On the con care, it vanot until the last ten minutes of the game" that McGill overcame th Queen's men. At three-quarte time, the score was a tie, 7-7, and after a minute's play in he las quarter, Queen's nosed ahead scoring a rouge. It looked as Queen's was going to win out bu misfortune followed, after Hazlet dropped the ball when tackled nea his 35-yard line and McGill got po: session. A couple more fumbles t Queen's, who till then had player almost a faultless game, were take advantage of by McGill, and thre rouges were the result. Then Mont gomery cinched the game by goin; a forty yard run and got over for

To Laing, the brilliant half bac. of McGill, belong the honors of th contest, for he was the most effective player on the field. His run th whole length of the field, from be geld. hind his goal posts in the third quar . The new score board was much apter, and the scoring of a try, which he converted, was one of the finest pieces of play ever seen on a Kingston gridiron. Hazlett on the kickoff had sent the ball right over the McGill goal line. Laing received i behind the goal posts, they went straight up the field, eluding every Queen's player who took any kind of a stab at him. He never stopped running till he planted the ball be hind Queen's posts.

The teams were pretty evenly matched, and the game was a fine exhibition of rugby, What Hazlet had over Laing in long kicking, the latter made up in his dashing runs Two Queen's men were injured, during the latter part of the game, Bo: and Gillhooly, and they were replac ed by Slinn and Hara, but their going off weakened Queen's somewhat Neither team scored in the firs quarter, during which Queen's, had the wind. Hazlett kicked well, bu McGills' back division put up a good defence. In the second quarter, McGill had a shade the better of the play, butheir persistent offside interference work lost them several good scoring chances. Once McGill had the play right in Queen's goal line, but losthe ball through interference at a critical moment. In this quarter Laing kicked over Queen's line for a rouge. The half time score was. McGill, 1, Queen's, 0.

Laing's try and convert was Mc Gill's only score in the third quarte: Queen's played splendidly at this stage and two good kicks by Haz lett netted two rouges. After play had shifted up and town the field Queen's got possession near McGill's goal line and McQuay was carried over for a try, which was scored tor McGill ter ended at, 7--7.

Queen's started the fourth quarter like winners, for Hazlett's kick over Queen's. McGill line, just after the kick off made the score 8-7 against McGill but, Queen's "tlew-up" at a critica" time, and a couple of fumbles caused their undoing. Three kicks over Queen's goal line by Laing in quick

Princess Street Methodist. The silver jubilee of the Epworth eague throughout the Methodist churches of Canada was observed on Sunday by Princess Street Methodist church congregation. At the evening service, Rev. H. E. Curry and Mayor Shaw took part. The pastor took as his text: "Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." Mr. Curry made it quite clear that unless the members, who attend these meetings of the Epworth league grasp the spiritual and the intellectual qualities, the objective of this young people's league, become a dismal failure. There are many young men making a failure of their lives and now is the time to check it. The speaker asserted that young ladies should beware whom they thing that a lady can do is to cast in her lot with that of an irreligious man, declared the speaker. Mayor Shaw made a few remarks
