LIPTON HAS NEVER HAD A SQUARE DEAL.

Says New York American—National Hockey Association May Include New York and Boston.

Alto Aikoff, former featherweight champion has arrived in London and immediately challenged Freddie Welsh for the lightweight title.

The Ottawas have sent invitations out to all rowing clubs in the eastern States and Canada to attend the big Interprovincial regatta at the Capital on Labor Day. All Canadian clubs will be strongly represented.

Packey McFarland is said to be the only man in the world with a chance to win the lightweight championship for the world back from Freddie Welsh in a twenty-round bout.

The pictures of the Smith-Carpenter fight in London, of which a private view has been given, show that Smith struck Carpenter as hard twice in the sixth round as Carpenter was in the act of falling.

Edward T. Collins, the Philadelphia American's second baseman, has renewed his contract with the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Connie Mack declined to state the length of time the contract is to run, or its terms.

Ottawa Journal.—The Canadian baseball league is to be organized pretty much as it was figured at first with the Senators and London making the running, and with Erie, St. Thomas and Beavers fighting for the first division places. Reisinger has the edge on Shaq just now with his Cockneys. The league is expected to be better than the champs, every man being experienced. The Cockneys are unlikely to blow at this stage.

The Big Four will not, in all probability, favor the coast after the Minto Lacrosse cup this year, as it was announced to-day by president Caron. "We cannot see our way clear to making the trip," stated president Caron of the Nationals. "We have thoroughly investigated lacrosse conditions in British Columbia and do not find them to our liking. The teams in the west are not playing fast lacrosse and are not drawing the crowds. It appears to us as though the national game on a pro basis was in bad odor there, and unless conditions improve we shall not go west after the Minto cup."

Plans to reconstruct the National Hockey association in such a manner as to allow the admission of teams from New York and Boston are progressing favorably and this much discussed scheme is at the present moment further advanced than it has been at any other time in the history of the game. In fact, if two or three not very important details can be suitably arranged, the plan will be put into operation this autumn and by the time winter comes the International Hockey League will be an accepted fact while the old N. H. A. will drop from sight.

A well known ring writer claims George Carpentier, the French heavyweight is "yellow." He cites instances of where Carpentier quit cold to Billy Papke and was knocked out by Frank Klaus through his lack of courage. He further claims, no game fighter would claim the technicality on which Carpentier was awarded the decision over Smith last week, and that if the Frenchman had not been a coward he would have got up and continued fighting.

Ottawa Free Press.—The late Hal Walters participated in a boxing tournament at the G.A.A.C., same years ago and in the presence of a negro. Walters was not much of a boxer but had a hard kick and was prone to cast the rules to the winds when mixing it up. The negro landed very hard on the white man's jaw, knocking him down. Walters picked himself up, and when his mother-in-law charged at the coon. The latter anticipated what was coming and leaped over the ropes, out through the dressing room, down stairs onto Laurier avenue, with Walters after him. The negro was faster of foot and lost himself in Lower Town still wearing the gloves.

With ten of the fastest motor boats in the world entered, entries have been closed in the twelfth annual regatta for the forty-foot class championship of North America, to be held the last three days of this month on Lake George, N.Y. The challenge clubs and their nominees are: Tappan Zee Yacht club, "Little Jaker II." Lake George club "Hawk Eye"; Atlantic Yacht club, "Baby Relevance V." Motor Boat club of America, "Baby Speed." Demon II." Columbia Yacht club, "Peter Pan VI." Corinthian Yacht club, "Tech Jr.," Lake George Regatta association, "Ankle Deep;" Thousand Island Yacht club, "P. D. Q. V." Kingston, Ont., Yacht club, "P. V. Q. IV."

Says the New York American editorially:—Sir Thomas Lipton, who is England's best sportsman because he is an Irishman, has left England with his fourth Shamrock. handicapped by notoriously unfair conditions, he is willing year after year to build challengers for the America's cup and sail them across the ocean to race for it.

The defenders meanwhile are tried and tamed on millpond water and spared all the rack and strain of a transatlantic voyage. There is no fairness no sportsmanship in this. There is nothing in it save the desire of the New York Yacht club which holds the cup to dictate the terms under which it is to be raced.

Neither Lipton nor any other challenger has had a square deal because defenders were built as racing machines, unfit to endure the pounding of deep sea waves. We trust that some day, if Sir will find defenders who will meet

URGES THE NECESSITY OF INCREASING THE BRITISH GOLD RESERVE.

Sir Felix Schuster Cites the Continued Accumulation of Gold in European State Banks.

