "Faneuil Hall and Faneuil Hall Market," by A. E. Brown.

Heretic Chiroprody. Thomas McEward, of Charleston, West Virginia, has achieved a record in heroic chiroprody, says the New York correspondent of the Telegraph. For years he suffered a martyrdom from a corn on the little toe of his left foot. It was situated so high that pedestrians kicked it almost daily, and, indeed, Mr. McEward in recent years had devoted most of his time in treating the corn and attacking its assailants. Things reached a climax when a huge flower-pot fell from a window and landed squarely on the little toe. The pain was so excruciating that Mr. McEward hurried home, grabbed a rifle and smashed his toe and the corn with a bullet. Now Mr. McEward is in hospital, and the question of amputating the entire foot is raised. "The Pair Whales." The Scottish Fishery board's annual report goes far to show that the stock of whales has been seriously reduced in recent years. The Scottish old lady of whom Dean Ramsay tells would, say a writer in the London Chronicle, have found in this the fulfilment of her foreboding. She protested against the introducing of gas, on the ground that it would supersede the use of oil. "What's to become of the pair whales?" she asked.—Exchange.

LIPTON IS AFTER CUP THAT ENGLAND LOST IN THE YEAR 1851.

When it was First Sailed For—This Year's Three American Defenders Have Cost a Million and a Half. Sir Thomas Lipton, who already has tried three times to "lift" the America's cup, has challenged again. And will race an American defender off Sandy Hook in September of this year. The first three racing days already are set by the New York Yacht club's racing committee for the 10th, 12th and 15th of that month. The America's cup, valued at one hundred guineas, was originally put up by the Royal Yacht Squadron in 1841 as a prize to be completed for by yachts of all nations in a race around the Isle of Wight. At the time it was hardly anticipated that any but British yachts would participate. The first prize over since was won by the America's cup, which had a 170-ton schooner, which they believed could get around the Isle of Wight faster than anything else afloat. She had been taken over to Havre, France, in 1851, and was the first yacht to cross the Atlantic in either direction. Thus it was that the America's cup entered the race and won in 8 hours 37 minutes, her nearest opponent crossing the line eighteen minutes later. The prize over since has been called the America's cup. In 1857 it was presented by the five owners of the America to the New York Yacht club, to be held against all challengers as an international trophy. The rules under which the yachts race for the America's cup are subject to constant revision as to details, but in the main are that the visiting yacht must be built in the country that challenges and must profess to be destination under her own sail and on her own bottom, the race must be sailed in the waters of the country holding the cup. The competition is open to any foreign chartered yacht club having for its annual regatta an ocean water course. The rules under which the competition is held are: Competing yachts must measure not less than 65 nor more than 90 feet on the load waterline; schooners, not less than 80 nor more than 115 feet. Ten months' notice must be given by the challenger and no race must be sailed between Nov. 1st and May 1st.

Canadians Tried Twice. American yachtsmen have contributed over a million and a half dollars. Daily races between all three boats have been in order, and all there will be thirty-five trial contests arranged for the water fiers before the actual elimination trials, which will be sailed off Newport, August 15th. This long series of races scheduled should result in determining which is the speediest of the three. There are different opinions as to whether the Defender, the Vanite, or the Resolute will race against Lipton's latest sailing creation, but most of us are guessing the New York Yacht club will be the victor, which has won nearly all her races so far. Lipton's newest hope, the Shamrock IV, will start across the Atlantic on her quest about July 20th, according to present arrangements. In design Sir Thomas's craft differs markedly from all previous cup challengers, nor does she bear a close resemblance to any American boat. Designer Nicholson boldly carried out his own ideas, with the result that Shamrock IV, is certainly original. She carries her originality so far as to win back the cup, for poor Uncle Sam is having a decidedly bad year with his trophy collection. Not until 1870 did England attempt to win back the cup she lost in 1851. Then the Canada had full confidence that everything will be done to make it a great success in every particular. For the poultry department twenty valuable silver cups will be given in addition to the regular cash prizes. These cups must be won three times before becoming the property of the exhibitor. The prize list has been increased this year by $1,500. Buttermaking competition will be carried on daily. A magnificent exhibit will be placed in the Agricultural Hall from the Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The new Art Building will be filled with paintings of the highest order, including that famous $30,000 painting "The Haymakers" from the Albright Art Gallery, Buffalo. All information regarding the exhibition given on application to the secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS. The Finlay-Patterson Event at Moscow. "Maple Nook," the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Patterson, Moscow, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on July 8th, when their second daughter, Ruth Elizabeth, was united in marriage to George R. Finlayson of A. and Mrs. W. J. Finlay, Strathcona, by her great uncle, Rev. Alexander Martin, of Belleville. The bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus, rendered by Miss Edna Allen, and took their places neatly a bower of overhanging ferns and bridal bells. The bride, who was given away by her father, was a picture of girlish loveliness in her gown of shadow lace over ivory charmeuse with pearl trimmings. Her tulle veil was arranged in a Juliet cap with wreath of lily of the valley, and she carried an armful of white rose and fern. Miss Marguerite Patterson, groomed in embroidered net with touches of palest pink satin and corsage bouquets of sweet peas, attended her sister, while the groom was ably signing of the register, Mr. and Mrs. Wartman, of Wesley. During the singing of the register, Mr. and Mrs. R. Price sang very sweetly "Love's Old Sweet Song," after which the guests repaired to the dining room. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers. The halls were banked with Marguerites and ferns, while the dining room was artistically done in pale pink and green. The flowers for the table were pink sweet peas and smilax. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful Doherty piano, to the bridesmaid a dainty pin set with pearls, and to the groomsmen a gold tie pin. Later in the evening the bride appeared in a charmingly going-away gown of fawn basket cloth with small white lace hair trimmed with rosebuds. The happy couple motored to Kingston taking the boat for Montreal en route to Boston, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return, they will reside at their home in Strathcona. The guests from distance were Rev. A. Martin, an wife, of Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Johnson, Toronto.
