

Hudson Seal Coats

Conditions abroad will render it difficult to have any more skins dyed for some time. We are fortunate in having a good supply of beautiful skins, real French dyed for our special orders

Our assemblage of newest models show the new sleeves, the smart flare ripple collars, and the new straight hanging lines. 36 inch lengths are decidedly favored, also trimming of contrasting fur.

KINGSTON'S VETERANS

WILL MAKE REQUEST FOR USE OF FIFTY RIFLES.
For Their Use if Required to Protect Life and Property Along Border—Will Hold Camp Fire.

The war veterans in Kingston desire to be prepared in case any trouble should occur along the border. At a meeting of the executive of the Kingston Veterans' association held on Friday night, it was decided to make a request to Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes minister of militia to place at the disposal of the veterans fifty rifles, to be kept in a convenient place so that they might be used for the protection of life and property. The next meeting will be held on of Lieut.-Col. George Hunter, and in addition to this item of business further arrangements for the organization were discussed and decided upon. A number of the veterans will take advantage of the Barrisfield "butts" and practice shooting. There are number of very good shots among the local veterans, several having medals for their work. It is the intention of the association to hold a "camp fire" in the near future, and a most pleasant time is being looked forward to. The next meeting will be held on October 5th.

THINK IT IS UNFAIR
To Discharge Regulars For Not Going Overseas.
Several men who were in camp at Valcartier with different regiments have been discharged by an order from the militia department because they did not sail with the contingent. There are a number of reasons why the men did not sail. Some were over age, some medically unfit, and the wives of others would not sign their approval. The department is being severely criticised as a result of the dismissals, as the men do not consider it the straight thing to do. When a man enlists in, say the R.C. H.A., he does so for three years and signs to do "general" service. The militia act reads that without the authority of the Canadian parliament the men may not be made to do overseas service. It is generally accepted, and in certain cases the men have been told, that they will not be made to go overseas.
Now it seems since they, for one reason and another, are not able to go, they are dishonorably discharged. The men are not even allowed to go into a barracks. One of the officers in the office was called out of bed and given ten minutes to get his books ready and to leave camp. Several more men, who have been discharged, are expected to arrive from Valcartier on the G.T.R. train Saturday evening.

The Husband Went.
A soldier who was at Valcartier and who sailed in the first contingent, caused a very amusing letter to be sent to his commanding officer. The soldier told the officer that his wife would not let him go to the front, and to secure a letter to that effect the officer wrote to the wife and received the following reply:
"Dear Sir: My father was a soldier, my grandfather was a soldier, I was born in a barracks and I thought I married a soldier. If my husband doesn't want to go to war, he can go to—"
The husband went.

Tea in Aid of Day Nursery
A tea in aid of the Kingston day nursery—the Creche—will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Givens, Matland street (near Yacht Club) on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 1st, from 4 to 6 o'clock. Everybody is asked to bring a pound of anything suitable for the Creche, and ten cents. Help a worthy cause along by your attendance and gift.

James McParland will be open for business in his new building at the old stand, 341 King street, Saturday, Sept. 26th, instead of Thursday, Sept. 24th, with a full line of wines, liquors and cigars.

ROUNDED UP THIEVES.

They Had Been Busy in Many Melon Patches.

The Napanee Beaver says: Thieves who have been raiding the melon patches of farmers of late, have at last been caught. On Tuesday, about midnight, a gang composed of five boys and four girls entered the melon patch of Jas. Thompson, Deseronto road, going by way of boat from Napanee. Mr. Thompson, who is the owner of a large melon patch, had suspicion that a raid would begin at midnight. He secured the assistance of five men, and they lay in waiting for the arrival of the thieves. After they had entered the field the guards succeeded in capturing a boy and a girl, the girl being disguised in men's clothing. The names of those who fled were taken. Mr. Thompson immediately telephoned for a constable from town and had the boy placed under arrest. The nine thieves, who appeared before Police Magistrate Rankin on Thursday afternoon, all pleaded guilty. Four of the boys and the "manly" girl were fined $3.50 each, and the other boy was assessed $10 for carrying and firing a revolver. The other girls were let go on suspended sentence. This is not the only melon patch that has been visited. A couple of weeks ago the patch of Mark Husband was completely destroyed. This should be a lesson to others who are engaged in wrong doing. Possibly this same gang is the one which has been operating in the melon stealing game on the River road. Evidently they are not satisfied with stealing but tramp the vines as though a regiment of soldiers had been in the field, and the vines have been trampled from Mrs. Pickett's farm to Napanee. It is just about time this kind of work was stopped.

ALASKA-SIBERIA PICTURES

Are Being Shown At the Grand Opera House.

At the Grand Opera House last evening was shown the film of the Carnegie Museum Alaska-Siberia expedition. These moving pictures are the record of an expedition under the command of that intrepid explorer, Capt. F. E. Klein Schmidt, and an educational and travel picture stand unrivalled among any films ever seen in Kingston. The pictures were obtained between 1909 and 1912 by the members of the Arctic expedition of the Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh, and have been shown from London to Hong Kong and St. Petersburg to Capetown. In the picture story Capt. Klein Schmidt is seen hunting the walrus, roping in the polar bears, clearing a whole island of seals by the noise of the camera, causing strife to reign in a vast rookery of penguins.
There are six long reels to amuse and educate and a flutter of the heart is treated to the sight of a mother polar bear's devotion to her offspring. Mr. Jackman, the lecturer, describes the scenes, which he does in a very interesting and instructive manner. The films will be shown again to-night, and are worth the attention of lovers of many sports.

CATARAQUI POST OFFICE

WAS VISITED BY BURGLARS ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

Forty Dollars Stolen From the Till—The Robbery Was Discovered Early Saturday Morning.

A daring robbery was pulled off during the early hours of Saturday morning when the post office and store at Cataraqui was broken into and relieved of about forty dollars. Percy Ward, storekeeper and postmaster states that he did not retire until eleven o'clock, so that the robbery must have occurred between this hour and six this morning. Mr. Ward also asserted that there was a broken pane of glass in one of the windows in the store and it is thought the culprits gained entrance by this means. Mr. Ward sleeps over the store but the burglars took the greatest care that no noise was made thereby getting off clear with their booty from the till.

When Mr. Ward entered the store on Saturday morning the first thing that drew his attention that a robbery had taken place was from the fact that a couple of shin-plasters were lying on the floor. He then discovered $40 missing, and notified the authorities.

THERE ARE 200 RESERVISTS
Serving in Canadian Penitentiaries For Minor Offences.

There are about two hundred reservists serving time in the penitentiaries of Canada, who would only be too glad to fight for their country if released, was the statement of Inspector W. S. Hughes to the Whig on Saturday morning.

When asked if there was any possibility of these men being released, the inspector would make no statement. It is stated that the crimes for which they are serving time are minor offences, and their release would be a great help to the British, who need trained men.