London, July 23.—Sir Felix Schuster, presiding at the half-yearly meeting of the Union of London and Smith's bank, again urged the necessity of increasing the British gold reserve.

He called attention to the continued accumulation of gold in the great state banks of Europe. During the last twelve months, the Imperial Bank of Germany, he said, had added £11,000,000 to its holdings, raising it from £54,000,000 to £65,000,000, an increase in two years of £20,000,000. The Bank of France held £162,000,000, an increase in 12 months of £30,000,000. Russia has £139,000,000, this being £18,000,000 more than last year.

These additions to the various gold reserves were the result not of natural commercial or monetary conditions, but of a deliberate policy and certainly afforded considerable increase in the recent of grace political or financial difficulties arising.

In the United States, he continued, new banking legislation had taken place, and some banks were preparing to enter the field of international banking competition.

Referring to the prospects of the coming half year, Sir Felix said the unsettled political outlook at home and abroad, and the possibility of labor troubles, could not be without influence on both the money market and the stock market. In many parts of the world a period of economic depression had set in, following as almost invariably was the case, a time for rapid expansion.

There was also a brighter side of the prospect which must not be overlooked and perhaps the feeling of pessimism prevailing generally was overdue. Several problems which had been weighing on the public mind for a considerable time seemed to be approaching solution, and if political and financial conditions in Central and South America were restored to a more normal state, the effect on commerce would make itself felt. Looking at fundamental conditions, the position generally seemed sound and promising.

Large finds of this discarded metal have been made recently in Quibdo, and frequently the earth excavated for foundations has yielded sufficient quantities of platinum to pay for putting up the building. The natives were beginning to pan even the streets, thus uncovering large amounts of mud, which was injurious to health. A decree was therefore promulgated in 1913 prohibiting any further washing of earth in the streets of Quibdo.

Japanese auctions are noiseless affairs. In many parts of Japan an odd little booth serves as a auction room. The auctioneer holds aloft the object offered for sale in order that all may see it. To the stranger it appears that the object is not desired by anybody, although all seem to examine it closely. Not a word is said by any prospective customer, but a number of them march off to a little box in the corner, wherein they deposit certain little slips. If one's curiosity be aroused by this procedure a Japanese will explain the method of conducting the sale. The bids are represented by the bids and when all have been deposited the box is opened, and the highest amount offered buys the article. These noiseless auctions are much patronized by the Japanese.

Town planning, let it be understood, is not a movement to make towns beautiful in a superficial sense. Its purposes are fundamental. It aims consciously to provide those facilities that are for the common good, that concern everybody; it seeks to save waste, the almost incalculable waste due to unskilful and planless procedure, for by doing of things at the right time and in the right way comprehensive city planning saves far more than its cost. It endeavors also to establish the individuality of a city—to catch its peculiar spirit, to preserve its distinctive flavor, to accent its particular physical situation.—John Nolan.

Little Raymond's mother had told him that she should put him to bed if he disobeyed her command in a certain matter. Temptation overcame him, and when his mother proceeded to fulfill her duty she was agitated filled the room. "But, Raymond," said the mother gently, "I told you I should punish you in this way if you disobeyed, and mother must keep her word, you know."

Between muffled sobs Raymond managed to say, "You needn't break your word, mamma, but couldn't you change your mind?"

"The Japanese servant has many curious traits," said the man who keeps one, "besides his constant habit of eating raw fish, but he is inordinately polite, as a rule. For instance, he never will give you notice that he wishes to leave you. Instead his work will grow steadily worse and worse till you can't stand it any longer, and so you fire him. It's always done purposely to avoid the necessity of telling you outright that he is tired of you and wants to quit."

Amateur Actor (who has just concluded a performance of the part of Hamlet, to a friend who has been one of the audience) A. Well, old fellow, don't you feel inclined to congratulate some one?

Friend—Indeed, I do. Amateur (with vainglorious mien)—May I so far infringe on modesty as to ask his name?

Friend—Certainly. His name is Shakespeare, and I heartily congratulate him on his unavoidable absence.

Potential Incentive. Nell—Do you think you could love him if he were rich? Belle—I would try harder.

Lucky at That. Man wants but little here below and seldom gets more than half of that.

Portugal. Portugal has a total population of 4,423,132, of whom 3,288,782 are rural.

WORRY CAN KILL.

Science Proves That Fretting Frequently Costs Lives.

We have often heard that worry can kill even the line-lived cat, but we have only half believed it, and until now we have had no scientific proof that it was so.

