RUSSIA IS ATTACKING GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

France Has Not Yet Invaded Germany.

ENGLAND MUST FIGHT

SINCE GERMANY DISREGARDS BELGIUM'S NEUTRALITY.

Three German Armies Are Moving On France—Greece Will Remain Neutral, Permitting Italy to Keep Out of the War.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—Russian troops have crossed into Germany at several points on her border and cossacks have raided the German customs house. The Russians drove Germans back from Eydrickuren, and a column of artillery with infantry supports now holds that port. There has been much skirmishing but no serious clash between the forces.

Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasovitch has been named as chief general commanding the army, disposing of the report that the czar planned assuming personal command.

Britain Must Fight.

London, Aug. 3.—It was rumored that England has decided on war. Germany's violation of Belgium's neutrality was the last straw. The British ambassador at Berlin demanded that Belgium's integrity be respected. The Kaiser refused to agree. This was communicated to the cabinet, and according to official close touch, it was agreed that there was nothing left but war. Premier Asquith is expected to make this statement to the House of Commons when it meets this afternoon. He will ask for $25,000,000 as an initial war-fund, and it will be voted in a hurry.

Three German Armies.

London, Aug. 3.—Three German armies which include twenty-two army corps of nearly one million men are advancing in three armies on France. One is moving from Belgium, whose territory has been violated; the second from Metz in fan-shape formation and the third from a point close to the Swiss border. The Germans are reported to have taken Basle and to have seized the railway that runs from the Swiss port to the French boundary.

Russians Invade Austria.

Rome, Aug. 3.—Russian troops are reported to have invaded Austria, and to be moving against Lemberg. A column is said to comprise the Russian army division whose headquarters were at Kiev. The Austrian frontier guard offered no serious resistance.

Greece Remains Neutral.

Athens, Aug. 3.—Greek ministry has decided to maintain the attitude of neutrality during the present war. This announcement is expected to remove one of the chief incentives for Italian participation, as with Greece neutral, the integrity of Albania is assured.

France In State Of Siege.

Paris, Aug. 3.—France was today declared in a state of siege. Henceforth martial law will prevail. The government has not yet formally declared war, but the decree issued today declares for France and Algeria in a state of a siege throughout the war.

German Capture Russians.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—The Germans made their first capture of war prisoners near Hohenza. Fifty cossacks were surprised and overwhelmed by a detachment of German frontier guards. A force of which they were outposts, was driven back near Allenstein, a town of east Prussia, situated on the river Alle.

A Story Afloat.

London, Aug. 3.—A news ticker service says that in a battle between the German and British squadrons in the North Sea, six German warships were sunk and Great Britain lost two. The admiralty has no confirmation of such a report.

France Has Not Invaded Germany.

London, Aug. 3.—The French embassy in an official statement issued at noon denied emphatically that France has invaded Germany.

Russian Patriots Forced Back.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Russian patriots on-coming on German territory were forced back into the czar's territory at Eichenried and Tienlab by German frontier guards, according to word here. The Germans attacked a Russian detachment and there was a brief skirmish.

Martial Law In Malta.

London, Aug. 3.—Great Britain proclaimed martial law today in Malta, the British province just south of Italy.

Russian Port In Flames.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Libau, a Russian naval port in the Baltic, is in flames today. The cruiser Augsburg is reported by wireless that she is bombarding the town. A Russian cruiser, defending Libau, was engaged by a German war ship.

Cheered King and Queen.

London, Aug. 3.—An enormous crowd gathered at Buckingham palace today singing "Rule Britannia" and the "Marseillaise" to-day. The king and queen appeared together on the balcony and were given a most enthusiastic greeting.

Russian Ambassador Leaves.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—(Delayed by censorship)—The official announcement that the Russian ambassador has been given his transports was made at noon today. He left at once.

EUROPE'S PEACE NOW RESTS WITH THESE THREE MEN. Graphic pictures of the Kaiser, the Czar of Russia, and Sir Edward Grey.

German Take Sauer Village. Brussels, Aug. 3.—German forces entered the village of Sauer, half a mile from the border, early today, established headquarters and requisitioned all horses for military purposes.

French Win Victory. Paris, Aug. 3.—French arms have scored a victory in a sharp and bloody engagement at Petit Croix. A corps of Uhlans attacked the French forces entrenched just beyond the town. The defenders replied with machine guns and mowed down the advance guard of the Germans. The Uhlans charged several times but were unable to withstand the withering fire of the defenders and finally retired in disorder, leaving a number of dead on the field. Among the wounded were some officers. The French also took a number of prisoners.

MILITANTS CALL TRUCE. London, Aug. 3.—The headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant and suffragette organization, sent a proclamation to all branches in the United Kingdom ordering the cessation of all acts of militancy during the continuance of the international crisis.

