On her next American tour, Marie Tempest promises a limited season in one of her big London successes, "The Bar." Grace Van Studdford, who suffered a vocal collapse recently, has successfully recovered to resume her work at the head of a musical stock company in St. Louis.

One of the first 1914-15 attractions to be seen on the Shubert's will be "The Morning After." It features Lee Arthur. Jane Grey, who is now in Europe, has been selected by Klaw & Erlanger to play one of the leading parts in "Cordelia Blossom" at the Gaiety Theatre on August 21.

Charles Frohman has returned from a foreign trip with twenty plays for production in this country and Europe during the 1914-15 season.

McDonald Hastings, a well-known English playwright, has been authorized to prepare a vehicle for Mme. Nazimova who is now a leading star. The play is to be produced in New York that she is to retire from the stage. She is now considering the scenario of a play submitted by Eleanor Gates, which will be used after her engagement in the all-star cast of "Diplomacy."

Julia Oppa, who in private life is Mrs. William Faversham, has recovered from illness with which she was stricken in Switzerland several weeks ago, and will return to this country and the American stage in the fall.

Isabelle Evesson, who recently starred in "The Palace of the King," will be in the "Everywoman" company Henry W. Savage has formed for the coming season. Miss Evesson enjoys the distinction of being one of the very few American actresses ever taken from their country by an English star. Charles Wyndham saw her when he was on a visit to the United States and engaged her for his company. She went to London and appeared with him two years.

Margaret Anglin, after a few weeks in her Adriatic camp visits her brother; the Hon. Francis Anglin Justice of the Supreme Court in Ottawa, spending a fortnight at his place on Blue Lake, in Quebec. She will then sail to confer with the author of one of the new plays, which she intends to add to her new extensive repertoire next season.

News comes from London that Julia Marlowe is on the way to complete recovery and that she will participate in the Shakespeare festival at Stratford-upon-Avon in August. Miss Marlowe was stricken in mid-season, and was compelled to abandon her tour. After resting for a period at her home in New York she sailed for England. There she was joined by E. H. Sothern at the close of his season, and together they leased an estate near Stratford.

Norman Hackett, the young Canadian actor, has secured the exclusive rights to Walker Whiteside's successful production of "The Typhoon," and will use it for his starring vehicle next season. "The Typhoon" enjoyed long runs in London, Vienna, Australia, and was first produced in this country by Walker Whiteside three years ago, at which time the powerful drama of Japanese life created widespread interest. Mr. Hackett shortly after that, in the young Jap diplomat, a role well suited to him.

A Unique theatre has been constructed at Hood River, Ore., in connection with the Horticultural Chautauque. It is a permanent structure, and seats 1,000 persons. The canopy of the stage is a cluster of large-leaved maples.

The receipts of the first performance of the late Brandon Thomas' "Charles's Aunt," at Bury St. Edmunds, England, were said to be $2.83. It has since been performed over 250,000 times. Thomas made a fortune of $500,000 out of it, but lost most of his money in investments, and was compelled to return to the stage. The farce has been presented in nearly every country of the world, and has even been translated into Greek.

Hugh D. Melatos, the Australian vaudeville magnate, plans to add New York to his round-the-world variety circuit. His dictatorship has been in New York for weeks looking over the situation and booking artists for his tour.

Workmen's Compensation. Industrial Canada. Sir James Whitney cannot be better use of the large majority by which he has been recently returned to power, than to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act with it.

There is no doubt, even in the minds of the government members, that the act, though possessing worthy features, contains clauses which cannot be put into practical effect.

Until these unworkable clauses are amended the commission will have to be guided, in many cases, by what the act ought to say rather than by what it does say.

