

CAUGHT THE GERMANS WITH THEIR GUNS BOTH COMING AND GOING.

British War Ships Steaming at Full Speed, Give Enemy Starboard Guns, and On Return Let Go Port Guns.

London, Oct. 25.—A despatch to the Evening News from Dunkirk gives heretofore unpublished details of the bombardment of the Germans on the coast of Belgium by British monitors.

The admiralty had stated previously that the British naval loss was slight, and the correspondent sustaining this says that only one ship was damaged, but adds that the landing party which the admiralty statements referred to as going ashore with a machine gun, suffered severely, losing a lieutenant and a number of men who were picked off by German sharpshooters.

The correspondent states that the Germans placed guns in gaps between houses along the shore, adding: "The British ships steamed down the coast at full speed, giving the Germans their starboard guns. Then they turned and came back, letting go their port guns. By the time they next came by the German guns were silent, and an ambulance had appeared, and was picking up the dead and wounded."

Dr. Chase is No Stranger

In This Home — Receipt Book and Medicines Kept at Hand All the Time.

There is no better safeguard against disease and suffering than a good cathartic medicine. In a great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are constantly kept at hand, because they quickly awaken the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and cure the most common ills of life.

Mrs. Thos. Smith, Jamestown, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase is no stranger in our home, for we have two of his Receipt Books in the house. My father and my husband's father each had one, and I have been familiar with it ever since I can remember. It was only natural that we should use the Kidney-Liver Pills, and we found them so satisfactory in regulating the digestive system and curing the common ills of life that we always keep them on hand. Many a time these pills have saved me much suffering and prevented serious disease. We also keep the Ointment in the house all the time."

TRIBUTE TO C. P. R. EMPLOYEES Many Have Been Placed at Service Of Empire.

A tribute to the Belfast agent of the Canadian Pacific railway is paid by the Belfast Daily Telegraph, of October 10th, which reproduces a photograph of W. McCalla, the Belfast agent of the company, together with his staff, all in regimental uniform.

"The C.P.R.," it says, "has placed the benefit of its widespread organization at the service of the empire in the present crisis, and has developed itself into a great recruiting agency for the British army. Every office is a centre of patriotic activity, and the company's employees have given an excellent lead to others in joining the king's forces in large numbers. The Belfast office, so capably managed by Mr. McCalla is no exception, and of the group of the chief and his staff, shown herewith for the front as recently-joined members of Lord Kitchener's army. The display of pictorial posters in the windows of the Victoria street office is very fine, and certainly it cannot be said that the Belfast staff has been deaf to the stirring appeal under one of the most effective of them: 'Lads of desk and wheel and loom; Noble and trades and plowmen; Come where the bugles of England play. Over the hills and far away.'

EVERY FIRST LINE GERMAN. Is Fighting in North France and South Belgium.

London, Oct. 26.—Every available first line German soldier is either already on the fighting line in Northern France and Southern Belgium, or en route there. The Northern Belgian cities, Antwerp, Ghent, Liege, and the territory of which they are centres, have been combed of the active fighters, who have been replaced with landwehr members and elderly naval reserves. It is estimated that not less than half a million men, Landwehr, Ersatz reserves and this year's classes, are already at the front and others en route. The plans of the German general staff apparently call for possession of the French coast as far south as Calais and possibly Boulogne, and they have plainly determined to win through the allied line if sheer weight of numbers can prevail.

Military experts here agree that Germany is making her supreme effort to win through on this line. Success would mean an advanced base for coming winter operations, and a choice of several important bases for Zeppelin and submarine operations.

There is a rumor current that there are several cases of smallpox in the village of Madoc, and that the village has been quarantined.

Among the friends present were Mrs. Murphy, Miss Redford, Miss M. Coine, Kingston, and Mrs. Stafford, of Clarendon.

REFUSED THE SURRENDER. Of Maritz And His Force of Traitors in South Africa.

London, Oct. 26.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Capetown says: "The force led by Lieut.-Col. Maritz (the head of the rebellion in British South Africa) is understood to consist of about 1,000 rebels, besides 70 or 80 German gunners, who have a few Maxim and a couple of field guns. Maritz endeavored to retire into south west Africa, but found his retreat cut off by a strong force of English and Dutch.

"It is understood that Maritz sent an offer to surrender if his followers were granted free pardon and the Germans allowed to return to their own territory. No notice was taken of his message. It is unofficially reported that four rebel officers who surrendered were court-martialed and sentenced to death. The sentences were referred to Pretoria for confirmation."

You Should Support Canadian Workers in Canadian Laundries

At a time when so much is being said regarding the patriotism of those industries which keep their employees working full time during a period of unusual depression, we wish to draw public attention to the advisability of giving laundry work to those laundries which employ Canadian labor and which spend their earnings in Canada.

Many Kingston men and women find steady and remunerative employment in local laundries, and so far as the Imperial Laundry is concerned, it has not laid off a single employee nor will it do so as long as there is a possibility of keeping the entire staff even reasonably employed. By supporting a laundry such as the Imperial Laundry, your patronage keeps many Canadians employed and helps along the city in every way.

You are cordially invited to call and inspect our establishment. A telephone message will bring one of our drivers to your door.
