THE ISSUES INVOLVED

PROF. JAMES CAPPON WRITES OF THE WAR.

What Germany Has Forced Upon all Europe, Britain—Free People Must Band to Destroy Such an Autocracy.

Dean James Cappon, of Queen's, concludes an article on the war in Queen's Quarterly in these words: There may be some room for doubt and discussion as to the causes of this war, but there can be little as to the great issues it involves. The ideals of Germany at present are those of a military aristocracy. It is to carry out those ideals that the strenuous Prussian discipline has extended its iron hand all over the land. Those ideals involve, just like those of old Rome, the reduction of all possible rivals to a condition of helpless subordination; they involve the practical suppression of the independence of small nationalities; they involve a form of military rule and privilege dangerous to civil freedom. The triumph of the two Germanic powers with their Magyar comrade would mean the cessation of that kind of democratic progress which gives the peoples a voice in the decision of war and peace and in the making of their own destinies. I would threaten, I think, all that kind of progress which is based on the general public opinion of Europe. Of course, I do not mean to say that such ideals are consciously accepted by the German people as a whole, but only that they lie on the road that Germany is taking. German liberals would naturally deny this and point to their struggles and the growth of the socialist vote. But there is the experience of thirty years to show that they are practically helpless in many of her courses. There is much unreal talk and superficiality in our modern humanitarianism, no doubt, but none of us would like to change it for this new type of military despotism which is seeking supremacy in the world. The present war has many aspects of racial, military and commercial rivalry, but its most fateful aspect is that it is a struggle between humanitarian ideals and those of a military autocracy. The open contempt for international law which Germany has already shown in Belgium and elsewhere merely lifts an edge of the curtain.