Medical science has recently confirmed the fact as explained how worry commits its murders. It has reached the conclusion that in many instances of what has been regarded as lunacy, and from which the victim finally dies, the case has simply been one of acute worry. Instead of the person dying of mental breakdown he has worried himself to death.

Worry medical science now defines as the dominance of one idea, usually that of fear. There is a fear of some existing condition or dread of what may happen. The idea crowds all others from the mind, or permits them only the feeblest and occasional activity. The most terrible tyranny is the tyranny of an idea.

This one idea pounds hammer-like upon one set of brain cells. It overstimulates them, causing an unusual flow of nerves, which in turn causes death of it to other parts of the brain. This would not be serious if it happened only now and then, for every brain cell should be replenished by more than the usual flow of blood at times to keep it properly fed and rested.

But a constant overfeeding of these cells causes a congestion there. The cells become more and more distended. The worry grows more and more acute. The pounding of the blood against the sides of the cell acquires a nerve-like violence. The sides of the cells wear thin, and the cell bursts. There is a so-called "clot on the brain." Death follows.

The cure of the worry that kills is prevention. Refuse to worry. Do your best, and having done this, decline as positively to fret about the results as you would decline to fret about the action of worry upon the brain cells. Most like the constant dripping of water upon a stone. At first it makes not the slightest impression upon the stone, but in time it wears it away. The cells of the brain are of more delicate tissue, and the steady wear and tear of the extra blood supply in time quickly wears them out.

Or, according to medical science, it is as though a garment worn day after day without change soon falls into tatters. Examinations of the brain after death have shown a group of nerves that resemble the brain cells that have perished in the same way the nerve of a tooth dies. While every other brain cell seems to be in ordinary condition this group has shrunk. It is a curious coincidence, and science says a consequence, as invertebrates, whose brains consist of the hair on the portion of the scalp just above this brain area is the first to grow gray, and an excess of blood in any portion of the brain causes the scalp above that portion to be over-heated.

Keep the Spade Bright. If the hired man carelessly puts the spade away without cleaning it, you may have a hard time cleaning it next time you go out to dig. But if you have been careful to put cinders in a nice pile not more than one minute will be required to clean the spade and make it as bright as a new dollar.

Simply dig in the cinders for a minute or so, shoveling them about as you do gravel and cement when mixing concrete, and the job is done. The cinders should be wet, as they are sure to be if exposed to the weather. We learned this while shoveling cinders into a post hole when building a fence. It works like a charm.

Russian Marriages. The celebration of a Russian marriage sometimes extends over three days. At the wedding festivities the bride is expected to dance with the men one after another until she drops with sheer fatigue. It is a matter of pride with her to keep going as long as possible, and it is not unusual to find a bride dancing gayly after three days and three nights of vigorous frolic. When a girl is dancing with a man she always holds his pipe. It would be regarded as extremely rude if a man should continue to smoke his pipe in such circumstances.—Tit-Bits.

Remember Benefits Only. To have a memory for benefits, not for offenses—these are the two pivots on which friendship may rest strong and abiding, friendships which pass to the status of noble minds. Be not like those who are more hurt and offended by an unkind word or by a word meant in fun and which escaped, as it were, from a cloister, unlocked for a moment by the tongue, than by a man whom they ever were pleased and comforted by a thousand renewed proofs of loving friendship.—Petraich.

A Spider's Four Webs. Two thousand-nine hundred silk-worms are required to produce one pound of silk, but it takes 27,000 spiders to produce one pound of web. Spiders have four pairs for spinning their threads, each pair having 1,000 holes, and the fine web itself is the union of 4,000 threads. No spider spins more than four webs, and when the fourth is destroyed they seize on the webs of others.

Limited Knowledge. Betty—What is the luckiest day to be born on? Jack—Can't say. I've only tried one.

Especially. Moralist—The outsider who buys stocks is a gambler, pure and simple. Tickler—Especially simple.

W. Grant Morden, who figured prominently in the promotion of the Canadian Steamships Lines, Limited, has received the appointment of honorary lieutenant-colonel of the 6th Duke of Connaught's Royal Canadian Hussars, Montreal.

MEN RUSHING WORK

SYSTEM LIKELY READY FOR TRAFFIC IN OCTOBER.

Car Ferry Ready Soon.—No Intimation That G. T. P. Will Not Carry Out the Agreement.

