HENRY BURNS MEETS DEATH BY WALL FALLING.

Deceased Was a Mason Contractor, and a Son of Mrs. R. Burns, Union Street, Kingston.

Very sad news was received by Mrs. R. Burns, 61 Union street west, on Tuesday afternoon, when she learned that her son, Henry, had met with an accident in Watertown, N.Y., which caused his death. The deceased was of middle age and for many years has resided in Watertown, where he was a mason contractor. The late Mr. Burns had finished the erection of the Watertown W.M.C.A. building and was engaged in the erection of another large structure, a wall of which collapsed and inflicted internal as well as external injuries that brought about death after a few hours.

The deceased was born in Kingston and spent many years here, where he was widely known. The late Mr. Burns was an Anglican in religion. Those surviving are his wife and three sons, Robert, Henry and Donald, all residing in the family residence, 529 Frontenac street, Watertown. Deceased's mother and two sisters, Misses Margaret and Olive, live at 61 Union street west, Kingston. Another sister, Mrs. J. R. Moore, lives in Toronto.

FOR DEATH OF JOHN OSKEY BY ELECTRIC SHOCK.

Mrs. Oskey is Suing Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Company and the Corporation of Kingston.

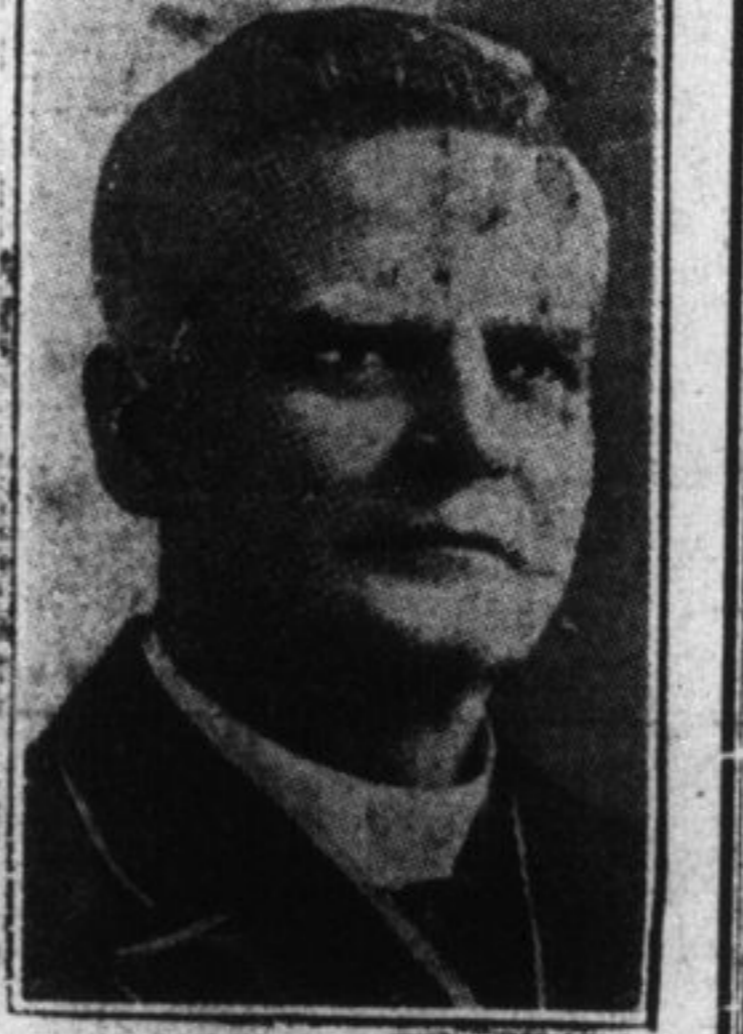

In the high court at noon, Wednesday, before Justice Britton, the case was opened of Julia Oskey vs. the corporation of Kingston and the Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Co. The plaintiff claims $10,000 damages by reason of the death of her husband, John Oskey, who was an employee of the tile works. His death occurred as the result of an accident at the works on Sunday, March 29th last, and the plaintiff claims that negligence on the part of the defendants caused his death.

Cunningham & Mudie appeared for Mrs. Oskey; Mr. Phelan, of Robinson, for the Godfrey & Phelan, of Robinson, for the Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Co.; and J. L. Whiting, and D. A. Givens for the corporation of Kingston.

A fact revealed in the examination of Mrs. Oskey was that her husband was a Hungarian, also the witness, and that they had been married in Hungary. The assistant general manager of the tile works, Mr. McCabe, was a witness, and he told of the death of Oskey, which had been caused when he was holding an electric lamp with an extension cord. He was killed almost instantly by the shock and never spoke. Witness was making some repairs to the engine, and it was necessary to have a light to see what he was doing.

Asked for a probable cause of the accident, witness said that the lining of the socket on the end of the cord might have been damp. Then again it might have been that there was a higher voltage than the ordinary 110 volts. If a handle had been on the lamp he did not think Oskey would have met death. Even with a handle, it was his opinion that the higher voltage would have caused death. It was his opinion that his death had been caused by a voltage higher than 110.

Witness was still on the stand when the court adjourned for an hour at 1 p.m.

WEDDED AT BREWER'S MILLS.

Joseph Carly, of Kingston, and Miss Beatrice Murphy.

Brewer's Mills, Oct. 7.—A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Barnaby's church, Brewer's Mills, at 9.30 o'clock Thursday morning, Oct. 1st, with Rev. Fr. Crowley officiating, when Miss Beatrice Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, of Seely's Bay, was united in marriage to Joseph Carly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carly, Elgin. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Verna Murphy, sister of the bride. Beautiful selections were rendered by the choir during the nuptial mass. The bride looked charming in a blue silk with lace trimmings, with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of white asters and lily of the valley. She was assisted by the groom's sister, Miss Mary Carly, who was dressed in a blue suit and hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of pink asters and lily of the valley. The groom was assisted by Frank McAvoy, of Seely's Bay.

After the ceremony the bridal party motored to the bride's home, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast awaited them. The happy couple left for Ottawa and other eastern points mid showers of rice and confetti. The bride's travelling suit was navy blue serge. After they return they will take up residence in Kingston, where the groom is a teacher in the Regiopolis college.

The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace set with pearls; to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet; to the groomsmen a gold pin; to the organist an opal ring. Many beautiful and costly presents testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held.

Made in Canada.

A number of the local merchants have had signs printed with "Made in Canada" on them, and on Wednesday morning several of them had the signs displayed in their windows. It shows that they are making an active bid for the trade that Germany had with Canada before the war, and are showing to the public that they are patriotic enough not to sell foreign goods at such a time as this. The old motto, "Keep your money in circulation at home by buying goods made in Canada," should be followed.

Joseph Longmore, of Camden East, underwent a critical operation in the general hospital on Tuesday, but is recovering nicely. His son, Dr. H. B. Longmore, of Campbellford, came to Kingston on Tuesday to see him.
