GUARDING POWDER HOUSE A REQUEST OF MAYOR.

Two Ex-Guards At the Penitentiary Had Rather Unpleasant Experience on Tuesday Night—Had to Spend Several Hours in Barracks Until Case Was Cleared Up.

To be placed under arrest as supposed German spies and held as prisoners of war for several hours, when they had been sworn in by Mayor Shaw, to do special night duty in guarding W. B. Dalton's powder house on Division street, just outside the city limits, was the rather unpleasant experience of George Northmore and Thomas Moore, two ex-guards at the penitentiary. The men were found at the powder house at two o'clock on Wednesday morning by some of the members of the 5th field battery doing duty in that district, and taken to Tete de Pont barracks, where they spent the night. They were released at seven o'clock on Wednesday morning after an explanation had been given by Mayor Shaw. The men were placed on this special duty by Mayor Shaw late on Tuesday night, unawares to the military authorities. Kingston's military men, doing guard duty, are taking no chances, so when members of the fifth field battery noticed the two men at the powder house, on the instructions of Lieut. Smith the two were escorted to the barracks, in spite of a protest from the men who stated that they had been sent there to guard the property by the city's chief magistrate. They had no credentials to show why they should be on duty and for them it was a case of "quick march" to the barracks, and as a result the powder house had to guard itself for the remainder of the night.

Upon arrival at the barracks the men again protested, and acting on their protest Mayor Shaw was telephoned for and aroused from his slumbers during the early morning hours. His worship soon made it O.K. for the men, so far as he was concerned, but the two men were not released until a few hours later when Major E. C. Barrett, in command of the battery, arrived on the scene, and gave the order for the release of the men. Major Barrett and Lieut. Smith expressed regret that the men had been given such treatment, but as they had received no word about the special guard being placed on the powder house the battery had been simply doing their duty.

The question of placing a guard on the powder house was discussed at the meeting of the civic finance committee on Monday night, and it was decided it would be well in these days of trouble to have the place looked after. The guards will resume their duty to-night and there is no danger of another clash with the military authorities.

Tuesday evening, about nine o'clock, the men of the 5th field battery, who were out on leave, received a sudden call to report at Tete de Pont barracks at once for duty. When the men arrived on the scene they were taken in charge by Lieut. Smith, who immediately proceeded to Dalton's powder house, on Division street, where they placed the two men under arrest. The prisoners of war were then taken to the barracks, where they spent the night.

One of the members of the battery, when speaking to the Whig, stated that the two men had revolvers on them when arrested.

During last night, the managers of all the downtown theatres and also the pavilion at Lake Ontario Park announced that all soldiers in uniform were to report for duty at once at the barracks.

Tea Men Face Great Difficulties.
"If the embargo is lifted it will certainly have a good effect on the tea trade, for as it is we will have no tea in three weeks or less," said the manager of the "Salada Tea Company" when told that a cable-gram stated that the tea embargo was to be raised, "although we are cutting down all orders to the smallest possible dimension. For instance, we had orders from Detroit last week for 42,000 lbs. We cut these down to less than 20,000 lbs.—so throughout the United States as well as Canada. If it is a fact that the embargo is to be lifted it will still take five weeks to get tea here from London, and it may take very much longer, because of the difficulties of getting steamers to carry."

To be sure we have lots of difficulties with which to deal besides the embargo—freights have nearly doubled—war risk insurance—the impossibility of obtaining exchange on London, which none of the banks here have to sell—at least they had not two or three days ago when we were trying to buy.

To add to our troubles, on Friday last we received a telegram stating that the S. S. Keeling had arrived at Boston with a lot of tea for us which we hoped to have rushed here, but the American Express company who were to rush the shipment to here, advises us that the steamship company are holding up the whole cargo. We have other teas on the "City of Norwich" and the "City of Durham," both of which are some place in the Mediterranean, but away behind time.

As to the future of tea—we are just as much in doubt as though we were not in the trade at all. We have never had so much worry and trouble in our forty years' experience. This has been chiefly brought about by abuse from our customers for not delivering them their orders in full, when we positively have not the tea to deliver.

The public can depend on the "Salada Tea Company" serving them as it has for twenty-five years back, with the finest quality of tea at the very lowest price at which it can be sold.

IN THE CASE OF HARRY JAMIESON AT POLICE COURT.

Found Guilty of Securing Money Under False Pretences, But Magistrate Decided to Give Him Chance—Sum of $100 Involved in the Sale of a Piano.

The case against Harry Jamieson, for accepting money under false pretences, was finally disposed of at the police court on Wednesday morning, when Police Magistrate Farrell allowed the accused to go on suspended sentence on condition that the parties involved in the transaction would be reimbursed.

After hearing the evidence of Jamieson, the magistrate stated that he found him guilty of obtaining the sum of $100 from Abraham Shear for piano on which a lien existed, but as the family had made arrangements to pay all the money owing, he would allow the accused to go on suspended sentence.

Jamieson, when sworn, stated that he did not know that there was any money owing on the piano. The piano was the property of his wife and she did not tell him that it was not paid for.

In summing up the case, Magistrate Farrell stated that he hoped that the accused would take advantage of the chance which he had given him.

John Brown, a drunk and a sailor from across the border, was given a chance to take his steamer out of the city.

A Lightning Proof Barn.

Last week the fire losses from lightning were over $100,000 in Ontario alone, and the farmers had to pay this toll. Barns were struck and the entire contents—the season's crops—were destroyed.

At the Toronto exhibition will be shown a remedy for all these losses. The steel truss barn, erected for the exhibition by the Metal Shingle and Siding company, of Preston, is said by Prof. Day of Guelph, O. A. C., to be 99 per cent efficient in lightning protection.

This building will be completely equipped with every modern farm barn convenience and will be open to visitors every day during the exhibition. Experts will be there to explain all devices and give estimates on buildings and equipment.

POLICE COURT — WEDNESDAY.

A Wife Who Must Be Given Support. By Her Husband.

In the police court on Wednesday morning, Mrs. Louis Thibault, of Quebec street, accused her husband of non-support. After hearing the evidence, which took almost one hour, Magistrate Farrell ordered the accused to pay his wife $3.50 per week. Mrs. Thibault had a very sad story to tell. She stated that he had refused to contribute towards her support and this state of affairs had existed for some time. Her husband had been a drinking man.

The accused, when examined, acknowledged that he had not contributed as much as he should but he left the home on account of his wife allowing a man to board there after he had objected. He stated that he took a drink but was able to attend to his work and did not ill-use his wife as she had stated.

The story told by the accused did not meet with the approval of the magistrate and for that reason he ordered the accused to support her in future.
