WHO'LL BE PREMIER ?

HENDRIE AND BECK DO NOT PULL TOGETHER.

And Adam is Therefore Out of the Running — Will the Tories Call a Party Caucus ?

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Conservative papers keep insisting as to who should succeed Sir James Whitney, and conservative members keep on urging that a party caucus should be held. It is impossible to say in advance whether or not their clamor will be listened to by the powers-that-be, but at present it looks as if the choice of prime minister, whoever he may be, is to be made by a small group. The Toronto World claims that this group is so tiny as to be confined almost entirely to one dictator, Hon. Frank Cochrane. Unless a caucus is called, the selection cannot be called a democratic one.

In a situation which is obviously confused, there are one or two tactics tolerably clear. The appointment of Col. Hendrie as governor means that Sir Adam Beck will not likely be the prime minister. These two men have never pulled together well on the Hydro board. They are not congenial spirits. It is not probable, therefore, that Hendrie will call upon Beck as leader of the government.

If Hon. W. J. Hanna does not become prime minister, it is a public acknowledgment that his record of the last two or three years has put him out of the running. Previous to that time no one would seriously have suggested anyone else. He was acknowledged to be the strong man. The Proudfoot and Snider affairs, however, have changed all this.

The complete shake-up and re-organization of the cabinet was predicted by the liberals in the spring and given as one reason for their protest against a premature election. The opposition said that the re-organization should precede, not follow, an election, in order that the public should have an opportunity of seeing the new lineup before voting for it. As things are to-day, the province for the next few years is to be governed by a cabinet of which the public has no chance to pass judgment. For party purposes the government then and now has sacrificed the essential democratic rights of the people.

RECKLESS DRIVERS.

Two Ladies Nearly Run Over on Princess Street.

Wednesday afternoon while the rush of traffic was on to and from the fair grounds, a number of drivers of bicycles and automobiles drove along the street in a most reckless manner, and the fact that no serious accidents occurred was nothing more than miraculous.

At the corner of Princess and Bagot streets, two ladies, who were crossing over, came within an ace of being run over by a young cab driver. The driver was travelling at almost a gallop, and it was all the ladies could do to get out of the way of the horses.

John A. Shean, business manager for Annette Killerman, in "Nep-tune's Daughter," a beautiful play, is here arranging for this attraction at the Grand for three days commencing Thursday, Oct. 8th.

HAS MADE THE DISCOVERY

Of a Very High Explosive — May Manufacture Near Here.

J. Duncan Thompson, son of the J. D. Thompson, who was for years associated with the Ontario Powder company, of the city, and for the last two years with Sir Donald Mann, of the Olympic Powder company, of Deseronto has made a very valuable discovery in a new high explosive. On Tuesday afternoon he was experimenting on the big cut in Barriehill hill that is being taken by Fallon Brothers. He demonstrated the virtues of his discovery in several holes and broke to pieces a number of huge bowlders. It is claimed for this explosive that it contains no nitroglycerine, is impervious to water, requires no thawing and is free from noxious fumes, the cause of what is known as a dynamite headache. It is very powerful but can only be exploded by the correct way with a detonator.

Several local men are anxious to put up the capital and erect a plant here for its manufacture, but it is understood that Mr. Thompson has already given options to a group of men "near the city," said Mr. Thompson to a Whig representative, but he would give no information as to when the manufacture of it began.

FRONTENAC TEACHERS

Are Holding Their Annual Convention in Kingston.

At the annual convention of the Frontenac County Teachers' convention on Thursday morning Inspector Truscott gave a short talk on the Strathcona trust and the necessity of better instruction in physical culture. This item is compulsory and it must be taught. He formed a committee to look after the work in the county consisting of Mrs. F. C. Revell, Mrs. H. V. Gamsby, Misses G. McKnight and O. Horne, Miss E. Freeman, Kingston, and Mr. Stapleton, Sydenham, were appointed delegates to the O.E.A. to be held in Toronto in the spring of 1915.

S. Keyes, of the Peterboro model school staff, gave a lecture on the difficulties found in teaching pupils in the public schools.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing session: Honorary president, S. A. Truscott; president, Mrs. F. C. Revell; vice-president, Miss Eva Pike, and secretary, Miss Knight; executive, Mrs. G. Holland, Misses J. Wood and G. Harold and Mrs. H. V. Gamsby.

