Told In Twilight

On Monday last Mrs. Albert F. Elmer (formerly Miss Harriett Samwell) received for the first time since her marriage at the residence of her mother, Mrs. T. J. Lockhart, 133 Union street. The pretty bride, who received with her mother, was attired in her wedding gown of white satin, trimmed with seed-pearls and princess lace, and wore a corsage bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Lockhart was becomingly gowned in white and black voile over satin and wore a corsage bouquet of purple asters. The drawing-room was prettily decorated with white and pink asters and ferns. In the dining-room the tea table was centered with a silver mounted mirror, standing on a handsome lace centrepiece and upon which stood a cut glass vase of white roses and asters, surrounded by white tulle. Mrs. J. S. R. Donaldson-poured tea, while Mrs. Joseph Newman cut ices. The prettily gowned girls who assisted in serving were: Miss Florrie Elmer, Miss Gertrude Craig and Miss May Funnell. Little Miss May Lockhart, dressed in white embroidery with tango sash, opened the door. Mrs. Elmer will receive with her mother every fourth Monday during the season.

"PROHIBITED LIST" MEMBER

Claims He Got Liquor At Two Of the Hotels.

Magistrate Farrell will have two liquor cases to deal with at the police court on Tuesday morning. A member of the "prohibited list" claims that he secured liquor at two local hotels, and the proprietors of these two hotels have been served with a summons to appear in court.

It is stated that one hotel admits having sold the liquor to the man on the list but admits that it was entirely a mistake on their part, and that as soon as they found out the mistake called up the license inspector and notified him about the matter. In the other case the charge is denied.

GIVEN MONTH IN JAIL

Man Who Abused His Wife Was Punished by the Magistrate

Magistrate Farrell has no sympathy for wife-beaters. In police court, Saturday, a citizen who has been drinking very heavily for a couple of weeks was sent to jail for a month without the option of a fine. He was charged with vagrancy, but his wife complained that he assaulted her on Friday night. The wife is a hardworking woman with two children. Constables Arniel and Gottor arrested the man at the request of the wife.