COMMENTS BY ZACHEUS. Who Cannot See Improvement in the World's Morals. "After all has been said, the world is not improving morally. Bad time to suppress hell. Conscience revolts at the things we read. Daring characters, male and female, flaunting their indecency in attire and conduct before everybody at fashionable sea-side resorts has called for strenuous denunciation by the clergy. Eugenics, race suicide, divorce, fraud, blackmail, reptile fiefs, graft, violation of the Sabbath, alcoholism, arson, abominations of all kinds everywhere rampant. Fearing not God? He has been banished from the school, the home, the family, the heart. Immoral literature, pictures, theatres, dances, dress, are doing their insidious work. Just where it will all end would be hard to rather say, to say. Eternal loss must follow, if speedy separation be not forthcoming. Know and be not forever too late! Little ladder in glass fruit jar containing two tiny frogs tells temperature at Vanderbilt's home. Making ascent the ampulla are seen when sun is to shine; remaining low if storm is approaching. Nova Scotia, Quebec, Saskatchewan and Alberta upholding liberal principles. Ontario, Manitoba, British Columbia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island "blues" still, but wait. Pulverizing of Pelletier and his gang are long. Queer! Carpenter should down "Gumbo" Smith. Fabre hit by Duffy and "Le National" smash anything in sight at Lacrosse. Race of habitants can't be so inferior. So it is that whilst "Johnny Crapaud" sees a lot of good in "John Bull," he does not by any means feel called upon to brag his pipe in out-caste deference to the "superior" race. The old Pierpont has gone to Sorel. Well, that's better than going to the bottom. The dear old scow needed a change bandy. French has adversity! A little tuneful French may put new life in the old boy's bones. Visit of old boys and girls was a joyful event all round. The robin returns to the native bough. Child who loves his cradle is the child for us. We were not born in Kingston. The stork's supply of little parlez-vous beats all; but to our adopted home we bring the best that is in us, and more, surely, cannot be asked. X—X—perience pleasure by lead-a-useful life. Y—You steer for the right and fear not.—ZACHEUS.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR Soft, Fluffy, Abundant—Use Parisian Sage. It Stops Falling. Hair and Itching Scalp. If your hair is not so soft and beautiful, or as fresh and full as that of some friend, do not despair—do as she does—give it daily attention. Beautiful hair is largely the matter of a little care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff, it is because the scalp is too dry, and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and dandruff will go.

Parisian Sage, sold in fifty cent bottles at drug and toilet counters, is just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes the hair roots, immediately removes dandruff, and makes the hair wavy, lustrous and abundant. Parisian Sage quickly stops itching head; cleanses the hair of dust and excessive oil; takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes it seem twice as abundant, and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage. Always sold by J. B. McLeod on money back if not satisfied. Look for the trade mark "The Girl with the Auburn Hair." It's on every package—accept nothing else.

To make it required 4 1/2 yards of 34-inch or 3 1/2 yards of 44-inch material, with 3/4 yard all-wool lace for shield and standing collar and 1/4 yard of webbing 2 inches wide for the stay. The cutting of the dress is not difficult, because the principal parts of the skirt and waist may be laid on a lengthwise fold of the goods, leaving the remaining parts to be quickly arranged on lengthwise threads. The waist is first put together and fitted. Turn hems at front edges of right front and right inserted section at notches. From the line of small "o" perforations to edge, underface the front; lap on inserted section to small "o" perforations, double "oo" perforations even and stitch. Close under-arm seam as notched; close shoulder seam. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "T" perforations. Sew stay to lower edge, centers even; small "o" perforation at under-arm seam. Sew Japanese collar to neck edge, notches and center-backs even. Sew standing collar to shield as method, adjust to position, bringing corresponding large "o" perforations in shield and in inserted section together. Close the sleeve seam as notched, add the ruffle and insert in armhole. In making the skirt the back gore is pleated first, creating on line of slot perforations, bring folded edge of corresponding small "o" perforations, notches even and baste. Pleat upper edge, placing "T" on small "o" perforations. Turn under edge of front gore on slot perforations, lap on back gore to small "o" perforations, notches even and baste. Stitch as illustrated, leaving edges free above large "o" perforation in front gore for placket and terminating stitching at extension; press pleats, close seam underneath. Sew to lower edge of waist over stay, centers even. The large collar may be of plain material bound with whatever fabric is used for the belt.
