TRUE BILL OF MURDER

WAS FOUND AGAINST DR. C. K. ROBINSON.

By Grand Jury at Napanee Assizes - The Case Goes Over Till the Spring Assizes.

Napanee, Sept. 24.-After deliberating for five hours the grand jury at the assizes here yesterday, before Justice Kelly, returned a true bill indicting Dr. Clifford K. Robinson on a charge of having, between July 8th and 14th, murdered Miss Blanche Yorkie in the village of Tamworth. "Having heard the charge, are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the clerk of the court of the accused. Without a tremor in his voice the accused physician replied: "Not guilty." "Are you ready for your trial?" "Not yet," answered Dr. Robinson. J. A. Hutchinson, K.C., of Brookville, prosecuting counsel, stated that he had been notified by T. C. Robinson, K.C., of Toronto, counsel for the accused, that the defence desired an adjournment of the case until the spring assizes. The crown prosecutor explained that in view of the short time that had elapsed between the preliminary investigation into the death of Miss Yorkie and the date fixed for the assizes, he did not consider it would be fair to force the defence to appear for trial. His lordship concurred, and granted the adjournment. W. S. Harrington, acting in the interests of Mr. Robinson, stated that application for bail would be made in Toronto immediately. Immediately after Robinson had pleaded and resumed his seat, his young wife, sister and mother entered the room and sat beside him, his wife and he being separated only by a small railing. No objection was raised to their conversation, and for three minutes husband, sister, wife and mother conversed in undertone during a delay in court proceedings. It is expected that another sensational arrest will be made in connection with this case as a result of some new evidence secured by the police.

A DISTINGUISHED BELGIAN

Is at the Head of Embassy to United States.

Henri Carton de Wiart, minister of Justice of Belgium, and who is heading embassy sent by King Albert to the United States, in order to lay before the president and government at Washington a record of the outrages perpetrated by the Germans in his dominions, outrages constituting the gravest kind of violations of international law comes from a very distinguished Belgian family, and bears a name that is known far beyond the borders of his native land. For his father was the distinguished Belgian jurist who, in the kingdom of Siam with a code of criminal and civil laws on western lines, his memory being honored to this day in Siam, and indeed, throughout the far east, beyond that of almost any other foreigner. His brother Leon Carton de Wiart divides his time between England, where he has a country place in Surrey, and Egypt, where for the last thirty years he has been the leader of the bar in the international courts, and the representative of the khedivate and of the British government in all sorts of contentious matters. His son Adrian, a captain of 4th regiment of Dragoon Guards of the British army, is married to the eldest daughter of Prince Charles Roger of Badenhausen and of his wife, Princess Eleonor of Hohenloke-Bartenstein. The prince and the princess are members of some of the proudest of the mediatised houses of Europe, that is to say, of the houses who have a right to mate with royalty on a footing of equality, and they should have given their consent to the marriage of their daughter to Captain Adrian Carton de Wiart, shows the esteem in which his family and his name are held everywhere in Europe.

Captain Trench Reappears

Nowhere have I seen it mentioned that Captain Bernard Trench, of the Royal Marine infantry, was serving on board the British cruiser Highflyer, when it sank the German armed ocean liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, off the coast of West Africa the other day. Captain Bernard Trench was the English officer who on the strength of perjured evidence was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment in Germany, as a spy, and who only recovered his liberty after two years of captivity, on the occasion of the visit to Berlin of King George and Queen Mary to attend the wedding of the kaiser's only daughter to the Duke of Brunswick. Owing to the escape of a couple of French officers incarcerated in German fortresses, for military offenses, the imprisonment of Captain Trench was of a particularly severe character and he was entirely out of touch with all news of his family, and of the outer world. Source of Supply. The milkman had been discarded for a rival vendor and was highly indignant. "I don't want to say anything against him, but if you prefer me that's been knocked about on the railway for hours to good milk fresh from my own cows-well, you'll get it. That's all." "But he assures me that his milk is brought from his own farm in the neighborhood." "Does he? Well, he may be speaking the truth, but it's a funny thing that when I go up to the station for my milk every morning there he's putting milk into his cart." - Exchange.

Natural Inclination.

The stout party had been in the boot shop for over an hour, and the patient shop assistant had had half the stock down for her inspection. Mary Gillespie, of the City, said, as she found a fault with them all, until his patience became quite exhausted. "These would suit you," he said, taking another pair down as a last resource. Still the lady was not satisfied. "I don't like this sort," she said. "They have a tendency to get wider when they are a bit old." "Well, madam," retorted the exasperated assistant, politely, "didn't you?" President Wilson has taken steps to curb the tongues of the diplomats on the United States International relations. Harry Thaw was awarded $142,154 in the Orphans' court, Pittsburg. The amount was due from a trust created by the will of his father. It often happens that a miserable married woman finds time to pity a happy and contented old maid.

Fell Off A Roof.

On Thursday morning William Bennett, the seventeen-year-old son of W. C. Bennett, Frontenac street, met with an accident by falling from a scaffold on one of the House of Providence buildings. The distance to the ground was about fifteen feet and he was fortunate enough to hit the ground on his feet, but sustained what was at first thought to be a broken ankle, but under the X-ray, in the Hotel Dieu, it was found to be only severely strained.

To Help Fund.

At the meeting of the Frontenac cheese board, on Thursday afternoon, when the war fund was under discussion, George Smith, of Parham, stated that he would guarantee $1 from each of the patrons of his factory. Joseph Cramer, Frontenac's cheese king, said he would give ten bags of turnips and five bags of potatoes, or the cash value. He thought there might be some family who would appreciate a gift of potatoes or turnips.
