

Hudson Seal Coats

Conditions abroad will render it difficult to have any more skins dyed for some time. We are fortunate in having a good supply of beautiful skins, real French dyed for our special orders

Our assemblage of newest models show the new sleeves, the smart flare ripple collars, and the new straight hanging lines. 36 inch lengths are decidedly favored, also trimming of contrasting fur.

FELL INTO MICA MINE

AND LAID UNCONSCIOUS ALL SATURDAY NIGHT.

William Deyo, Sydenham, Met With An Unfortunate Accident — Was Not Found Until Sunday Morning.

William Deyo, Sydenham, certainly met with a bad accident on Saturday night. He was working in a mica mine and fell thirty-five feet to the bottom, striking on his head, rendering him unconscious. No one was near the mine until Sunday morning when he was discovered, having been at the bottom of the mine in an unconscious condition since Saturday. He was discovered by fellow workmen who were out in search of him.

FIRST BAPTIST BIBLE SCHOOL.

Sunday Was Observed As Rally Day By School.

Yesterday was "Rally Day" in the First Baptist Bible school and a good rally day it was. The Girls' Own Circle had decorated room with the national colors, and bouquets of choice cut flowers.

The programme was of a unique character, being built on a war basis. Special features were a solo by Miss Edna Singleton, a duet by the Misses Breathwaite and Singleton, a cornet solo by Arthur Watson, all of which were very fine and very much enjoyed.

Another feature of interest was the presentation of diplomas to the members of the cradle roll who were passing into the primary department. The superintendent and pastor gave short talks. After the closing prayer all rose and sang "God Save the King."

LIEUT. W. MACKIE SAFE

Writes His Father That He Lost His Horse.

Rev. John Mackie, D.D., was made happy on Sunday night by the receipt of a letter from his son, Lieut. William Mackie, with the royal artillery on the battle line in France. The letter was postmarked Sept. 4th, and stated that the writer was well. He had lost his horse, which possibly some German officer is riding now. It had been reported that Lieut. Mackie was taken prisoner last month.

Dr. and Mrs. Mackie will sail from Montreal for England next Saturday. They hope to return to Kingston next spring, and again spend the summer at their cottage on Loughboro Lake. "Canada is still our home," said Dr. Mackie to the Whig on Monday.

"MEN AND WOMEN IN MAKING"

Sermon at First Baptist Church Sunday Evening.

The pastor, Rev. D. Lalng, preached on "Men and Women in Making," Sunday evening, a strong sermon, especially to parents.

The anthems by the choir at the evening service was especially fine. Miss Muriel Breathwaite took the solo parts, in exceptionally fine voice. Several members of families connected with the congregation are upon the high seas in the first contingent of Canadian soldiers, now on their way to England, then to the seat of war. They were remembered at last evening's service by singing the hymn, "For Those in Peril on the Sea," and in special prayer by the pastor.

Died in Burlingame, Cal.

The death occurred in Burlingame, California, on Sunday morning of Charles Smallridge, formerly of Kingston, after two months' illness. Deceased was fifty-three years of age on Saturday, the 26th. His brother, William, of Kingston, had been with him two weeks before he died. The deceased was born in Kingston, but left here thirteen years ago for California, where he prospered as a contractor. It was his intention to come back to Kingston and reside. The late Mr. Smallridge is survived by his wife four children; two brothers, George of Birmingham, Alabama, and William, H., of Kingston, and by one sister, Mrs. J. W. Lilton, Frontenac street, Kingston. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

To Attend Premier's Funeral.

F. J. Hoag, president of the Kingston Liberal-Conservative Association, will represent that association at the funeral of the late Sir James P. Whitney, in Morrisburg, on Tuesday. Principal Gordon, of Queen's University, will also attend. The flags on the city hall, Queen's University and fire halls are flying at half-mast, out of respect to the memory of the late premier.

Flooded With Entries.

R. J. Bushell, the secretary of the "Kingston's Only Fair," has received a large list of entries the last few days and is working overtime looking after them. There are at present 172 entries for the big show.

"Buy shaving cream" at Gibson's. Rev. S. J. M. Compton, pastor of St. Andrew's church, returned on Monday morning from Scotland after a very enjoyable trip. He came across on the steamship Letitia in company with his wife and infant child. A 50c. emulsion, 25c., at Gibson's.

CITY AND VICINITY.

William Eva Again Around. William Eva, the talented tenor soloist, formerly of Sydenham Street Methodist church, was back in the choir on Sunday. At the evening service he rendered a solo which was greatly appreciated. For some time Mr. Eva has been working in Toronto, but has been laid up for a few weeks on account of falling from a scaffold, injuring his side.

Tea in Aid of Day Nursery. A tea in aid of the Kingston day nursery—the Creche—will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Givens, Maitland street, (near Yacht Club) on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 1st, from 4 to 6 o'clock. Everybody is asked to bring a pound of anything suitable for the Creche, and ten cents. Help a worthy cause along by your attendance and gift.

Broke Panel of Door. Some time during Sunday night some person smashed a panel in the door of the fruit store of Peter Darras, upper Princess street, but in spite of the fact that there was nothing missing. The would-be thief evidently got "cold feet" after starting out to burglarize the store.

REMOVAL NOTICE. The Red Cross Society has changed its rooms to Ontario Hall.

The Late George Cook. George Cook, seventy-five years of age, died in the General Hospital on Sunday evening after a week's illness. He was a farmer for years near Camden East, and came to the city about a year ago. His son, R. J. Cook, of Camden East, arrived in the city on Monday afternoon, and will convey the remains home for burial.

Nearly A Row.

There was a little excitement on Princess street, on Sunday when a German sympathizer was foolish enough to voice his sentiments in front of a small group of Englishmen. He said that the Germans were sure to come out victorious in the present fight and as soon as he had said that one of the Britishers "landed him." Others stopped the row but advised the thoughtless one to go home and think things over.

Case Was Dismissed.

George Jackson, arrested for being drunk, when a member of the "prohibited list," declared that he had purchased his liquor from the store of John Gordon, but after he heard evidence in the case on Monday morning, Magistrate Farrell dismissed the charge. Jackson stated that he got the liquor on Tuesday morning last but Robert Lawlor, who was in charge of the store, swore positively that Jackson was not in the store on that day and at no time to his knowledge.

14th Guardsman Drunk.

A Wellington street resident was the subject of some uncomplimentary remarks made by his neighbors on Sunday afternoon. He is a member of the 14th guard at Fort Henry and was out on leave of absence on Saturday. He bought a quantity of whiskey which he brought to the house much against wife's consent. He was drunk and made a disgraceful row all Saturday night, and on Sunday morning a call was sent to the fort about him. A corporal and