Ottawa, July 24.—Work on the completion of the National Transcontinental railway is being rushed forward under Hon. Frank Cochrane as commissioner. Late last fall the steel on the whole eastern division was linked up, and since then the engineers have been at work getting the roadbed in shape for carrying the traffic. Eleven thousand men are now engaged at this work, chiefly in train filling, etc., and the expectation is that the whole line will be ready for operation by October. The big car ferry Leonard, which was built in England, will be ready to carry trains between Quebec and Levis, thus providing through communication over the whole line of the Transcontinental. Early rumors that the Grand Trunk Pacific would be unwilling to take over the eastern division are not being borne out as time goes on. The line is being completed in accordance with the provisions of the contract, and the Grand Trunk Pacific is giving no sign of a disposition to evade carrying out its share of the arrangements.

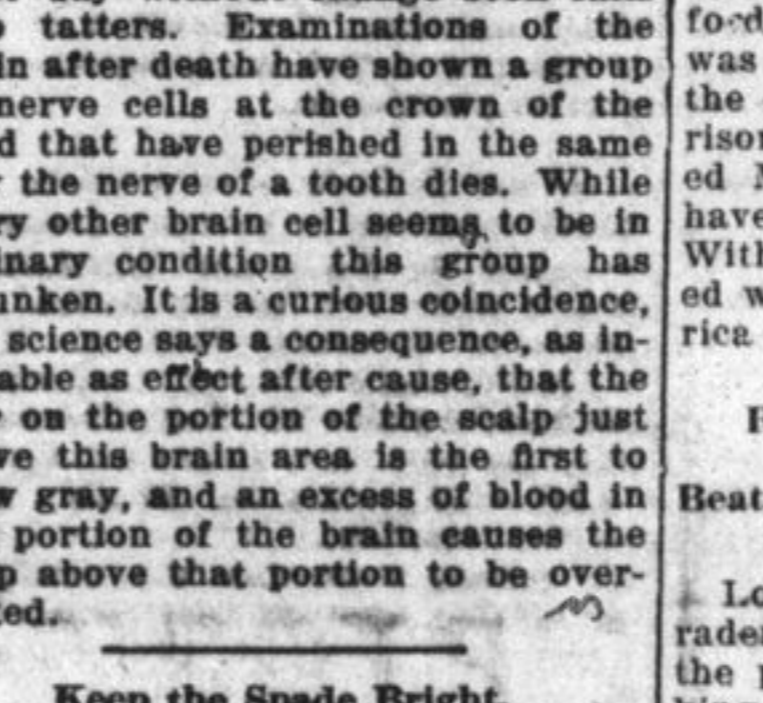

Romance Ends Sadly. Daughter Repeats After a Four-Day Honeymoon.

Savannah, Ga., July 24.—The romance of Florence Martha Pickard, daughter of the Rev. Dr. W. L. Pickard, of Mercer university, who eloped with her old sweetheart, Evert Harrison, of Halifax, N.S., while her announced fiancée, Karl Gustav Karsten, was on his way from London to wed her, ended sadly in New York after a honeymoon of four days. Mrs. Pickard received a communication from her daughter urging her to go to New York and bring back the bride. The information was hardly sufficient to determine whether Mrs. Harrison has been abandoned by her husband or whether she has merely grown dissatisfied with her choice. Mrs. Pickard will leave immediately. Announcement of the engagement of Miss Pickard to Mr. Karsten was made July 12th and the marriage was to have taken place July 23rd. Mr. Karsten is a son of the late president of the university of Illinois. He was with Miss Pickard at the university of New Mexico. He won a Rhodes scholarship and went to Oxford to complete his education. He was graduated recently. On the day the engagement was announced Harrison arrived in Savannah and visited Miss Pickard. He was said to have been engaged to her at once. Within five days Miss Pickard eloped with him. Karsten reached America on the same day.

Lancaster Resident Dead. Cornwall, July 24.—Dr. Alexander McLaren, M.D., of Lancaster, died at his home after an illness of about ten days. He was one of the oldest and best known residents of Lancaster, and was seventy-two years of age. Surviving him are two sons and one daughter, Dr. A. F. McLaren, Ottawa, Dr. T. O. McLaren, Lancaster, and Mrs. Alex. McDonald.

Re-elected Head of General Federation of Women's Clubs.

MRS. PERCY V. PENNYBACKER.

Texas is to-day the peer of any state, barring none, not even the Bluegrass, in the standard of women of brains and beauty. Look at the Lone Star colony in any city in the land and you'll find the women folks shine resplendently. A credit to the advanced, progressive womanhood of this section is Mrs. Pennybacker. She comes not only from Texas, where, at Austin, she lives, and from Virginia, where she was born, but from the United States at large over which the General Federation of Women's Clubs, of which she is president, has jurisdiction. She is the daughter of a Petersburg, Va., minister, and her husband died fifteen years ago. For years she was a teacher. She was president of the American History Club of Austin, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. She is a ready speaker on educational and literary subjects and she wrote a history of Texas that told the story of the most blue-blooded and red-corporated genuine folks in America.

