Deseronto Post. Rev. Dr. MacTavish, Toronto, formerly pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, was in Deseronto last week. In conversation with some of citizens Dr. MacTavish stated that he had received letters from his Roswell, in England when war declared, to the effect that so did patriotic fervor run in the Country that it was practically possible to resist offering one's vices. Consequently Roswell volunteered. His offer was not first accepted but his name was taken, and Dr. MacTavish has since been informed that his son is now in the ranks. It is greatly to be hoped that Mr. MacTavish may survive the terrific conflict, and that he will enabled to pursue his course as minister of the gospel, for which, friends say, his exceptional natural ability so eminently qualifies him.
