ALLIES MAKING READY FOR TITANIC CONFLICT

The Germans Are Close to the Channel Seaports.

TO FIGHT ON THE LEVEL

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED OVER OUTLOOK.

The Casualties Promise To Be Terrible — The Battleground is Not Announced — Cavalry Will Be of Immense Value In The Conflict.

Dunkirk, Oct. 14.—The German advance continues. Bicycle and cavalry skirmishers have been encountered less than a score of miles from channel seaports. The hurried massing of the allies' forces indicates the near approach of a titanic conflict.

Lines between the allies and Germans have been, already, tentatively felt out by each other but as yet no general engagement has been fought. Casualties will be terrible in this impending battle. The country is monotonously flat, almost without cover. Censorship prohibits the transmission of even the approximate location of the battleground chosen by the allies, at which they will attempt to force back the invaders, but it can be stated that entrenchments have already been made ready for this conflict. Realizing the immense importance of cavalry in a battle of this character, special reinforcements of a large detachment of this branch have been received.

Whistles For Use Of Wounded. Paris, Oct. 14.—Dr. Monnier, a Paris surgeon, is urging the authorities to provide every soldier with a whistle for use when wounded to call stretcher-bearers. The surgeon cites the case of one artilleryman who lay for sixty hours in the battlefield with insufficient strength to call ambulance men passing near.

STEACY-SULLIVAN WEDDINGS

Celebrated on Wednesday Morning By Archbishop Spratt.

At the Notre Dame chapel on Wednesday morning, at 9.30 o'clock, one of the limestone city's charming young ladies, Miss Teresa G. Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, 87 King street, was united in marriage by his grace, Archbishop Spratt, to B. Noble Steacy, eldest son of Edward T. Steacy.

The happy couple were attended by Miss Mary Sullivan, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and James Swift as groomsmen. The wedding was of a private and quiet nature, only the immediate relatives of both families being present when the nuptial knot was tied.

Married in Montreal.

A very quiet wedding, which will interest many friends in Kingston, took place at St. George's church, Montreal, last Saturday morning, when Anne Winifred Ruth Cotter, of Kingston, daughter of the late James L. Cotter, of the Hudson Bay company, was united in marriage to Major Frederick Charles Austin, son of E. B. M. Austin, Montreal, by the Ven. Archbishop Paterson-Smythe. The bride was unattended and wore a navy blue travelling suit with black velvet hat and corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. After the ceremony Major and Mrs. Austin left for New York to spend a short honeymoon.

Married in Ottawa.

A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, in St. Andrew's church, Ottawa, when Miss Constance Margaret Low was united in marriage to Harold George Drinkwater, Ottawa, by Rev. Dr. J. W. Herridge. The bride, unattended, was given away by her father, Edward Low. She wore her travelling suit of amethyst cloth with panna, velvet hat to match trimmed with pansies, and a mustard-colored moire blouse with white chiffon vest. Her corsage bouquet was orchids and lilies of the valley. After the ceremony the guests returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a small reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Drinkwater left on the 3.30 o'clock train for Montreal.

Collecting Funds.

The executive of the Y.W.C.A. is promoting a canvass to secure the sum of $1,500 to meet the expense of needed improvements on the building on the corner of Johnson and Clergy streets. The third story of the building is being equipped for use, and a new roof has been found to be absolutely essential. Already Frederick Welch had raised $1,100 from citizens, in large and small amounts.

WAR BULLETINS.

A sharp encounter between British and German cavalry thirty miles south of Ostend today was followed by the retirement of Germans.

French-British forces captured several German positions at the point of the bayonet today, and gained much ground south of Lille.

Increasing activity among the reserve ships in the navy yards at Portsmouth seems to indicate starting operations in the North Sea.

The London War Office states that Ostend will be defended there, which have been considerably reinforced.

The German advance cavalry brigades marching on Ostend, reported turned south near Bruges. British consul will leave Ostend.

Montenegrins defied a large Austrian force on Tuesday near Sarajevo.

Reported that heavy German artillery was removed from Antwerp to Belfort on the left wing.

Announced officially in Berlin that the Russian cruiser sunk recently was by a German torpedo boat, not by a submarine.

It is reported that Ostend has been taken by the Germans, but there is no confirmation.

Cossack-Russians took three thousand German prisoners and several guns in a brilliant hand-to-hand fight in Poland.

Russian official reports now say that siege guns are still reducing Przemyśl forts, though the main Russian force has passed on.

The London war office claims that the allies have won a victory near Ghent.

It is stated in Tokio that the kaiser has advised Kian-Chau to surrender.
