WHILE SAILING ON LARGEST FRESH WATER STEAMER

John Chapman Visiting At His Home in This City, States That He Has Been in Communication With Wireless at Barriefield.

John Chapman, formerly of Kingston, is visiting his mother, 301 Albert street. He has been employed for the past six years by the Shenango Steamship company, Pittsburg, Pa., owned and operated by William P. Snider, one of the greatest steel operators in the United States.

Mr. Chapman is at present an officer on the William P. Snider, Jr., which is the latest fresh water steamer in the world, being 627 feet long and 64 feet wide, with a carrying capacity of fourteen thousand tons, and having all modern conveniences. Every room is fitted with hot and cold water, electric fans and private showers. There are four dining rooms, one being private for passengers. The cooking is all done by large electric ranges. Another and a most important feature is its wireless telegraphy, which is a great benefit in time of storms, and also for receiving orders for the docking of large ships. Through the wireless is received daily from Washington all important news such as National and American baseball scores, general war news, etc.

On two occasions Mr. Chapman has been in touch with the wireless station, situated at Barriefield, Kingston, of about six hundred miles, which only with best sending and receiving apparatus could be covered. The Canadian wireless chain of stations which cover the great lakes from Lake Superior to Montreal, have been a great aid to navigation as was shown in the terrible storm of 1913. Besides these many conveniences are several places of amusement including dancing halls and electric orchestra and swimming pool.

Mr. Chapman has had the opportunity of meeting many Americans, and ninety per cent. of them are in favor of the allies.

The steamer William P. Snider, Jr., is commanded by Captain Thomas H. Saunders, Cleveland, Ohio.
