CROWNED WITH WOUNDED.

Vienna University Is Turned Into Hospital.

Venice, via Paris, Oct. 6.—The Vienna hospitals and all temporary asylums for sick and wounded soldiers are fearfully crowded. The city council has decided to build additional wooden barracks hospitals which will be furnished with 10,000 beds. The great block of buildings comprising the university of Vienna has been given over entirely to wounded soldiers. The students are now forced to meet in improvised lecture rooms in various public buildings. The army of destitute and unemployed people in the Austrian capital is increasing daily. Thousands are threatened with starvation. The authorities estimate that it will be necessary to provide free meals for 100,000 persons daily and measures are being taken to carry this into effect. Owing to the rapid advance in the price of meat and the shortage in the supply of livestock, the city council has asked the government to permit the importation of 1,000 tons of Argentine beef.

The Intercollegiate and Big Four will open their season next Saturday, Varsity playing at McGill, while Tigers will meet Argos in Toronto.

GENERAL D'AMADE. In command of one of the French armies on the west wing, engaged in the fighting of Ypres. He it was who came to the support of General French during the retreat.

Europe's Spoiled Child.

One gracious lady the Kaiser was always terribly afraid of. This was his grandmother, Queen Victoria, of whom he stood in great awe, and who had a way of treating him like the spoiled child of Europe he is. He liked King Edward only in a very moderate degree, and the Peace-maker, who had a very effective way of showing what he thought of people, never refrained from letting the German emperor know that his attitude towards this country was foolish. The Kaiser was always very jealous of King Edward's popularity and his enormous influence in the councils of Europe. The flattering reception that King Edward received when he went to Inchtulloch to see the aged Austrian emperor made William II., nervous about a possible defection of the sympathies of his ally.

BIG RUGBY LEAGUES OPEN SEASON NEXT SATURDAY.

Ex-Kingston Players to Be the Mainstay of the Ottawa's New Rugby Team—Some Good Names For Trotter's City Rugby Clubs.

There are a lot of good names for Stanley Trotter's city league rugby clubs in the war news from Galicia.

For failing to show much enthusiasm in digesting instructions, Coach Shaughnessy sent a McGill recruit around the track ten times.

Montreal Herald:—As the American football coach would say, the Germans have not made much of a success of the forward pass.

In Hamilton the feeling is that Ross Craig will be found with Hamilton Rowing Club before the season is far advanced. The Scullers appear to be gaining ground in the Ambitious City.

Ken Williams will join the new Ottawa Rugby club sometime this week and play full back. "Jack" Williams, Stewart Robertson and Connell or Johnson will be the halves.

The Intercollegiate and Big Four will open their season next Saturday, Varsity playing at McGill, while Tigers will meet Argos in Toronto.

Montreal Gazette: With Woollett and Paisley back in uniform, the McGill team would be about complete for this season. There is at present a scarcity of halfbacks and these two men would fill the vacancies.

"Newsy" Lalonde, the star player of the Canadian team last season, is the man the Nationals expect to have captain their team in the Federal Hockey league which they are organizing to fight the National Hockey association.

Eddie Collins, of the Philadelphia club of the American league, and John Evers, of the Boston team of the National league, have been declared winners of the 1914 trophy presented by a Detroit manufacturer to the players whose services were the most valuable to their respective baseball clubs. Each will receive an automobile.

Walter Knox, of Orillia, Ont., who was engaged as trainer for the English Olympic team in all branches of athletics, is being temporarily released from his engagement, and will return to Canada by the Athenia, which sails on Wednesday. Practically all the men under his training for the great event, which was scheduled for Berlin in 1916, have now gone in for a more serious contest with the Germans, and they may pay a visit to the German capital at an even earlier date.

Ottawa Free Press:—Queen's university is anxious to bring the Feds to Kingston for an exhibition game shortly, and it is probable the locals will accept. "Jack" Williams is anxious to have his squad in good physical condition for the O.R.F.U. opening here on the 17th. He figures if he can get by with the first two games, the Feds will cap off with the Big Four winners for the Dominion title.

UNANCHORED MINES.

Halt Navigation On Adriatic and Ionian Seas.

London, Oct. 6.—The Milan correspondent of the Chronicle says that though Austria has replied to Italy's remonstrances on the subject of unanchored mines, promising to give serious attention to the matter with a view to preventing a recurrence of the disasters to Italian shipping, she has not offered any indemnity to the victims or their families. Italy will bring the question of indemnity before the Hague tribunal.

The correspondent says it is quite clear that the mines were not borne towards the Italian littoral, either by stormy weather or by pure chance. The ministry of marine has found itself compelled to bring all mercantile and passenger navigation to a standstill over the whole area of the Adriatic and the Ionian Seas. Austrian derelict torpedoes already have been fished up as far north as Chioggia and as far south as Taranto and Brindisi.

A discovery which has caused particularly painful stupefaction and pre-occupation to the military authorities is that whereas Austrian mines are normally fixed to the sea bottom by means of a cable terminating in a small anchor, not a single drifting mine among those just dredged has any anchor at all. Again not one had its full length of cable. Indeed, it was found that all had been deliberately severed with a wire cutter, and all at exactly the same level.

WILL GO TO SPAIN To Better Relations Between That Country and Vatican.

Rome, Oct. 6.—The Idea Nationale, the new organ of the nationalist party, says that besides Foreign Minister San Giuliano, the minister of the treasury, Signor Rubini will probably resign, although Premier Salandra is making efforts to avoid a ministerial crisis. The Idea Nationale says that Henry Del Val will probably be appointed archbishop of Madrid, which is now only a bishopric under the see of Toledo, but will be raised to an archbishopric. Cardinal Merry Del Val's mission will be to strengthen the relations between Spain and the Vatican.