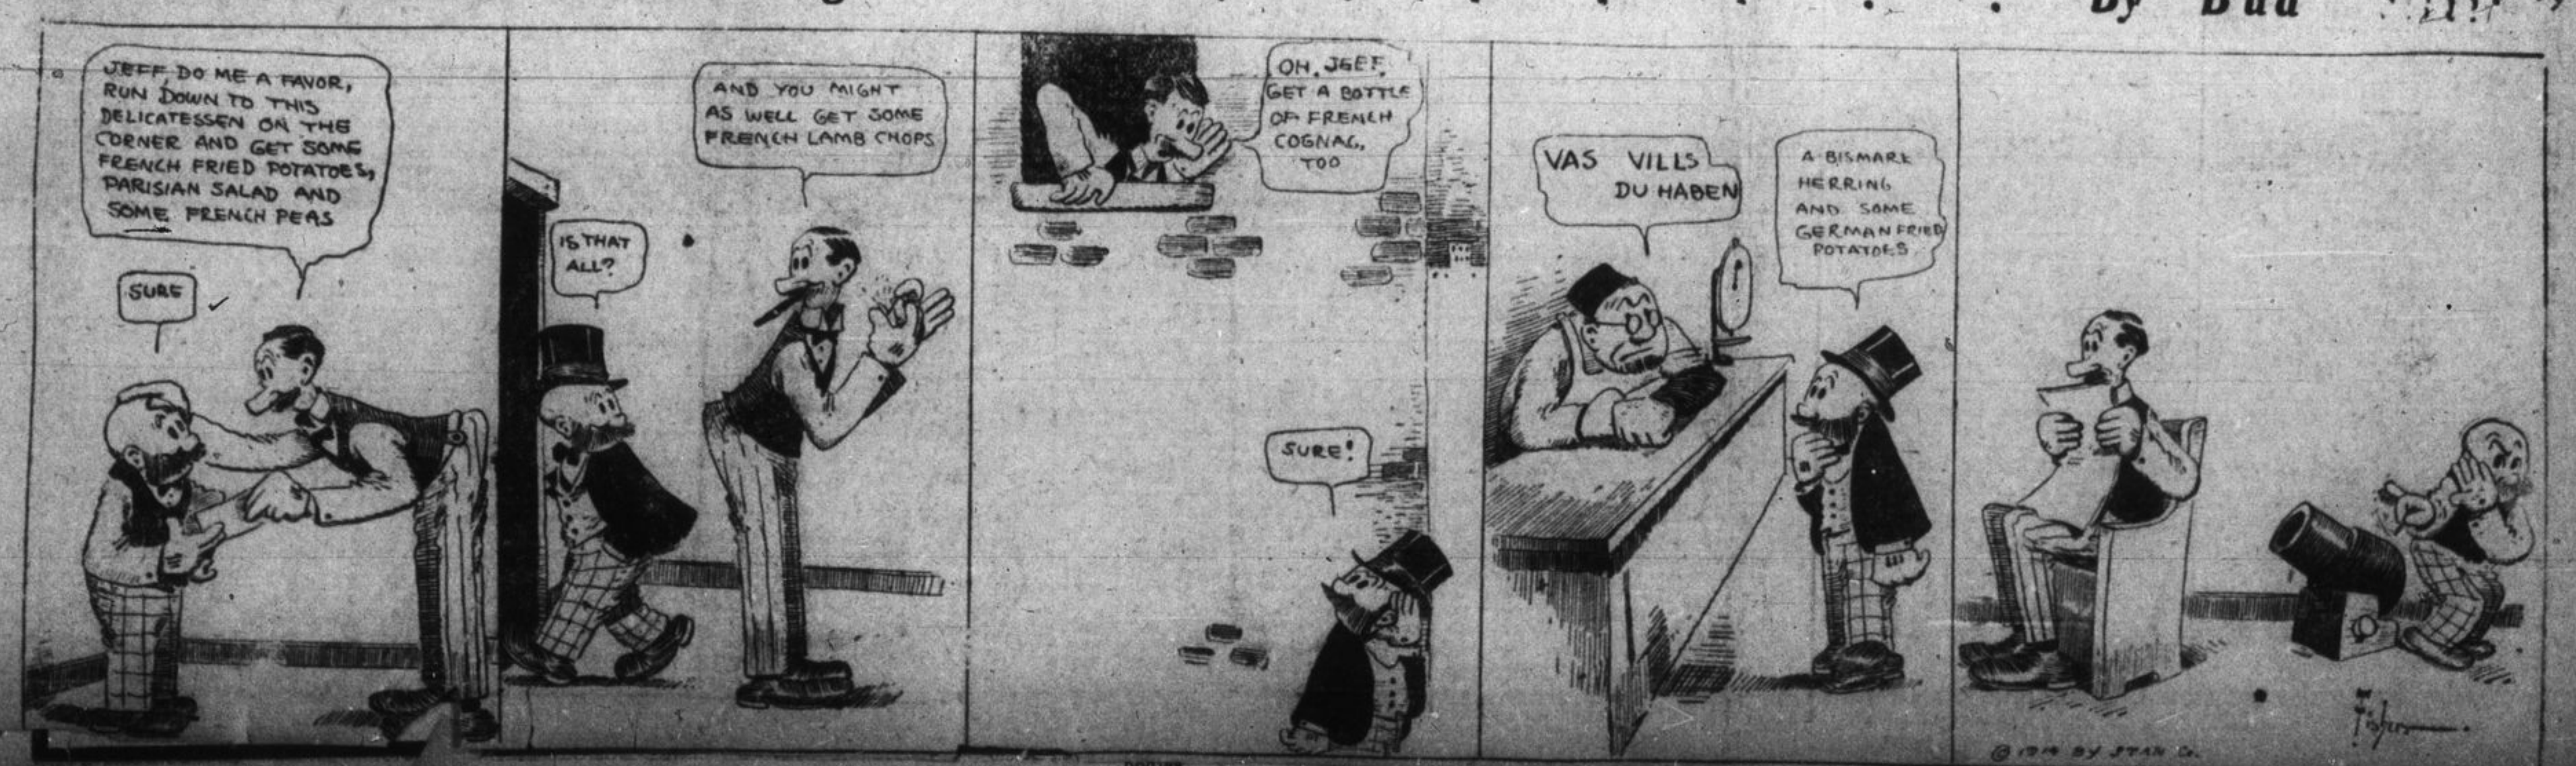

Germany has been aggressive enough in a practical sense, but her greatest aggression has been a moral and psychological one on the spirit of Europe, and consists in that universal militarization which turns a nation into an armed camp as ready for war and conquest as the Hunnish and Gothic hordes of the early centuries. She has forced all Europe except Britain, into that system, and if she succeeds in the present war, it will be regarded as a model on the world. America will remain long exempt. A military autocracy is always a dangerous neighbor to free constitutional peoples governed by orators. There is a materialistic reality and truth about it. It is training and preparing while the other is talking party talk. It is the case of Philip of Macedonia and Demosthenes over again, only that the world has grown too large to be easily mastered. But all free peoples must band together to destroy such an autocracy, otherwise it will destroy them. My estimate of what the triumph of Germany in the present conflict would involve may seem exaggerated, but I fear it is only too much in accordance with the history of all military autocracies I know of. But it is a good time to remember that the British empire fought a harder fight a century ago and came out in the end victorious.

DIED ON WAY TO CHURCH.

Miss Clehahan Was Stricken Down With Paralysis.

