DISCUSS THE UNION MAJOR C. C. BENNETT THREE MEN RESCUED

OF THE FIRST AND BETHEL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

General Desire for Union on Part of the People — Matter Referred to Church Boards for Further Consideration.

A joint meeting of the Bethel and First Congregational churches was held in Bethel church Wednesday night to consider the question of the Union of the two churches.

Rev. Dr. Hugh Pedley, of Montreal, presented the matter to the congregations, speaking of the length of the desirability of consolidating the Congregational work in this city.

After Dr. Pedley had finished his address the congregations resolved into separate bodies and the matter was taken upon the resolution which has been previously placed in the hands of the memberships of the two churches.

"That in view of the residential changes that have taken place in Kingston and the near proximity to each other of the two churches, Bethel and First; in view, also, of the growing desire on the part of both congregations for a more effective organization of Congregational work in the city, it is recommended.

"First, that the two churches unite to form one church under a common name.

"Second, that as early a date as possible, there be held joint meetings of the members of both churches to elect the necessary officers and to constitute a general re-organization of all the various societies.

"Third, it shall remain with the united church to decide as to the best use to be made of the two buildings until a satisfactory sale of the First church building is made, setting the proceeds of the sale free for the purpose of building on the property now owned by Bethel church, or such other property as may be deemed more suitable for the purpose of the united church.

"Fourth, that for the present the following would be a wise and workable arrangement, namely, that the regular Sunday services be held in the morning in Bethel church and in the evening in First church and that the night services, Sunday school and other activities being arranged for according to the best judgment of the united church.

Forty-eight ballots were polled from Bethel church, and nineteen from the First church, thirty of the latter being from members not present at the meeting. The ballot of the church revealed a very general desire for union, but there was considerable diversity of opinion as to the best means of bringing the union into effect.

MEIGHEN AT NAPANEE

Talks Patriotism at Convention of Conservatives

Napanee, Oct. 29.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, solicitor-general, in an hour's address here yesterday afternoon preached unflinching, self-sacrificing patriotism and the stern necessity of united active support for all Canadians to the British arms.

The occasion of the solicitor-general's visit and address was the conservative nomination convention for Lennox and Addington to name a federal candidate for the next elections. W. J. Paul M. P., the present representative of the district, was unanimously chosen. There was no trouble beyond that made by one supporter who thought the party card were not being properly distributed.

The Patriotic Fund association of Lennox and Addington has raised so far nearly $8,000, exclusive of $1,000 raised by the local Red Cross association and large quantities of supplies sent forward for the Belgians and the troops at the front. Forty volunteers from this county have gone with the first Canadian contingent. The Patriotic Fund association is now giving each a war insurance policy of $1,000, for the benefit of his family.

Owens Some Old Coins.

Edward Farmer, 318 Barris street, is the proud owner of some old coins. On Thursday morning he brought his collection to the Whig office. In it are the following: Two cent Upper Canada piece, dated 1832; American cent, dated 1802; another coin made during the reign of King George III; half-penny with the word Kingston on it.

A Good Market.

There was a good-sized market on Thursday morning. Eggs were offered at from 30c to as high as 40c a dozen, but the average sales were about 35c a dozen. Butter remains at 55c a pound. Apples were plentiful, selling at 20c to 25c a peck. Snows are the principal variety offered.

Horshound Candy.

Genuine old-fashion horshound candy—the kind your grandmother used to buy—sold by C. Cunningham's candy wagon, market square.

TO BE SENIOR MAJOR OF INFANTRY BATTALION

Of Third Division To Go To the Front — The Training Will Consist Chiefly of Rifle Practice.

It was learned on Thursday morning that Major C. C. Bennett, of the staff of the 3rd division, has been recommended for the position of senior major of the infantry battalion, which will be sent from the 3rd division. It is rumored that a number of officers who are well known in Kingston, will appear among those selected to go to the front.

The work of making the necessary alterations to Artillery Park buildings and the cereal mill waters the volunteers from the 3rd division will be quartered, is being rushed along at a rapid rate. The men are billed to commence to arrive in Kingston on Monday and it has been found necessary for carpenters to work day and night so as to have the bunks ready.

No bunks have yet been in the armories. It is thought that it is the intention of the militia department to place as many men in the cereal mill and at Artillery park and not use the armories unless it is absolutely necessary. If the armories can be saved it will mean that there will be lots of room for the men to drill.

The big part of the training will consist in rifle practice at the Barfield rifle ranges.

In case the armories are used for sleeping quarters, the gun shed which has been used by the 5th field battery for some years will be turned into a dining hall. The harness room will likely be used for a kitchen.

Officers in command of the R.C.H.A. has received no word from Ottawa about purchasing horses for the new battery. It is expected that the orders will arrive in the city in the course of a couple of days.

WAR HAS JUST BEGUN

FORMER PRESIDENT SEES MANY MONTHS OF STRIFE AHEAD.

Statesman Declares Eventual Overthrow of Germany Matter of Time Alone — Entire Nation is Confronted.