No two things in the world seem further apart than the artistic temperament and a bank account. Make hay while the sun shines and you won't be so apt to make trouble when it rains. When a woman has no heart, don't lead one, or she'll trump it. Only a few years ago married women felt sorry for spinsters. It's better to be ignored than bored.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial-Review IN SATIN AND LACE.

The styles of 1930 and 1914 are cleverly combined in this dinner frock. It is carried out in lace flouncing combined with soft blue satin. The flounces are superimposed on a foundation of delicate cream satin. Required to make the dress are 2 yards of 36-inch satin for the skirt foundation, 3 yards of 36-inch satin for the shirred basque and 7 yards of flouncing 16 inches wide. One-half yard of 18-inch all over lace is needed for the revers and standing collar. The waist is more difficult to make than the skirt, and in cutting it is necessary to get the sash and sleeve from an open width of material. The back, outer front and collar are cut from a fold of satin. After the lining is made, which is so simple a process that it need not be repeated here, the standing collar is added to the neck edge as notched. Gather sash between double "T" perforations, adjust, bringing large "O" perforation at lower edge to corresponding perforation in lining front and stitch gathers along dart. Gather the outer basque of satin along the shoulder and under-arm edges between double "T" perforations. Close seams as notched. Center front indented by small "o" perforations. Turn under slashed edge on small "o" perforations. Sew revers to front as notched. Sew collar to neck edge as notched. Arrange outside on lining, centers even; stitch lower edges together. Bring small "o" perforations in outer back to corresponding small "o" perforations in lining and tack at center-back. The sash in back as illustrated. Delightful for evening wear is this frock in cream colored lace and delicate blue satin. The color scheme may be varied, but nothing is more fashionable than blue and white just now. Pictorial Review Basque pattern No. 5884. Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust. Siles, No. 5882. Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 waist. Price, 15 cents.

GREATEST MILITARY POWER. 26,000 IRISH RECRUITS.

One Achievement May Be Put to Credit of Germany.

London, Oct. 6.—The more closely the present struggle is mediated, says an editorial in the Observer, "the plainer appear two conclusions—that the allies have increasing assurance of final success, and that their task may be more formidable than heretofore realized. Great Britain may be required to take more gigantic measures—military, financial and technical—than the most extreme suggestions have yet contemplated. The longer the conflict lasts the more surely will it extend and consolidate the organization of this country as one of the greatest military powers in the world. That would, in one sense, be perhaps the greatest of all the German achievements."

The Callous Kaiser.

The German Kaiser, with an almost incredible callousness, has had the leisure of mind and the want of sense of decency and compassion to commission a painter to paint the fields of blood which he has created! But the world turns from such scenes with loathing. If he wants subjects for his painters; let him look at that long line of terror-stricken and we-begone refugees who fly from his presence and that of his soldiery as from a pestilence. Let them be painted in all their anguish. And one could wish no more terrible punishment for the Kaiser than that they should haunt his soul for ever, or till remorse has purged his soul.—Public Opinion.

Have Joined British Army—Proportion Is Creditable.

Dublin, Oct. 6.—The number of new recruits for the British army obtained in Ireland amounts to about 26,000. More than 8,000 of these are from the Dublin district, 4,000 from Cork and district and the remainder from Belfast. Not all the Belfast recruits are unionists, nor are all the southern recruits nationalists. The Belfast nationalists claim to have furnished 5,000 of the Belfast recruits, which number relative to their total population, is larger than the proportion supplied by the unionists.

Many of the southern recruits belong to football and athletic club classes. There is not such a rush to join the colors from the agricultural districts as was anticipated, as there is a lack of men of available age. Emigration has left Ireland with a much greater proportion of the old and very young than there is in England while she already has a much larger proportion of men in the army than has England.

John Redmond and his colleagues are to address recruiting meetings in various parts of Ireland, and their appeals are expected to be fruitful. At many meetings, public bodies have endorsed Mr. Redmond's manifesto calling the Irish to arms and if his address to have the Irish form a separate brigade or corps like the Welsh are doing is followed, it is thought by the recruiting officers that the response will be greater.

How to Get Rid of Dyspepsia

Don't Rely on Medicine; Don't Go on a Frenk Diet; Camomile and Aniseed Usually All That are Needed.

PHYSICIAN GIVES GOOD ADVICE. "If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, belching, distress after eating, heartburn or any other stomach trouble due to hyperacidity, (the usual cause of stomach troubles), you should take no medicine to act upon the stomach itself. That is positively not the way to cure the trouble. Again, you should not half starve yourself by going without the nutritious food that you need to rebuild waste tissues. Some foods are not good for people, even when in perfect health—very rich, sweet, highly seasoned dishes. Avoid these, but eat fairly substantial meals of plain food. Eat slowly. Even if you drink nothing but water, you should not drink with meals. Drink before and after eating. Do not take pepsin or other artificial digestants. If you follow the foregoing simple instructions it is probable that you will not need any medicine at all, except, if you want to call it a medicine, a little aniseed after meals. The best aniseed is ordinary bisulphated magnesia which can be purchased at any drug store. This is not to act upon the stomach, but on the contents of the stomach. The aniseed, as you can learn by consulting your dictionary or encyclopedia, is merely to neutralize or counteract the excess acid so the stomach can digest the food normally. Take a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia in a little cold or hot water after each meal. You should get immediate relief, even if your case is severe. Careful, moderate eating and the use of bisulphated magnesia should put your stomach in normal condition in a short time; if you have not allowed dyspepsia to advance to the extreme stage of developing stomach cancer."