Sunday evening, on her way to the First Congregational church, Miss Mary Ann Clehahan was stricken with a paralytic stroke at the corner of Clarence and Wellington streets and passed away in a chair in Dr. J. Quigley's office. She was born in the city fifty-four years ago, and for the last twenty years, had been living with her late husband, Dr. S. N. Jackson's family first in Barre, Vermont, and then in Burlington, Vermont. The late Rev. Dr. Jackson was twenty years ago pastor of the First Congregational church here.

Deceased came to city, on Wednesday last, on her annual month's vacation with relatives and on Sunday intended to go as usual to her church for the thanksgiving services. She was living while in the city at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frederick Payne, 47 Main street. Beside her sister there is left to mourn the less three brothers Thomas and John of the city and William in Albany, N.Y.

FIREMEN HAD THREE RUS

Gas Jets Were the Cause of Two of the Alarms Sent in.

The firemen were given three calls over the week-end. Gas jets were the cause of two of the alarms. At 10.10 o'clock on Saturday night, a call was received from the home of J. W. Willey, at 263 Earl street, where a gas jet in a bedroom was placed too near the ceiling and set fire to it. Very slight damage was done.

At 5.33 p. m. Sunday the wind blew a pair of curtains against a gas jet at the home of James Swift, King street, and a pair of curtains and blind were destroyed, but no other damage was done.

At 5.45 p. m., Sunday, sparks from the chimney set fire to the shingles on a home occupied by a resident named Frizzell on Charles street. At this fire, there was also but slight damage.

Death of Mrs. John Hunter.

The death occurred on Saturday morning of Mrs. Hunter, widow of the late John Hunter, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pettit, 75 York street, with whom she had been living. Deceased's husband died seven years ago. She is survived by a family of three, all of whom were at her bedside when she passed away. They are Mrs. Pettit, George Hunter, Victoria street, and J. Hunter, superintendent of the Orphan's Home.

The only one some men seem to have for heads is to butt in.

AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

Special Harvest Thanksgiving Service On Sunday.

On Sunday, special harvest thanksgiving services were held at St. James' church, with a good attendance both morning and evening. The church was decorated with fruits, flowers and vegetables, which were afterwards devoted to charitable institutions.

HAD QUITE AN EXPERIENCE

Party of Local Sportsmen Who Were Out On Holiday

With the return of the cold weather, local sportsmen are happy, as with it comes duck hunting. A local party of sportsmen who spent Thanksgiving Day, a short distance below the high banks on the Rideau and down near Kingston Mills report a scarcity of ducks.

LITTLE KINGSTON GIRL

Is Very Clever With the Use of a Needle.

Kingston has a little girl, who is exceptionally clever with a needle in fancy work. She is Mabel Roach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roach, 83 George street. Doing fancy work is her "hobby," and she works out all her ideas with the ease of an elderly person at the work. Just recently Miss Mabel turned out a very handsome cushion, which has been much admired by all who have seen it. There is some exceedingly fine work on it, and for a person so young, certainly reflects great credit for her. She likes the work, and spends much of her time at it.

FINANCIAL MATTERS.

Organizing $150,000,000 Cotton Pool—Commercial Notes.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Although details of the plan launched in St. Louis for a $150,000,000 pool to aid the cotton producers had not reached the Treasury Department, it was understood that it will meet the approval of secretary of the federal reserve board. Mr. McAdoo received a telegram from Festus J. Wade, of St. Louis, announcing that he would send as soon as possible a statement setting forth the plan in detail.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 12.—Seven million five hundred thousand dollars was fixed as the part of the proposal $150,000,000 pool for the financing of the cotton crop that is to be raised among St. Louis banks and business houses. Sixteen wholesale and manufacturing firms of St. Louis have pledged $100,000 each to the cotton fund.

Three Paper Mills.

Watertown, Oct. 12.—Announcement is made of the reorganization of the Remington group of paper mills. Under the reorganization plan the three concerns making up the group, the Norwood Paper company, the Remington-Martin company and the Raymondville Paper company will be conducted by one company to be known as the Remington Paper and Power company. The assets of which will be $3,000,000, consisting of $1,575,000 of stock, and a refunding bond issue of $1,500,000.

Schwab Leaves Directorate.

New York, Oct. 12.—Charles M. Schwab resigned as a director of the American Locomotive company to devote his time, he said, to affairs of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, of which he is president.

Sardine Business.

St. John, Oct. 12.—The Canadian sardine factory at St. Andrew's which cost over half a million dollars, and which had been closed down for over a year owing to financial affairs, was recently sold to the Bank of Nova Scotia for $270,000. It is expected that this factory will open under new auspices. The sardine industry is presently prosperous, the catch being good and prices profitable.

Calgary Accepts Offer.