White Rose Flour pleases the most fastidious. At a point meeting at Zion Cedar Grove and St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregations, Markham, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. Mr. Gramm, Madoc.

Hon. P. E. Lessard, M.P.P. for St. Paul, Alta., was elected president of the Liberal Association for the new federal riding of West Edmonton.

Face Peeling Easy—Blonde or Brunette. The blonde's complexion fades early, because her skin is extraordinarily thin and fine, says Mme. Lina Cavalotti. The brunette's, as a rule, is the reverse. The skin is thicker and has a tendency to an oily appearance.

For either the faded blonde's skin or the brunette's oily or sallow complexion, the best remedy is ordinary mercuric iodine. Used every night, this will give one an entirely new complexion within about a week's time. The wax gradually peels off the worn-out surface skin, with all its defects. A little each day, without affecting the delicate under-skin in the least. The latter will have the exquisitely beautiful glow of youth—indeed, one may readily lose ten or fifteen years from her age, as far as appearance goes, by a course of this simple treatment. The wax, available at any drug store, is applied like cold cream.

WAR SUMMARY.

German troops repulsed by French in first battle; driven back with heavy loss near Cirey.

Britain will make every effort to keep out of war.

Premier Asquith will make a statement of Britain's stand in the commons to-day. The London Chronicle says she will intervege.

Canada's offer to aid Britain is gratefully acknowledged.

All European governments calling out reservists in America.

Two German cruisers are off St. Pierre, Miquelon, evidently watching the St. Lawrence.

France and Germany are trying to throw onus of war on each other.

German troops fired on a French flying machine and brought it to earth.

A French aeroplane was driven into a German dirigible, wrecking it and killing twenty-five.

The Kaiser ignores the British query. He is unwilling to agree to preserve the neutrality of Belgium.

TOWN OF DESERONTO.

Two Fires This Week—A Store Was Burglarized.

Deseronto, July 31.—The Tyendinaga Sabbath schools of Christ church and All Saints' church, held their annual picnic to Massaga, and they were not able to go as the number was too great. The Newburgh Methodist Sunday school excursion came in by train and took the steamer Varuna to Glenora, and on return trip had about an hour in Deseronto. Their band played several selections. A number of town people accompanied the firemen to Lindsay on Thursday.

On Monday, fire started at the Iron Works, but no damage was done. The firemen were soon on the scene, and kept the flames to some old timber in the sheds. On Wednesday fire was found to be in the bush west of the Match factory, but was soon got out before any damage was done.

On Wednesday, of last week the store of Robert Miller was entered and a quantity of ready-to-wear clothes and rain coats were missing. The thieves entered from the back window in the store.

The many friends of Mrs. William McKee, of Belleville, (formerly of Deseronto), sympathize with her in the death of her husband. Word was received from Toronto that James Sexsmith (formerly of here), was very ill.

The Presbyterian and the Methodist congregations are uniting for service during July and August. Rev. Mr. Dunnington will be in charge. Rev. F. S. Dowling's vacation, Miss Evelyn Rixon, North Bay, is spending vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Rixen.

Mrs. George E. Snider, and daughter Miss Marguerite Snider, of Vancouver, B.C., spent a few weeks in town after an absence of five years. Mr. and Mrs. George Morden, of Owen Sound, spent a few days with Dr. and Mrs. Vandervoort J. Beatie, Toronto, spent a few days with relatives in town.

PRICES OF FOOD GOING UP.

Even Countries Not Affected By War Preparations Feel Strain.

London, Aug. 3.—The pressure of famine is already evident throughout all Europe. Prices of foodstuffs have soared beyond the means of the poor. England alone has taken no steps to prohibit the exportation of food or war supplies. It has none to export, however, and within the borders is not much more than a month's supply.

Dealers everywhere have already trebled prices. But the stocks cannot last long and commerce is already seriously hampered. The problem of feeding the people is dividing attention with the war plans in the mind of the ministers. Legitimate as well as speculative business is interfered with. Everyone is hoarding resources.

Even the countries not affected by the war preparations are suffering. Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and even Switzerland are feeling the pressure. All must live on the supplies within their own borders from the moment hostilities open.

FRANCE HAS MUCH MONEY.

Has Much Larger Gold Supply Than Germany. London, Aug. 3.—France is prepared, financially, for war. Latest statistics show France to be by far richer than Germany. There is in the German Imperial bank 1,972,000,000 francs gold, as against 4,200,000,000 francs gold in the Bank of France. In currency the German bank has 2,722,000,000 francs. In France, the figure is 5,922,000,000 francs.

The entire amount of money in circulation in Germany, including that in the Imperial bank, is 7,320,000,000 francs, while in France it reaches 9,600,000,000 gold.

