IN COMING FROM BERLIN TO WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT CITY

Dr. E. J. Williamson Writes About His Stay In the German Capital, From Aug. 1st to Sept. 8th.

A letter has been received from Dr. Edward J. Williamson, professor of modern Janguages in Hobart College, Geneva, N.Y., telling of his experiences in Berlin, Germany, where he was until the 8th of this month, At ter war was declared, he had a couple of personal interviews with the head of the German foreign office, who promised to do what he could to get him out of the country. Dr. Williamson's petition was supported by letters from Profs. M. Meyer and Pasylesonester, the University of Berlin, and by Dr. Drichster, of the Amerika Insti-It was based on the fact that Dr. Williamson "was engaged spreading German culture in the United States," being head of the German department at Hobart Coffege. It seemed strange that he should be prevented from doing what the German have done. From their own account the war was forced upon them and it was "the holy desire" to maintain this culture and to confer upon the world the benefits of the same which led them to take up arms. That was what the German press was continual-telling the people.

Finally Dr. Williamson explained in Berlin, and was given a passport which placed him under the protection the United States, on the grounds that he had resided in New York state for nine years and had not voted in Canada during that period. The German foreign office vised this passport without demur. Three days later he left Berlin on a special train, with others, and reached The Hague the same evening (September 8th) From there he proceeded to London, via Flushing-Folkstone, reaching there on September 10th. He had great luck in securing passage to America At Cook's tourist office, which he visited immediately after landing, h was told that someone had just turn ed in a first-class ticket on the SS. Cameronia, to sail next day from Glasgow. This ticket he secured, and it took him just thirteen days to travel from Berlin to New York with out having his passage arranged be forehand. A couple of hundred dollars in hand came in very handy. Dr. Williamson says that while in way by the German authorities. went about night and day pretty much as in peace time. Many British subjects, especially those of military age, were imprisoned, and others had to report to the police every three

A RUSSIAN RELEASED

From Fort Henry, Where He Was Held as a German.

Acting under the advice of the militis department at Ottawa, the young Russian confined to Fort Henry for some few weeks, was allowed out on parole, on Wednesday. As soon as the prisoner of war left the fort, he was taken in charge by Isaac Cohen, of the firm of Susman & Cohen, who gave him a place on their staff. According to the story told by the young man, he was born in Russia and when a young man went to Germany for the purpose of getting an leducation. Two days before war was declared in Germany, the young man, with a number of others, sailed for Canada. When he arrived at Montreal he was taken in charge by the military authorities and sent up to Kingston, where he was to remain until the war

When the affair became known by the local Jewish people, Isaac Cohen, head of the Jewish organization in kingston, went over to the fort and after having a talk with the prisoner laid the matter before the militia department at Ottawa, with the result that the young man is now free and has a good job.

> Attacked On The Street. Late on Tuesday night one of the crew of the steamer Scout, while near the foot of Clarence street, was chased to Swift's wharf and his purse and glasses taken from him. Some of his comrades came to his rescue and succeeded in getting back the articles taken. It is surprising that such a thing could occur along Kingston's "White way."

HALL TO-NIGHT.

The Different Captains Will Report On the Work Of the Teams - 1 Joyous Time Being Looked For-

"Help the war fund. Give, give,

This has been Kingston's motto for three days. No citizen has been able to dodge the question, even if he had an idea that he could, and judging by the response given to the appeal, it does not appear as any person wanted to ignore the close to-night, with a grand public rally in the city hall, and the men who have given up their entire time for the three days, collecting the money, are looking forward to a great time of rejoicing. The final summing up will take place to-night, and it is believed that the $50,000 aimed at, will have been realized. Each of the ten captains will be called upon to give a detailed account of the collections, and each report will be a very interesting one. It is expected that the city hall will be packed to the doors, and citizens who would like to get a good seat should be on hand early. A musical programme has been arranged which will provide a rare treat. The meeting will be one of thanksgiving for the result of the canvass. The men who undertook the collection have carried on the work in a most creditable manner, and to them all praise is due.

Notes Of The Campaign. The rain on Thursday did not at all dampen the spirits of the collectors for the patriotic fund. They were on hand at the Board of Trade rooms early in the morning, secured a new list of names, and were busily engaged in the work all day long.

The Board of Trade rooms presented another busy scene all day with workers coming and going all the time.

During the day quite a number of subscriptions were received at the office. A citizen who did not care to have his name published sent in $5 to be credited to A. Strachan's team. Asked by the Whig, Thursday forenoon, C. A. Warburton, the organizer, stated that he felt sure the amount asked for, $50,000, would be realized,

A stranger in the city, on Thursday morning, happened to walk along Ontario street near the fire station and caught a glimpse of the card in the hall reading "War fund; give, give, give." It attracted his attention and he walked into the station.

"I haven't got much to give, but I want to help a little," he said to Capt. Frederick Reid. He then put his hand in his pocket and pulled out a twenty-five cent piece and gave it to Capt. Reid. "It's not much," said the man, "but it will help some." An interesting feature of the big meeting in the city hall to-night will be an auction sale for the purpose of selling a number of articles contributed by citizens. A French poodledog, a fine marine painting, a very beautiful chest of drawers, a card table, a lady's work table, and other things will be sold. ars. W. G. Woodman, of Wolfe Island, has kindly donated her own handmade prize woollen rug to the patrious fund. It will be sold to the nighest bidder at the city hall to-

IN NEED OF HELP,

Wife of Soldier at Valcartier Writes

The secretary of the patriotic fund has received the following letter: "I have received two letters this week as regards the patriotic fund. I am sorry to say, I am one that is in need of help as my husband is away at Valcartier with C. F. A. 1st brigade. I have had five dollars from him since he left, a month ago, on Friday. I have four children, one sixteen, years, earns three dollars a week, and I have one thirteen years, one eight years, one two years, so I do not have much. It is very hard, and a great worry. I am two months behind in my rent, which is the biggest worry of the lot It is very hard to say so; hoping you will excuse me."

The case will be investigated. James McParland will be open for business in his new building at the old stand, 341 King street, Saturday, Sept. 26th, instead of Thursday, Sept. 24th, with a full line of Wines, liquors and cigars.'
