

YEAR 81, NO. 240

THE MAN ON WATCH

Young men of the cap and gown, who pillage on Princess street, should beware, says the Lampman, lest German "culture" be not the only "culture" held up to question.

The announcement that farmers will have vegetables on their hands this coming winter may not cause a feeling of joy to the agriculturists, but those who do not raise crops but consume them, just feel tickled over it. With potatoes selling for thirty cents a bushel, there should be gladness in the ranks of the Kingston Irish.

The new Children's Aid society inspector might pay heed to the lamentations of the poor little miles of humanity that are taken to the moving picture shows late at night by inconsiderate motorists. Show girls may have their troubles, but the show ladies also have theirs and are crying for legislation to make seven "nude" put them to bed at seven o'clock, instead of hauling them out to the "movies."

The Lampman has always been convinced that it is merely a matter of time before Germany receives the knock-out blow. The fight may go twenty rounds, but the allies have the blow that will make the Kaiser take the count. However, now that Col. Sam Hughes has gone across the ocean to the seat of hostilities, accompanied by his trusty steed, in the shape of an automobile, the Lampman sees a quicker finish for Germany. With Hughes, Starr and Kitchener at the helm, it's good-night to the Germans.

There are great lamentations in upper town. The students are back and are stealing pussy cats by the score. When owners refuse to sell, the students commander after dark. Housewives and cat fanciers are up in arms. The Lampman would not like to stand in the shoes of the men who teach animal biology for they have much to answer for.

Judging by the number of officers it has appointed, it looks to the Lampman as if the Kingston W.C.T.U., is going to do something big this season. It might come to the aid of the show babies, who wait when taken to the "movies."

If all the town councillors held the same estimate of themselves as Christopher J. Graham, they would hide themselves away like the German fleet. "The worst councillor ever," is C. J.'s description of Kingston's municipal body after first-hand observation and careful diagnosis, and the Victoria ward critic claims to be a Christian and a truthful man. His view is supported to some extent by another councilman who told the Lampman that there

Good Sleep Good Health

Exhausted Nerves Were Fully Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When the nerve force expended in the day's work and in the act of living is not replenished by restful sleep at night you have cause to be alarmed, as physical bankruptcy stares you in the face. This letter directs you to the most satisfactory cure for sleeplessness.

Mr. Dennis Mackin, Maxton, Sask., writes:—"I have just finished using the sixth box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I must say that when I commenced using it my nerves were so bad that I could scarcely get any sleep. I would lie in bed nearly all night without sleep, and anyone who has this trouble knows the misery of sleepless nights. The Nerve Food helped me from the start, and has built up my nervous system wonderfully. I now enjoy good, sound sleep and instead of feeling tired in the morning I am strong and healthy, and well fitted for my daily work."

At a joint sitting of the party leaders it was decided unanimously to support the government's programme. ENEMY SHORT OF FOOD.

Prisoners Taken Daily Are Absolutely Famished.

Paris, Oct. 17.—The capture of another big German convoy, the second within a fortnight, will, it is said, render the situation critical at several points in the north. As before, the feat was accomplished by the cavalry, which has done so much lately to harass the Germans in this way.

The prisoners, brought in daily, seem to be just as famished as were General von Kluck's men when he was rushing headlong onto Paris. Diaries found on the bodies of German soldiers show that ever since the retreat from the Aisne began the Germans have been increasingly short of food.

THE TEACHINGS OF CHRIST

German Priest Advocates Murder of Women and Children.

London, Oct. 17.—The Standard publishes the following from its Copenhagen correspondent: "A member of the German Reichstag, a priest by the name of Heim, writes to the Vossische Zeitung: 'It is true that our soldiers shot every French and Belgian scoundrel—men, women and children alike—and that they destroyed their habitations, but anybody who regards this as contrary to the teachings of Christianity only shows that he does not possess the faintest understandings of the true spirit of Christ.'"

What words or names do the figures spell? The magic circle will tell you.

Each number in the words called for above stands for a letter of the alphabet. When all the numbers in each word are found and placed in proper relation you will have the word spelled out. What words or names do the figures spell? That is the puzzle for bright girls and boys.

How to solve this great puzzle

Look at the magic circle and you will see that each circle has a number and contains a certain number of dots. In the words above each number stands for a corresponding letter of the magic circle. The solution of the puzzle is to find each letter in the alphabet. You find the letter by counting the number of dots in the circle. For example, if the number 4 contains one dot because 'A' is the first letter of the alphabet, 'D' is represented by two dots because it is the second letter of the alphabet, 'G' is represented by three dots because it is the third letter of the alphabet, and so on. In the puzzle you will see that the first letter in the first word is '2'. It is represented by one dot and this means that the letter 'A' is the first letter in the alphabet. Now find the letters represented by the other numbers, and send your answers in to us.

The boys and girls, fully equipped with answers are correct or incorrect, will be awarded the following:
