THREE COUPLES WED

TWO IN KINGSTON AND ONE AT SEELEY'S BAY. Sharpe-Mathews Nuptials in St. James Church - Pickering-Thompson Wedding at the Bride's Home.

In St. James church at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening, a happy event was witnessed when two of Kingston's well known and highly esteemed young people were united in wedlock by Rev. T. W. Savary. These were Miss Kathleen Louise Mathews, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mathews, 121 Beverley street, and Joseph S. M. Sharpe, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sharpe, a son of this city. The first bridesmaid was Miss Ella M. Mathews, sister of the bride, who was daintily attired in a beautiful gown of Alice blue silk with trimmings of silk net and lace. Upon her head was a little Normandy hat trimmed with white silk net and roses of French knots. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white asters tied with a white satin ribbon.

The second bridesmaid was Miss Amy Partridge, who was charmingly dressed in a gown of white silk mullie with trimmings of pale blue silk and lace. A Normandy cap was also worn. Miss Partridge's bouquet was composed of pink and white asters. The groomsmen was Noble Sharpe a brother of the bridegroom. The bride was artistically dressed in a gown of white silk crepe-de-chene with trimmings of pearls and medallion, also a bridal veil caught up with lily of the valley and pearls over which was laid a Juliet cap. She approached the altar at the side of her father, while the wedding march was played by Mrs. A. B. H. Williamson.

A choral service immediately followed which was participated in by the whole of St. James church choir of which the bride was a devoted member. The voice of the "Breathed O'er Eden" was beautifully rendered. From the church after the ceremony had been solemnized the happy couple and party repaired to the home of the bride where a sumptuous wedding supper was prepared. The immediate relatives of both contracting parties sat down to it. The happy pair left on the mid-night train for western points. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue whip cord with velvet trimmings. She wore a hat to match of white and green felt with silk cord trimmings.

Before leaving, Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe held a reception at bride's residence where a hundred guests were received. The house was decorated in flowers and otherwise prettily decorated. Upon returning Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe will take up residence on Nelson street. The gifts to the bride were very numerous showing how dearly she is loved by a large number of friends.

The Foundation of Comfort. Every enduring superstructure in this world must have a good foundation. This is of primary importance. As a good foundation upon which to build your health and happiness, nothing can be more substantial than properly cared-for feet. If you have two good feet under you, take care of them. Put them into the right shoes - and you may expect the permanent basis of real and lasting foot-comfort. Every "INVICTUS" last is a faithful model of the human foot, and upon it, from the very best of materials, is made "THE BEST GOOD SHOE."

Pickering-Thompson. A quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, 41 Main street at 8.30 o'clock Wednesday evening when their youngest daughter, Lillian Isabelle was united in marriage to Norman H. Pickering, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pickering, Nelson street. Rev. Douglas Laine performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives of both parties. The bride was given away by her father, and was the picture of daintiness, being neatly dressed in a gown of white duchess satin with baby Irish lace trimmings. The happy couple were unattended. Mrs. Thompson mother of the bride was dressed in a gown of point lace, Mrs. Pickering mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of blue silk with trimmings of all-over lace. Each carried a bouquet, and the bride's was a beautiful shower bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. After the knot had been tied, all repaired to the dining room where a wedding feast was served. Here the company tendered the sincere wish that the bride and bridegroom might forever spend their remaining days in happiness. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue serge with a hat of black velvet, trimmed with white

At midnight Mr. and Mrs. Pickering went aboard the G. R. R. train for Ottawa. Upon returning they will take up residence on Nelson street. The bride was the recipient of numerous and costly presents which were shown that she as well as her husband are held in high esteem. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold bracelet. Married at Seeley's Bay. At Seeley's Bay on Wednesday evening, at nine o'clock, a happy event was solemnized when Alice May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson of the above place, was married to Horace Wilkinson of Birmingham, England. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride which was prettily decorated with pink and white flowers. Rev. H. Smith of the parish church, officiated. The bride was given away by her father and was dressed in a pretty navy blue suit with a white blouse encircled with a pale blue sash. The bride also carried a bouquet of white asters. A wedding supper was later served to which the immediate relatives and the country folk from the nearby places were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson will take up residence in Kingston. AT THE GRAND. To-night May Robt. (The Opera House) and Opera House to-night will be given by the company, a fetching comedy, "Martha's Day." This is an adaptation of a book of similar title, by Julius Appmann, and it is heralded as a smashing success in characterizations and situations. The scenes of "Martha's Day" are all laid in New York state, and its characters are all American types. The first act discloses Martha's flat in New York city, and the other two show portions of an estate in the Catskill mountains. The settings for these scenes have been prepared upon a particularly elaborate scale, and from an artistic viewpoint will gain important recognition. Arctic Hunt Motion Pictures. The forthcoming engagement of the Alcega-Siberia at the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday, September 24th and 25th, with daily matinees, has aroused interest. These remarkable films have gained the approval of New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and many other cities where they have been exhibited. Two hours of wholesome entertainment is furnished by the wonderful pictures which graphically show the chase and capture of the moose, mountain sheep, seal, sea lion, walrus and polar bear by the members of the expedition and Eskimos. Scenes showing Eskimo life in the villages and in their aquatic sports have been proven of great interest. May A. Bell Marks. The announcement of the coming engagement to the Grand Opera House of May A. Bell Marks, supported by R. W. Marks, manager and proprietor of Marks Bros', No. 1 Dramatic company, which opens a week's engagement Monday evening, September 24th, will be appreciated by all the large audiences where they will receive an attraction that is run on entirely different plans to the general line of stock companies. The opening play for Monday will be "The Girl from Texas." NOT SETTLED YET. The Ownership of $230 Found in a Kingston Mattress. The ownership of $230 found in a mattress which was being cleaned in the establishment of the Kingston Mattress company in June last and over which there was a police court case a few days ago, has not been settled yet. C. R. Webster, who appeared on behalf of G. W. Richardson, proprietor of the mattress company, when the case was heard in the police court, stated to the Whig that there had been no settlement as yet, and that the case would likely go to the county court. It will be remembered that James Swift put in a claim for the money, and it is understood that two other parties have also a claim. Red Book Magazine. The Red Book Magazine, which, within the last two years, has brought Rupert Hughes to the fore as a novelist, and H. M. Evans as a short story writer, announces a new "discovery" in its October issue. Bertha Knutvold Mellett is the name of the new writer, and her first story to see print is a strong episode of life in Alaska. The story has all the power that made these first tales that Rex Beach brought to us, but it is gripping and something besides. The Red Book Magazine announces that other stories by the new writer are to follow. Mrs. Mellett is the wife of a Seattle, Washington, newspaper man, and has lived in the mining country of Alaska. Ald. Harrison, Attention! The City Property committee might have a special session during these war days, and, after full debate, decide to have the lights in the city hall turned on before the October 1st sets in. The bills should be lit at six o'clock just now. It was 6.55 o'clock last evening when they were illuminated. The street lights were on at 6.40 o'clock, half an hour later than they should have been on a dark and rainy evening. Given Appointment. Official announcement of the appointment of H. C. G. as general superintendent of the Sanitary division, Canadian Railway. Mr. Groll, whose headquarters are at St. John, N.B., has been in the city since his appointment. He will be in the city for a few days. A Ride Bill. The grand jury at Napanee returned a true bill against Dr. C. K. Robinson in the Blanche Yorke case. Ice cream bricks, 25c, at Gibson's.
