FOLLOWED YOUNG LADY

AND TRIED TO FLIRT WITH HER ON THE STREET.

John Gordon Threw Kisses to Young Lady and Was Later Arrested by Constable Arniel—Cases Heard in Police Court.

While under the influence of liquor, a middle-aged man named John Gordon, tried to make a "dash" on a young lady as she was walking down Princess street. He threw kisses at her, tried to flirt, and followed her around the downtown streets until he was captured by Constable Samuel Arniel. In the police court on Thursday morning he was fined $5 and costs or twenty days.

About 6.15 o'clock on Wednesday evening the young lady in question reported to the police that a man had been following her around the street. Constables Cotter, Arniel and Craig who were in the police station at the time, were notified and got busy.

As the young lady made her way down Princess street again, Constable Arniel spotted the "masher" at his work, and soon had him locked up in the police station.

The arrest took place near the corner of Ontario and Princess street, and just before he was placed under arrest Gordon cut across a corner in an attempt to head off the young lady.

The charge against Gordon was that of a "drunk and disorderly." He admitted being drunk, but stated that he did not know anything about any other charge.

However, Constable Arniel was called to the box, and refreshed his memory by relating the story to the magistrate. The magistrate felt that he should be punished for his conduct, and so imposed the fine of $5 and costs or twenty days.

Many complaints are received by the police from time to time from women about men following them, and it is the wish of the police that the complainants come to the police station at the time so that they can get a line of the offender as in this case, so he can be rounded up.

Five drunks were in the line up. Four were fined and the other dismissed.

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of To-day.)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growths, if she will use the delatone treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.

Another man, Charles Scott, jumped when he saw the danger. None of the four were much hurt.

He was confined to the Hotel Dieu for the last ten days. He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. E. McGowan and Mrs. W. MORE ROOMS NEEDED

TO BE FITTED UP IN OLD FORT HENRY.

If Further Suspects Are to Be Incarcerated There—There Are Now About 160 Prisoners of War.

and number of war prisoners confined to Fort Henry continues to increase. On Thursday morning a military guard arrived with three more suspects gathered in when they were attempting to cross the Canadian border.

In many cases these German and Austrian suspects attempted to cross the border mainly for the purpose of getting work, as they state it is impossible to get anything to do in Canada, now that the war is in full swing.

The renovated quarters at Fort Henry are almost filled, and it will be necessary for the militia department to have more rooms put in condition if other suspects are to be brought here. At the present time there are about one hundred and sixty men held as prisoners of war at the fort.

WILL DO ITS BEST

To Aid Men to Get Employment—Register Kept.

At the Y.M.C.A. board meeting on Tuesday night the secretary reported the necessity of taking some definite action in regard to the employment and assistance problem. Being the last couple of months many apparently worthy men have been coming continually to the association building in search of employment, and it is evident that if the present financial conditions do not improve the association will be up against this problem, more and more as fall and winter advances. This will doubtless be true in the case of other similar institutions. Although the city is not large enough to finance a regular employment department, such as is being conducted in some of the larger associations, an honest attempt will be made to help meet the need, and the association will keep an employment register.

FRASSO-NAPHAN WEDDING.

Solemnized at Read—The Groom Belongs to Kingston.

A pretty wedding of much interest took place at St. Charles church, Read, when Miss Mary Agnes Naphan, of Read, became the bride of Edward Frasso, Kingston. The bride was gowned in white net over satin lining, trimmed with Irish point lace and satin. She wore a veil with a wreath of orange blossoms and filled a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bride entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march and was given away by her father. The bridesmaid was dressed in pink voile over silk lining with trimmings of satin and lace and wore large picture hat to match. She carried pink roses. The groomsmen was the bride's brother, Daniel L. Naphan.

CONSTABLE FOUND CLOTHING.

Outfit For Two Men Being Held at Police Station.

Constable James Craig has a mystery he paid a visit to the stables on Barot street, and alongside the stables he found a quantity of clothing consisting of two coats, two vests, a linen collar, a pair of boots, several pairs of socks and a couple of caps. All the clothing is of a second-hand character. Constable Craig is just wondering if the clothing was discarded by a couple of young men who volunteered for the front or whether it is stolen goods. There is no game or mark on the clothing.
