ARE EAGER TO ENLIST

MORE MEN WAIT UPON POSTMASTER JAMES STEWART.

Former Member of Essex Regiment Anxious to Go to the Front—Men Out of Employment Willing to Go.

Kingston has the war fever. There are many men, in all walks of life, who are very anxious to go to the front, if they are needed, and they have expressed themselves on the matter during the past few days.

On Thursday three men walked into the office of Postmaster James Stewart and offered themselves for duty. Since Britain declared war on Germany the postmaster has had applications from a dozen men who have asked the postmaster to try and have them placed. The three men who made application on Thursday are Richard Coulson, Charles Bryant and A. W. Mann. The latter was formerly a member of the Essex regiment and now that the war is on he is very anxious to go to the front. The postmaster will submit their names to the military department.

Quite a large number of men who are out of employment are very anxious to enlist and if a company is formed in Kingston there will be a rush of applications.

A member of the 14th regiment stated yesterday that he was married and had a family but that if he was wanted he would take up arms at any moment and engage in the fight.

Several of the men who have called upon Postmaster Stewart are former members of the naval forces and men who are on the reserve list.

NEW STORE FRONTS

THAT ADD IMPROVEMENT TO PRINCESS STREET.

Half a Dozen Business Places Have The Most Modern Fronts—The Places Described.

Kingston is ever growing more and more progressive as is shown by the marked improvement that has been made in the stores and store-fronts on Princess street during the last year. Of course the new pavement is the most striking change on this main street.

The first store that one meets walking up Princess street that has installed a new front is that of Kinneir and D'Este, jewellers. The owners lately tore out the old front and replaced it with the very latest in store-fronts. From the level of the walk to the base of the window a design in marble has been worked. The windows are joined at the corners by a neat strip of steel, a great contrast with the old-fashioned pillar at the corners of the windows, as in some stores. A tile floor was laid into the door.

Across the road is the shoe store of J. H. Sutherland & Bro., who also deserve great praise for their progressive spirit. The same firm who worked the transformation in the jewellery store installed Sutherland's new front. The old front of the store was the square window type, but now a large V shaped door way takes its place. The windows, which are higher, are not so deep but present a longer display than formerly. The base below the window is finished in brown marble and above a scheme of leaded glass adds a great deal to the amount of light in the store. The name J. H. Sutherland and Bro. has been skillfully worked into the glass design above the door-way.

Masoud's fancy goods store is the next on the list of new fronts. At first there were two doors leading into this store. The whole front was taken out and replaced. Previous to the alterations, there was a stone supporting pillar up to the first floor, and this was just half way between the doors. Large steel girders were put in and the stone pillar taken out. Then one door was built to replace the former, two beautiful high-show windows replaced the old one. The glass art design above the door-way was installed as in the other stores.

W. J. Baker's store above Montreal street is now being altered, and will when finished, present a much-improved appearance. Prism glass forms the design over the door-way adding much more light to the interior of the store. Mr. Baker is also completely remodeling his store inside, installing new cases, a tile floor and everything that is up-to-date.

At 217 Princess street, the University shoe shine parlor is being finished up so as to be opened in the near future. It is all finished in white tile and will present a big improvement to that side of the street. A restaurant was in this store before this parlor was installed.

Sackell's ice cream parlor across the street has been lately improved with the installation of a new front. Big glass windows with an artistic tile scheme worked in under the window adds a lot to the appearance of this popular store.

Masoud's Marble Hall is pure white and certainly deserves its name. This store was opened a short while ago after the premises occupied by H. Wood had been completely changed into the white store of Masoud's.

There are four new stores above Masoud's and they are all fruit stores. At No. 280 Princess street is Zbar's, at No. 286 the "Fruit House" at No. 316 the "New York Fruit Store" and next to the Royal Hotel is "Fruitland."

WITH THE PRICE OF FOOD STUFFS IN CANADA.

Advances Made in Canadian Wholesale Market as Direct Result of European War—Outlook for Future.

War is playing havoc with the prices of foods according to this week's issue of the Canadian Grocer which deals with the effect of the European war on all foodstuffs.

Sugar, flour, beans, rice, nuts, prunes, cream of tartar and canned goods will take a jump in price.

It is stated that two weeks ago, one could look ahead with some degree of assurance that certain things would happen under certain eventualities but the war has completely changed the situation.

As a direct result of the war the following advances have occurred on the Canadian wholesale market.

Sugar, ten cents per cwt; flour thirty cents per barrel; rolled oats, twenty cents per cwt.; oatmeal, about twenty-five cents per cwt.; rice, fifty cents per cwt.; beans, forty cents per bushel.

Advances have also occurred in canned meats, prunes, nuts, cream of tartar, English goods generally are up twenty per cent, and French goods practically doubled.

If safe transportation is guaranteed vessels bound for Canada, products of countries not actually engaged in the war may recede.

Victorian Order of Nurses.

The report for July shows a fairly active period of work, the total number of visits being sixty-six. Of the patients there were 11 Anglicans, 8 Methodists, 2 Salvation Army, 2 Hebrew, 1 Roman Catholic, 1 Congregational, 1 Presbyterian. There were no deaths.

In case of the V.O.N. being sent to war duty the local work will be continued in the usual manner and the services of a visiting trained nurse provided for the asking. Phone 609, Miss Leader, 302 Queen street.