NO WHITE SLAVES, HE SAYS

Berlin Police Official Asserts Traffic Does Not Exist.

Berlin, July 24.—There will shortly appear under the auspices of the royal police administration of Berlin a remarkable publication designed to destroy completely the long-prevailing idea that there is such a thing as organized "white" slave traffic.

The work, which is an exhaustive production, dealing with the subject in its world-wide ramifications, has been written by Dr. Kropp, a distinguished official of the Berlin police, who for years has occupied himself with the question of the "white slave traffic." Dr. Kropp's conclusion is that "white slave traffic" is an absurd misnomer. There is no such thing he declares in substance. Real white slaves average scarcely one in a million among the women and girls who willingly enter lives of shame abroad. The latter have previously led such lives and simply move from one place to another for a change of environment, or other attractive inducements, Dr. Kropp explains.

There is doubtless some semblance of organized system of intelligence organizations through which the transfer of dissolute women and girls is facilitated, but his point is that they emigrate voluntarily and cannot, therefore, be legally interfered with. Dr. Kropp admits that his treatise explodes all that the nations hitherto have popularly cherished in regard to the "traffic" in forming lives, and he makes bold to say that international philanthropy is on a wholly wrong scent in spending millions of an "evil" which has no existence in fact.

Dr. Kropp received much of his information in regard to the "white slave" situation in the United States from former immigration Commissioner Marcus Braun, of New York, who entertained Dr. Kropp at dinner in Berlin this week.

Corwall, July 24.—Dr. Alexander McLaren, M.D., of Lancaster, died at his home after an illness of about ten days. He was one of the oldest and best known residents of Lancaster, and was seventy-two years of age. Surviving him are two sons and one daughter, Dr. A. F. McLaren, Ottawa, Dr. T. O. McLaren, Lancaster, and Mrs. Alex. McDonald.

ASKS ELIZABETH COUNCIL'S PERMISSION TO DIG IN PARK.

Elizabeth, N.J., July 24.—E. S. Richardson, eighty years old, one of Elizabeth's most respected negro citizens, has asked permission of the City Council to dig in Jefferson Park for a pot of gold which he insists was buried there during colonial times.

Richardson told the council he knew the exact spot where the treasure was buried and would be satisfied to excavate in only one place. He added that police protection would be necessary. The aged negro says that for twelve years the spirit world has brought messages to him of the nature and location of the treasure. The request was referred to the committee on parks and shade trees.

FIND RICH STRIKE OF GAS.

Moncton, N.B., July 24.—While deepening an old well in the natural gas and oil fields at McLatchy's, in Albert County, Mr. A. Crichton, manager of the maritime Oil Fields, struck a gas sand giving a flow of 2,000,000 cubic feet per day. The gas which gave such an excellent flow was discovered after burrowing a reasonable depth through a bed of shale and sandstone. The strike of gas comes as good news to gas consumers in Moncton, and is taken as conclusive proof that there are big producing sands at a lower level than will be of immense value to Moncton and will ensure gas for years to come for domestic purposes.

CAT ACTS AS MOTHER.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 24.—At the Scotia Island fox ranch, Bible Hill, a fox recently gave birth to a wee pup, towards which the mother exhibited a most unkind disposition, wanting evidently to destroy it. At the same time an old motherly cat was raising a brood of kittens, and the owner of the ranch decided to see if she would adopt the neglected fox pup and so installed the pup with the kittens. To his surprise the cat took kindly to the young fox, and at last reports the experiment has proved a success and pussy is rearing the fox waf as if he was one of her own kittens.

RALLYING CRY TO WOMEN.

Beatrice Harraden Writes of the King's Intervention. London, July 24.—Beatrice Harraden, the novelist, writes a letter to the papers saying the news that the King has intervened in the Irish crisis comes as a rallying cry to the women of England who are working for enfranchisement. She says: "Only a few weeks ago we heard that the king did not have the power of intervention and no suffrage deputation could be received by him. Now we learn not only has the king called a conference, but that one of the members, no less a person than Captain Craig, is responsible for illegal gun running. "Can you wonder at the unrest among women at their increasing anger and indignation over the injustices meted out to them and their cause? For men rebels there is no persecution but a conference with the king, for women rebels no conference and ruthless re-arrests. For men rebels Buckingham Palace is open wide, for women rebels thousands of police are called out to bar their progress. Nevertheless we women have reason to be of good cheer for the unrest is spreading."
