HEART AND HOME. If stately halls and frescoed walls, In palace you have not; If poor and small your cottage is—And humble is your lot; If from your walls the echo falls, Of just one little lot, The house where'er the heart is, Is palace in its cot.

And waiters you have not; If plain and homely is the fare, By your board no silver gleams, Still say home because to you A loved and cherished spot; For 'tis home where'er the heart is, In palace or in cot.

Last Year's Record. Montreal, Sept. 12.—Though there are still more than two months of navigation, the amount of grain shipped from this port this season already exceeds the entire shipment of last year. By the end of last week, the harbor elevators had received 13,775,411 bushels as compared with 43,349,291 bushels during the whole of last year. Of the amount received this year, 29,475,407 bushels have been exported and 2,879,716 bushels delivered locally. It is expected eight million bushels will be shipped before the harbor closes.
