New Home Treatment for Ugly, Hairy Growths

(Boskin Secret.)
Here is a simple, yet very effective method for removing hair or fuzz from the face, neck or arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. Leave this on for two or three minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you be sure to get real delatone.

POLICE WERE CALLED TO MAKE SEARCH OF CELLAR ON BARRIE STREET.

Citizen Who Rented House Thought Something Had Been Buried—Evidence of Some Person Digging.
"Come up and have a look at the cellar in this house I have rented. There is something buried in the cellar. It may be a body."
This was the startling message which came to the police station over the telephone about eleven o'clock, on Tuesday morning. The speaker, a man named John Farmer, on Monday, rented a house on Barrie street, No. 318, situated a few doors off Princess street. When making an inspection of the house on Tuesday morning he discovered evidence of some person having been digging in the cellar. His curiosity was aroused, and for this reason he notified the police.
Constable Samuel Arnel was given the case to investigate. A Whig reporter who happened to be in the police station when the call was received accompanied Constable Arnel to the house and the two, with Mr. Farmer, turned over earth and ashes in the cellar but could find nothing.
What made Mr. Farmer all the more suspicious was the fact that when he went to the house Tuesday morning, he found that the front door had been broken open, and that the small window in the cellar at the front of the house had been smashed.
"It certainly looked to me as if some person had broken into the house and buried something in the cellar," said Mr. Farmer to the Whig. "On Monday I made a visit to the cellar and I am certain that some person has been digging there. Perhaps some person had something hidden in the cellar, and when they knew that the house had been rented went there to get it."
There was considerable paper in the cellar, and Mr. Farmer said that this was not there on Monday when he went through the house.
In the centre of the cellar there was space which gave every appearance of having been dug out. It was composed of ashes. Nothing could be located, and it was quite evident if something had been buried there it was removed.
The cellar is in a filthy condition, one portion of it being filled with refuse. Mr. Farmer said that he would have it cleaned out, and that he would keep a sharp lookout to see if anything had been hidden there.

A Many-Lingual School.
A teacher recently visiting Kingston writes from Medicine Hat of the opening of school there. She says the bilingual question in Ontario is easy where they have just two languages. At the opening she had forty-four primary pupils, and about half of that number could not tell her their names. There were seven languages, and it was quite a proposition to start off with English. However, by next spring they will be all singing the national anthem. Two of her best pupils last term were Chinese.

County and Patriotic Fund.
John A. Kennedy, warden of Frontenac county, was in the city on Monday, and in conversation with a Whig representative said he was in getting information about the Patriotic fund question. He has been consulting with other members of the council and all were agreed that steps should be taken to look after the relief of the dependents on those of the county who had gone to Valcartier to prepare for overseas service. There had, as yet, been no calls for assistance.

Thought They Were Drowned.
After much anxiety the parents of Nicholas Timmerman and Kenton McAdoo were relieved when their sons came home on Sunday night after they had almost been given up for drowned. The two boys left in a skiff on Saturday morning to go trawling, and, being caught out in the heavy blow, which raged all Saturday and Sunday, they were forced to take shelter on Simcoe Island. After much difficulty the boys were towed home by a motor-boat belonging to one of the servants of the Royal Military College.

APPRECIATE THE GIFT.
Of Warm Clothing Sent to Them From Kingston.
Two telegrams were received from Valcartier, Que., on Tuesday morning from Capt. George T. Richardson in command of the volunteers of the 14th regiment for overseas service. For the past few weeks the ladies of the city have been preparing warm wearing apparel for the soldiers, which was all carefully collected together at the home of Mrs. H. J. Dawson and forwarded to the mobilization camp at Valcartier. The goods were gladly received by the men and Capt. Richardson sent telegrams to Major Dawson signifying the appreciation the men feel. These telegrams are as follows:
"Everything you and the ladies sent forward has arrived safely and been distributed to the men who would have me express their warm appreciation for all you have done to add to their comfort. You may rest assured that they now lack nothing."
"Everything arrived in good order. Men are very well pleased and appreciative. They are now very fully outfitted. Please accept and express to officers and friends all our thanks."
White Ross flours stocked by all the trade.

LABOR PICNIC MONDAY AT LAKE ONTARIO PARK WAS WELL ATTENDED.

Victorias Defeated Athletics at Baseball—Results of Races and Other Contests.
There was a large crowd at Lake Ontario Park on Monday afternoon for the labor unions' picnic. The programme consisted of two interesting baseball matches, races, jumping contests, a baby show, and prize waltzing. A feature was the presentation of the City Baseball League cup, won by the Victorias for the season of 1914. This trophy was presented by the president of the league, Stanley Trotter, who thanked the citizens for the support they have shown this league. Mr. Trotter then presented the cup to William McFedridge, manager of the victorious team, who in turn placed it in the hands of Thomas McAmmon, the captain of the Victorias baseball aggregation.
The most popular player in the City Baseball League appears to be W. Cotnam, who came out on top with the highest number of votes and was thus awarded the fifty-dollar gold watch.
The school race cup was won by Central school. H. Abramsky having been successful in compelling against the opponents of all the other schools. Last year the cup was held by a member of St. Mary's school.
