PULL OUT THE POLES

ON PRINCESS STREET WITH A MACHINE.

The Bell Telephone Company Promise Not to Disturb the Pavement —Light Poles Coming Down.

Ald. John Litton, chairman of the Board of Works, speaking to the Whig on Wednesday, stated that the Bell Telephone company had assured him that it would not disturb the new pavement on Princess street while removing its poles. The chairman was informed that the company had a machine for pulling out the poles that removes them like a tooth.

It is possible that the telephone company will remove a piece of the sidewalk so as to make it possible to catch hold of the poles.

The men employed by the city light department are stripping the wires from the poles on Princess street.

The poles on the south side of the street, between Wellington and King streets, have been cut down on a line with the pavement. The men are chiselling them out for about one foot below the pavement. It was found necessary to cut the poles in two pieces while taking them down.

As the underground will not be turned on for some time yet, it has been found necessary to temporarily attach the electric wires to the light poles on Princess street.

HEADLIGHTS INOFFENSIVE

Device Invented to Deflect Light Downward by Reflector.

One of the latest devices for rendering headlights inoffensive to other users of the streets, and complying with laws against glaring headlights, is one that does not dim the light of all, but merely directs it downward, so that it cannot be offensive to any one. It is a small reflector, placed inside the main reflector, which is set at such an angle that none of the rays of light can rise above their source.

This reflector is built with a bracket at its back, set eccentric to the reflector, and so designed that a bracket or ferrule slips over the socket ordinarily used in automobile headlights. When the smaller reflector is in place the bulb is latched into its bayonet joint, and the socket is then slipped backward by the ordinary focusing device and locked in such position that the small reflector's bracket or ferrule is held between the lamp and the big reflector. This holds it firmly in place, in such a way that it can be conveniently removed.

"Fresh on Saturday," McConkey's choice of royalty sweets, at Gibson's.

A horse of a team used on one of the wagons that draws the asphalt for the new pavement fell on the road at the corner of Clergy and Princess streets and delayed matters for some little time. It caused some excitement when it fell before it could be quieted.

The men employed by Foley & Gleeson, paving contractors, commenced the work of laying the asphalt on the south side of Princess street on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. With good weather the work should be completed by about the end of the week.

By covering up their tracks some men get credit for walking in the straight and narrow path.

A Real Flesh Builder For Thin People

A NEW DISCOVERY

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourisment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds o healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles — gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and all druggists in Kingston and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

The garrulous fool usually cuts his throat with his tongue.
