THE A.Y.P.A. WELCOMED

IN THE CITY HALL ON TUESDAY EVENING.

Archdeacon Dobbs Presided—Mayor Shaw and Dr. A. E. Ross Extended Kingston's Welcome.

A grand welcome was given to the visiting delegates to the Anglican Young People's Association, which opened its first session in the City Hall on Tuesday evening. The whole event was favored with a patriotic spirit, and the chairman, the Venerable Archdeacon, O. G. Dobbs, in his opening prayer asked a blessing upon the Dominion parliament, also for the sailors and soldiers who are now engaged in battle, and lastly he prayed that success will follow in the train of the British arms which only fights for freedom's cause.

Owing to several of the Anglican rectors being absent Archdeacon Dobbs had to make an apology on their behalf. He also read greetings from Bishop Mills and Bishop Bidwell, as well as Dean Starr expressing heartiest wishes for the success of the conference.

Archdeacon Dobbs remarked that the freedom of the city had been conferred upon the A.Y.P.A. delegates, but he advised them to be careful because various guards are now about during the war crisis and it would be wise not to intrude in certain localities. At the conclusion of Archdeacon's Dobbs' patriotic speech the audience arose and sang "God Save the King."

Mayor Shaw expressed himself as being proud to have the privilege of addressing the convention. He said that although the key of the city could not be found Kingston was nevertheless open for the delegates to enjoy themselves everywhere. The mayor reviewed the historical interests of the city as well as its beautiful scenery. The mayor paid a fine tribute to the policemen of Kingston and said that one could expect a true and obliging answer every time from them as to the location of places.

The next speaker was Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P.P. The mayor introduced him as being a loyal subject, who has seen service in South Africa during the Boer war. At the present crisis he has again volunteered to stand by his country on the foreign field.

Dr. Ross' speech was patriotic—all through and he closed by saying that it was the duty of everyone of us to sacrifice our lives in defence of the British empire. He was loudly applauded.

A. W. Langmuir, president of the Dominion A.Y.P.A., in a few words expressed the ideals of the society. Although it met under unfortunate conditions it was his opinion that this conference is going to be one of extreme interest.

The reply to the welcome was made by Clarence Bell, hon. president of the A.Y.P.A. He paid a tribute to the local executive and especially to Miss Laura M. Ryder and Rev. Mr. Magee, who have labored so faithfully to make this meeting a success.

The session came to a close by Canon Loucks pronouncing the benediction.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Correcting a Wrong Impression.

(Cameroon, Ont., Aug. 15.—(To the Editor): Since the days of my grandfather I have heard of the Whig as standing for fair play and justice, therefore I think you will be glad to have me write this letter, as I believe you would wish to have righted any mistake you might happen to make; and we are all liable to make mistakes.

In your issue of August 10th, from the column of "Editorial Notes," I quote: "Pastor Russell has been giving out that the end of the world comes in 1914." The statement itself is evidence that you have not obtained your information from Pastor Russell or his writings or his representatives or the representatives of the I.B.S.A. of which he is president, because all of Pastor Russell's writings and sermons prove that he does not believe that the world ends in 1914 or any other year. In the "Discipline Plan of the Ages," published by Pastor Russell as long ago as 1886, on page 334, he says: "Relief will come only with the birth of the new order of things," and then he quotes the same words as Mr. Maclean uses in his wonderful article referred to by you on the same page of this same issue of the Whig, and applies it in the very same way. Why should you condemn Pastor Russell and express approval of Mr. Maclean? I believe it is because you are not acquainted with Pastor Russell or his writings, but wrote your editorial note on the authority of some one either ignorant or willfully misleading, but in whom you had confidence as being reliable. I could name you editors and professional and business men all over the country who, at one time, were ready to proceed against Pastor Russell, but after a careful reading of his clear and logical arguments, based on the Bible, and appealing to reason, not to sentiment, became admirers of his views. Judging by your comment on Mr. Maclean's article, you would not do so. Mr. Maclean's article, I think, is a very good one, but the fact that there is one fundamental difference between Pastor Russell's presentation and Mr. Maclean's—Pastor Russell is looking for the Lord Jehovah, the creator of the universe, to bring about the new order of things, while Mr. Maclean is depending on Great Britain to do the work. While an admirer of Great Britain, I prefer Pastor Russell's choice of a founder of "a new heaven and a new earth."

Knowing that editors are busy men I have tried to boil this letter down, but it seemed as though a certain length was necessary to make good my defence. In conclusion, Pastor Russell has been preaching for nearly forty years that we might expect the final birth-pangs of the new order of things in 1914, and never once while he will have to. May those who are ready to welcome the new order stand shoulder to shoulder is my prayer.—L. S. WARD.

WERE ALMOST DROWNED

OTAWA Canoeists Rescued at Sharbot Lake

Two Ottawa canoeists, named Gordon and Henderson, had a near escape from drowning at Sharbot Lake on Tuesday. Their canoe was swamped across the lake from the station. The water was very rough and one of them could not swim. The other held him up but both would have been drowned but for help from the other shore. W. Y. Cannon and V. Doyle went over in motor boats and rescued them. Both were exhausted.

Stacey's Advertisement.

Through an error the advertisement of Stacey's intimated that fifty per cent would be allowed on all purchases. The simple reading of the matter would show that a mistake had been made. It really was five per cent to be allowed on all purchases. The numerous people who spoke to the firm about their large discount clearly evidenced that the Stacey advertisements are read with marked interest by the patrons of the Whig. They will take notice, however, that the discount is very much smaller than the figure which found its way into the advertisement, and at the same time they may note that they get splendid value for their money when they buy from "the busiest store in town."