Paris, France, Oct. 29.—That the war is only beginning is the opinion expressed by Armand Fallieres, ex-president of France, in an interview published by the newspaper France de Bordeaux, says a despatch to the Havas News agency from the French temporary seat of government.

"Months and months," M. Fallieres says, "will be required to overcome the military power of the enemy, but this does not produce discouragement in France. Our country has the new virtue of constancy in effort.

"We shall certainly be victorious for without reckoning our ardent patriotism and our inexhaustible moral and material resources, we have on our side Russia and Great Britain, with her strength and her tenacity, and Belgium as well as Serbia, and finally, we possess the moral support of entire humanity, which loves the ideal of liberty.

"We are fighting for our land, our homes, our wives and our children, but the admirable Belgians are struggling for their honor and for the respect of their plighted word.

"What an example for the world in front of a savage Germany and an Emperor intoxicated with pride.

"The right will not fall and France will not perish. Should we sacrifice a last man and should we be compelled to call out our last reserves I am ready to go. There is only one motto — Absolute confidence.

CONSTABLE FOUND DUCK

Which He Thought Had Been Stolen From Him.

A week ago Constable William Nicholson, who lives at Portsmouth, lost a duck which he prized very much. He was of the opinion that it had been stolen from his yard, but on Wednesday he was much surprised to find the bird. It had wandered away from the yard to a nearby quarry and there met with an accident, being caught between a log and a stone, and was held so tight as to be unable to make its way. The duck was released by the constable and is now back in his old home quite contented and none the worse for its fast of a week.

IN FIGHT FOR CALAIS.

Germany Has 250,000 Men and 100,000 On Way.

London, Oct. 29.—A despatch to the Times dated "Northern France, Tuesday," estimates that Germany has a quarter of a million men fighting for the road to Calais and probably another hundred thousand on the way to reinforce them.

The despatch says that there was good reason a couple of days ago to believe that the Germans were ready to withdraw from east Belgium, but that it would be a mistake to assume that the allies had been entirely successful in this river battle. The great bulk of the fighting, adds the despatch, is now proceeding on the left bank of the Yser, and the river is, broadly speaking, no longer between the allies and the enemy.

BY LIFE SAVERS FROM THE OSWEGO STATION.

Taken From Barge Which Drifted Aground — Tow Line Breaks in Storm — Vessel Being Piloted From Chamouat.

Oswego, N.Y., Oct. 29.—The steam barge McCormack, owned by Capt. A. R. Hinckley, of this city, is aground in Point. The barge is believed to be pounding hard.

Near midnight Tuesday three men aboard the boat, were rescued by the crew of the United States Life Saving Station. The barge was driven ashore while being towed to Oswego harbor by the steam barge Hinckley early last evening.

When within sight of the port the towline parted and the barge was carried down the lake and piled well onto the beach. The accident took place in the midst of a severe wind and snowstorm.

The McCormack was being piloted to Oswego by the Hinckley from Chamouat, where, during the season, it underwent general repairs. The barge left Chamouat yesterday morning, but did not encounter severe weather until within a few miles of this port.

After the barge broke away the crew of the Hinckley made several attempts to get another line to the barge, but owing to the darkness and the high sea they found it impossible. The barge drifted rapidly away.

Capt. Hinckley, who was in command of his barge, turned about and made the port after considerable difficulty. The Life Saving Station was immediately notified and Capt. F. W. Anderson and his men, with Capt. Hinckley, set out to find the barge. After more than two hours searching it was found in a small bay just below the point.

At eleven o'clock the life savers left with their surf boat and apparatus to rescue the men. They were taken ashore at midnight. The men, two of whom are carpenters and the other a sailor, accompanied the barge for the purpose of completing repairs.

Unless the storm continues to increase in severity, it is believed the barge will not be badly damaged. The McCormack was purchased by Capt. Hinckley about three years ago and because of the overhauling was not in commission this season. It is 106 feet long with 24-foot beam and has a capacity of 160 gross tons.

CHARGE EIGHT TIMES.

Desperate Conflict With Trenches 165 Feet Apart.

London, Oct. 29.—The Chronicle's correspondent in North Belgium sends the following:

"Before Neuport the German trenches are only fifty meters (165 feet) away from the Belgians, and on the night before last they charged eight times with the bayonet in order to force their way through the line. The Belgian infantry was well protected by mitrailleuses and they mowed down the German troops with such deadly fire that on each of those eight times the attack was broken and destroyed.

"The Germans fell like the leaves which are now being scattered and strewn between the trenches. Most of them were bodies of very young men, boys of sixteen and seventeen, from the German high schools and universities, who were recently mobilized and sent with the last reserves to Belgium.

PURELY LOCAL RISING.

Beers Disinclined to Fight Against Germans.

London, Oct. 29.—The Manchester Guardian thinks the South African rising purely local. Many Beers, rightly or wrongly, regard the European war, with which they have nothing to do except to defend themselves if attacked. The Union government comes along and compels them to serve against German South-west Africa.

The Manchester Guardian remarks that if enthusiasm had been voluntary, as in Canada and Great Britain, there would have been no rising.