LIFE TERM FOR WOMAN

Was Sentenced to Death at First Trial. New Haven, Conn., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield, of Middlebury, convicted of murder in the second degree in participating in the killing of her husband, William O. Wakefield at Cheshire, on June 19th, 1913, sentenced to state prison for life. The sentence was in conformity to the law. This was the woman's second trial. At her first trial she was convicted of murder in the first degree, was sentenced to be hanged, as was her co-partner in the crime, James Plew. The latter has been executed.

Chas. Drollard, a Windsor butcher, charged with selling spoiled meat, was fined $28.50. The carcass was purchased from a farmer after the animal had been killed by lightning.

MAN OF THE MOMENT

IN EUROPE IS BRITAIN'S FOREIGN SECRETARY.

Sir Edward Grey Is Fond of Fishing—Was Once English Tennis Champion—His Great Personal Sorrow.

Sir Edward Grey, Britain's secretary for foreign affairs and probably next liberal premier, is to-day one of the outstanding figures in Europe, on account of the part that he played in the present Austrian-Serbian affair, and his efforts to maintain the peace of Europe.

To understand Sir Edward's character, it is necessary to bear in mind two things. He is an aristocrat of aristocrats, and the greatest living authority on fly-fishing. The first explains why he is in politics. The second reveals the temperament of the man. He was also once the amateur tennis champion of England. There is no nobler blood in Britain than his. He inherited his title from his grandfather, Sir George Grey. As far back as English history can be traced the Greys of Northumberland have helped make history. He is 52 years, old, has been foreign secretary for eight years, and is the only commoner decorated with the noble order of the Garter, a special honor for which King George singled him out in 1912.

Cold And Correct. He is English of the English, cold, reserved, correct in pose and consistent in poise. His character is so strong and his record so clean that no breath of scandal can cling to him. None would believe it. Nobody believes he would lie, either diplomatically or personally. He has never sat for any but the one constituency, and he has represented it since he was 23 years old. He will probably continue as its representative until he offers himself for election no more. Sir Edward Grey has guided Britain through some anxious days and dark. At the end of 1911 the British fleet was out in the North Sea for three days and three nights without lights with the torpedo nets dropped and the decks cleared for action. How war with Germany was averted is as great a mystery as how war with Germany was threatened. But it was the second incident of its sort since this government came into office, and he did not pass days of that kind and not age. Sir Edward Grey has kept the peace of the days past and striven to keep peace for days to come.

A Great Personal Sorrow. Yet of all men he has known the tragedy of a great personal sorrow—a sorrow that has marked him with the furrows of pain suppressed and given to his eyes a depth and expression that only men who have watched the treasure of the heart take wings can know.

For the year that gave him his place in public life, a mere lad of 23 gave him his place in private life, when he married the daughter of a neighboring squire, Miss Dorothy Widdington.

She shared his political life and sportsman's life. At the times of general election she would start at one end of the constituency and he at the other, so that there should be two meetings in each place, and it is not too much to say that she was as popular with the audience as he. And always was she with him in that other great part of his life when he whipped the silent streams for trackless trout.

Then came the great day when King George made him secretary of state for foreign affairs.

A few weeks later, whilst in London on affairs, he received a telegram and Lady Grey had met with an accident, and to return at once. A special train rushed through the night, but he found her with her skull broken; there had been a carriage accident in his own park at Falloden.

There remained for him his work—and her memory. He gave it to be understood that he never wished it referred to, and shortly returned to his work in London. He slid out of all public functions and began and has continued to spend his week-ends alone in a little cottage on the side of the Thames, with a man servant to look after him. He has never since varied in his dress, just a black morning coat and a black tie.

Railway Issues "Landseekers Guide". With the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific's main line from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert big tracts of country have been opened up, offering splendid opportunities for agriculture, dairying and fruit growing. The Grand Trunk Pacific railway, although it has no agricultural land for sale, stands ready to provide the homeseekers with every assistance in choosing a suitable location. It has issued this week for the information of intending settlers a "Landseekers Guide" dealing with conditions in western Canada, and is selling the lands served by the railway in the various districts, with the approximate prices also gives much useful information. This new railway publication also gives much useful information on homestead planning, customs regulations, freight rates, etc. It can be obtained from any of the company's agents.

Lost An Eye. Pembroke, Aug. 3.—Henry Schry, an employee at Pink's factory, met with a most unfortunate accident, by which he lost the sight of his right eye. Mr. Schry was engaged turning cant-dog handles when a silver flew upward, striking his hat and glancing off it to his eye, bursting the optic. He was given surgical attention immediately, but of course, nothing could be done to save the eye. The accident was a most regrettable one.
