Deaths At Denbigh.

Denbigh, Aug. 29.—Mrs. R. Meyer, of Philadelphia, Pa., and her two daughters, Misses Margaret and Ruth Meyer, who have again spent about one month visiting their many friends in this vicinity, intend to leave again for home next week, but on their way they intend to spend a few days at the Bon Echo summer resort. Mrs. Meyer added to her previous popularity by giving a party to a number of little girls, which was immensely enjoyed by them, as they were liberally treated to sweets, cakes and other delicacies and received each a nice present before leaving for home. A little two-year-old daughter of Albert Inwood, who was at her un-derneath the yard, had her face badly cut by a kick of a young colt. Dr. Adams attended to her injuries and she is doing as well as can be expected. Missionary services were held in the Lutheran church on Sunday, the 23rd inst. Forcible sermons were delivered in the forenoon and afternoon by Rev. John Reble, of Linwood, who formerly labored in this mission, and Rev. J. Albert of Rankin, who spent four years as a missionary among the negroes of South Africa. Mr. Reble, accompanied by Mrs. Reble and his two little sons, spent a week among his former parishioners here. Rev. E. Gorman left yesterday for Pembroke, where he is to hold services tomorrow in place of Rev. C. Klein, who has not returned from his vacation trip to Europe. Mrs. Gorman accompanied him. Mrs. Helen Greer, wife of William Greer, passed peacefully away on the 25th inst., at the age of nearly seventy-one years. The funeral services were held at the Methodist church and cemetery, by Rev. Mr. Samson, of Florida, and were attended by an unusually large number of sympathizing friends.

BUILDS HOTEL IN CRATER.

Proprietor of Hostelry Erects Building On Volcano. Chicago, Tribune. An enterprising hotel proprietor in one of the eastern states recently purchased the site on the summit of an inactive but not extinct volcano and intends to build a huge hotel on it. The volcano is in Sicily and in order to attract seekers after the novel he will have an underground chamber with an asbestos floor arranged on the bed of the crater. Here men and women will be able to stop in expectation that at any moment they may be aroused from their slumbers by an eruption. At Savinovka, in Podolia, Russia, there is a hotel constructed entirely of paper. It was imported in pieces from New York and cost $40,000. The building is fire proof and damp-proof and its rooms are furnished entirely with paper mache furniture, which resembles ebony. A German bacteriologist not long ago erected a dwelling house of glass bricks. Between each brick is a cavity fitted with a solution of salts which absorbs the heat of the sun during the day and warms the interior of the room in the evening, the salts radiating the heat that they have absorbed.

Everett McCoy, prosecutor in the court of Justice Embell, was surprised to see a man give a horse a handful of chewing tobacco. The horse, chewed away in a manner to indicate that he was an old hand at chewing tobacco. "Does he smoke cigarettes?" McCoy asked the owner of the horse. "Well, no," replied the man, "you see, it is a little too hard for him to roll them."

We Can Have Pie There was once a good woman who couldn't make pies, but had two kind neighbors who kept her supplied with that article of food. One day her two neighbors got to fighting, and so badly injured one another that neither of them was able to make pies for some considerable time. What did the pie-less one do? Go without pie? Not much. SHE HUNTED UP A COOK BOOK AND FOUND OUT HOW TO BAKE PIES HERSELF. Canada to-day is in the position of the lady who couldn't make pies. There are many things she does not make at home because she has been getting so easily from Continental Europe. But now where neighbors in Europe are at war with one another and so—for some time to come—cannot supply those things. Canada is to thrive and serious and sensible a housewife to sit with hands folded at such a time. While loyally contributing a number of her best sons to help settle things in Europe, Canada will not entirely overlook her other sons who remain at home. The manufacturers of Canada will get out the recipe book and learn how to MAKE many of the things that Europe can no longer send us because of the war. And in the making of those things the manufacturers of Canada should have the support of the financial interests and the people of Canada. The manufacturers of Canada are now making much of the woollen goods, motor cars, rubber goods, corsets, millinery, hosiery, silverware—and countless other things—that are used in Canada, and generally speaking are making these goods at least as well as they are being made anywhere else. The people of Canada know that most of these things are being made by the manufacturers of Canada are going to serve them still more by making many of the things that were formerly imported from Continental Europe. The manufacturers of Canada should tell the people of Canada at this time more than ever, just what they are making and the merits of their products. Let them drive home the facts through the great modern message medium—advertising. Let them use the newspapers to inform the people that they "have the Goods." Let them explain that notwithstanding the war the people of Canada CAN have "the pie"—"home-made pie," and all the better for being home-made. And after the war is over—if not before—perhaps our neighbors in Europe will be coming to Canada for some of this "pie"—importing from Canada some of the things Canada now imports from them.