Calgary, Oct. 12.—The council has accepted an offer to sell $250,000 of City of Calgary bonds in London at 93, a price that will net the city 93 1/2 here.

Approved A Bond Issue.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—At the annual meeting of Granby Copper the stockholders approved an issue of $960,000 series "A," convertible 6 per cent. bonds, to take care of the unsecured notes which fell due last year.

Defer Dividend.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 12.—At the meeting of the directors of the Steel company of Canada yesterday it was decided to defer the payment of the dividend on preferred stock until such time as business warranted it.

Financial Notes.

The Hollinger company, had $1,042,957 at surplus on September 9th. This was an increase of $62,821 as compared with the surplus on August 12th.

One of the interesting features of the annual meeting of the C.P.R. shareholders, was the election of K. L. Ross as director in succession to the late Lord Strathcona.

The British toy-making trade is making a determined effort to establish their industry in this country on such a permanent basis that German competition in years to come will be found to have vanished.

FOOTBALL GAME

The Collegiates Trimmed the Argonauts In Saturday.

The junior city football league opened at the Athletic grounds on Saturday afternoon before a large crowd of people with bright weather and a wind of no benefit to either team. The collegiates defeated the Argonauts by a score of 20 to 6 by two drops over, four touches and four rouges. The defeat of the Argos was due wholly to their lack of practice as the material is there for a winning team. The K.C.C. team have been practising with the first team steadily and this was decidedly to their advantage. The line-up was:— Collegiates:—G. Stewart, flying wing; H. Wheatley, B. Barnum, S. Toland, W. Paul, quarter, V. Minnes, J. Campbell, S. Simmons, scrimmage; C. McConville, inside wing; M. Abernethy, inside wing; C. Baiden, J. Walsh, middle wing; G. Cruse, W. Nickle, outside wing; Argonauts:—W. Cook, flying wing; V. Kane, J. Ceandion, P. Macdonnell, halves; J. Macdonnell, quarter; J. Rea, M. Smith, J. Somerville, scrimmage; W. James, N. Edgar, inside wings; D. Macdonald, A. Stinson, middle wings; R. Savage, E. Smith, outside wings.

Cadets Get Commissions.

Among the gentlemen cadets from the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., appointed second lieutenants in the British army is A. McGoun, who has been given a commission in the King's Own Royal Lancaster Regiment. He is a son of David Mackay McGoun, Montreal.

Clifton M. Horsey, new transport officer of the Fifth Royal Highlanders, Montreal, is a son of Hayden Horsey, London, manager of the Dominion bank. Mr. Horsey is a graduate of the Royal Military College, and until recently was in the science department of McGill University.

Walkerville will spend $25,000 on purchase of its street lighting system prior to Hydro-electric installation.

Four hundred army remounts stampeded from West Toronto and gave much trouble. Most were recaptured.

W. H. Sharpe, M.P., was badly scorched about the face and arms at Manitou gas well.

King Charles of Roumania died during a heated controversy with his German cruiser Karlsruhe in the Caribbean Sea.

POLICE MADE RAID

Seven Drunks Gathered In On Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon a complaint was made about four drunks lying in a yard on Ontario street near Tete de Pont Barracks. Constables Naylor and Jenkins made a visit to the yard, and there they found four young men, sound asleep, and under the influence of liquor. A whiskey bottle, with a few drinks left, evidently for an "eye opener" was found on the ground near the sleeping men. The four were aroused and taken to the lock-up. Just previous to this round-up Constable Jenkins arrested a drunk and shortly afterwards Constable Nicholson got another man, the famous "We are Seven." Outside of drunks the police had a very quiet week-end.

British Nurses In Men's Dress.

Ostend, Oct. 13.—The mail steamer Marie Henriette is here with the Red Cross ambulance of the British field hospital, composed of thirty-two persons, including nurses, doctors, and ambulance men. They have with them the most complete equipment. Their stores included hundreds of bales of compressed hay for their two horses. They possess six motor cars, one of which was presented by the queen, and provisions for six months. The nurses are clad in male attire and wear spurs. Most of them have husbands in the British army.

Famous Monk Shot.

Vienna, Oct. 13.—The press reports that Grigori Rasputin, the famous Russian monk and the trusted adviser of the czar, has been shot dead when leaving church by a Russian law student with revolutionary tendencies.

An attempt was made on Rasputin's life two months ago by a woman named Guseva.

Mrs. J. A. Jones, of London, Ont., the wife of a volunteer, has announced that she will not accept a cent from the war relief fund so long as she is able to go out washing and scrubbing.

After many days' searching a British and French cruiser found the German cruiser Karlsruhe in the Caribbean Sea.