On Thursday night there will be an illustrated lecture given in the biological building of Queen's on "Astronomy," by Dr. Buchanna.

The other officers will meet at nine o'clock on Friday morning and lectures will be given by Dr. W. Spankie and Mr. Keyes.

IN ORDER TO SAVE CADETS.

Driver Went On the Wrong Side of the Roadway.

"Your worship, I was compelled to go on the wrong side of the street in order to prevent driving over three cadets who happened to be standing near the corner."

A citizen who made his first appearance in the police court on Thursday morning was charged with driving on the wrong side of the street, and he gave the above excuse to the magistrate.

"But why did you not stop?" asked the magistrate.

"Because I couldn't," was the reply. The magistrate is determined that the traffic by-law must be observed so imposed a fine of $1 and costs on the citizen as a reminder that in future he must keep to the right side of the road.

W. L. MACKENZIE KING

HAS BEEN CHOSEN BY ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION

To Direct an Investigation Into the Great Problem of Industrial Relations — Great Trinidad to Canada.

New York, Oct. 1.—"For the well being of mankind throughout the world," as they characterized it, the trustees of the Rockefeller foundation, to-day announced the inauguration of an investigation into the problem of industrial relations, and the appointment of W. L. Mackenzie King, former minister of labor for Canada, as its director.

In announcing the investigation, the foundation says: "In facing the problem, the Rockefeller foundation is deliberately attempting to grapple with what it believes to be the most complicated and at the same time the most urgent question of modern times; and it is for this reason that the investigation has been started. The foundation is not befuddled by the knowledge that the task has seemed hitherto well nigh hopeless, and that the literature on the subject is so vast as to be overwhelming. There may be reasons for patient approach on the subject, but no reason for inaction."

It is hoped that an investigation started on the scale of which the foundation is capable, and impartially pursued, will gradually win for itself the co-operation, not alone of employers and men of industry, but also of universities and institutions interested in social reform, but also of universities and governments through out the world.

"In going into another country and selecting as the person to have the direction of this most important work, one whose public services have gained for him an outstanding position as a leading authority on industrial problems, the trustees have shown their desire, not only to free their minds from any suspicion of interest or prejudice in the investigation of the most controversial of all problems, but also their readiness to enlist the services of the best men available, no matter where they are to be found. It is no small guarantee of the spirit in which the work of this investigation is to be carried on that Mr. King, after years of public service in handling labor problems, has, by his known impartiality and disinterested purpose, retained the good will, confidence and respect of employers and representatives of labor alike."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
Marks Company Continues to Draw Big Audiences.

A bumper house greeted the Marks Bros. company at the Grand Opera House last evening. The company presented "The Show Girl," a play showing the success and vicissitudes of an actress' life. May A. Bell Marks, as "Patricia O'Brien," delineated the success and troubles of a girl who tries to win respect in her career as a show girl, with her usual marked acidity. In the dressing-room scene with her companions she showed clearly the inner life of a girl on the stage. Frances Scarth, as "Nora O'Brien" got in a peck of trouble, but by the efforts of her sister, Patricia, she won "out." Sveta Bruns, as "Mrs. O'Brien," was well adapted to her role. They were ably assisted by Lorne Elwyn, Arthur Mathews, Edward Rowly and the balance of the company.

In the specialties Miss Marks sang two pretty songs. Edward Rowley, with her bag-pipes; and Ina Riddle, with her Scotch dances, were applauded. Frances Scarth won golden opinions by her two selections, "To the End of the World," and being loudly recalled, sang in splendid voice, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." Miss Scarth is the possessor of a rich soprano voice of great compass and flexibility.

To-night the company presents "A Child Shall Lead them."

The Germany military governor of Brussels has announced the arrest of Burgomaster Max by public poster as follows: "I have found myself obliged to suspend Burgomaster Max from his office on account of his irreconcilable attitude. He is now in honorable custody in a fortress."

There was a very good sized market on Thursday but no great change in prices. Butter seemed to be advancing slightly from 30c. to 33c. a pound. Tomatoes are still cheap, selling from 10c. to 50c. a bushel.

Major De B. Panet, of the Canadian contingent, was married in the Basica at Quebec on Tuesday. He is a brother of Lieut. Col. Panet, of the R.C.A.

The Germans again bombarded Alton and set the town afire. Fierce fighting is raging at various points along the whole line.
