NOVEMBER WEDDINGS

CONNELL-WEBSTER NUPTIALS ON WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Bride's Father Performed the Ceremony — The Sibbit-Walsh Wedding Also Solemnized on Wednesday.

On Wednesday morning at half past ten o'clock a pretty home wedding was solemnized at Brock Street Methodist parsonage, when Ruth Armina daughter of the Reverend John and Mrs. Webster was united in marriage to William Harold Connell, of Haileybury, son of Martin Connell, of Spencerville. The ceremony, which took place in the drawing-room in the presence of the immediate families was performed by the father of the bride, who made a pretty picture as he entered in her wedding gown of Wory duchesse satin made on traine. The bodice was of union and shadow lace, and the tulle veil was caught in the dark hair with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a diamond and platinum pendant, and the bridal bouquet was a shower of roses. Her 'something old' was a pair of white satin slippers which had been worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Miss Louana Brown, of Winchester, made a charming bridesmaid in her gown of shell pink crepe de chene with flowered over skirt. She wore a becoming black picture hat and carried an armful of pink carnations. Her gift from the groom was a pearl solitaire and to Miss Daisy Chown, who played the wedding music, he gave a pearl bar pin. Douglas Bennett, of Spencerville, was the groomsmen.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Connell had received the congratulations of the guests, a delicious dejeuner was served in the dining room at quartette tables, the bride's table being centred with the wedding cake, surrounded by tulle and lilies of the valley.

The bridal pair left for a trip to Florida, Mrs. Connell wearing a suit of bottle green broadcloth, over pale yellow nylon waist, and hat to correspond of green plush.

Mrs. Webster wore a gown of the bride, wore black duchesse satin.

Mrs. Lillian Connell, sister of the groom, blue silk costume, black velvet hat, with osprey and French flowers.

Mrs. W. T. Connell, dark green broadcloth suit, with waist of blue crepe de chene and lace. Black velvet hat with gold cloth crown.

Mrs. John Connell, costume of pale grey crepe de chene and crimson roses. Black velvet hat with white plumes.

Miss Ford, pale grey gown with trimmings of American beauty shades. Black velvet hat with shaded feathers.

Little Miss Sadie and Miss Norah Connell wore white French dresses over slips of pink and blue.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Best, John Connell (Algonquin), Fred Connell (Toronto), Dr. W. T. Connell, Masters Webster Keefe and Ford Connell, Miss Gertrude Hinton and Miss Vera Van-luven.

Sibbit-Walsh Wedding. A very quiet wedding took place Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lambert, Clergway street, when their sister, Miss Elizabeth Walsh, youngest daughter of the late William Walsh, formerly of Accrington, England, was married to John Sanderson Sibbit, eldest son of the late Edward Sibbit and Mrs. Sibbit, of Kingston.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. E. Pitts, B.A., of Cornwall, under an artistically arranged arch of ferns and white chrysanthemums, and the bride, who wore a gown of blue and white tulle and blue check cheviot, the coat opening over a white crepe de chene blouse with insets of silk fillet lace. A costume hat of taupe and blue, veiled with blue ostrich feather mount and French nosegays was also worn.

Ross Sibbit, of Guelph, a brother of the groom, played the wedding march.

In the dining-room, where buffet luncheon was served, the bride's table was centred by the wedding cake enwreathed with lilies of the valley and similar.

Mr. and Mrs. Sibbit left on the noon train to spend a couple of weeks in points west.

The out-of-town guests were Rev. F. E. and Mrs. Pitts, of Cornwall; Miss M. A. Walsh, of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. T. Chown, of Montreal; Miss Lucy Walsh, of Oakville, and Messrs. Ross and Graham Sibbit, of Guelph.

Brown-Beaumont. A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. George's cathedral on Wednesday morning when Miss Elizabeth May Beaumont, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Beaumont, of Broadstone, county of Dorset, England, was united in wedlock to George H. Brown, son of George Henry Brown, of Bristol, England. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Crozier Magee, assisted by Canon Grout. Assisting the happy couple were Miss E. Jamieson, as bridesmaid, and R. Brown, brother of the bridegroom, as groomsmen.

The bride was dressed in a gown of blue satin, trimmed with lace, also wearing a hat to match. She carried a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid was dressed in champagne satin, also with lace trimmings and hat to match. Her bouquet was white chrysanthemums. To the bride the groom gave a beautiful gold bracelet and to the bridesmaid a handsome gold brooch pin.

In attendance at the ceremony were the near relatives of both parties and other guests who after the ceremony all repaired to the home of Dr. D. A. Coon, 93 Wellington street, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for eastern points. Upon their return they may take up residence in the city.

ALL ARE COMFORTABLE.

The Overseas Volunteers Have Started Drilling.

There are now 1,010 men and officers of the 21st battalion quartered in the two barracks. The right half of the battalion is quartered in the lately renovated stables of Artillery Park and the left half in the cereal building.

The right half drill in Artillery Park and were hard at work, going through the different drills under their officers on Wednesday. "A" companies were marched to the armories at two o'clock and uniform were issued by C. O. C. officers. Sergt. F. Ludlow has been appointed quarter-master sergeant and is assisting Con. A. McCully in giving out the uniforms. There will be no shortage of any of the supplies, and by Thursday it is expected that the whole battalion will be supplied.

The left half of the battalion is also very comfortable. The main floor of the cereal building has been made into a kitchen and the other flats are dormitories. This is a splendid building for the purpose as it is light, clean, and warm. The men have orders to drill in the cricket field and were put through their manoeuvres on the field on Wednesday.

The bath rooms in the Artillery Park barracks are complete and orders are that the first four days of the week the rooms may be used by the men of A., B., C., and D. companies respectively. The other bath rooms will be used as required. The bath rooms in the west end barracks are not quite complete yet but are expected to be finished in a few days.

The armories are being reserved for military instruction. At the present, the right half of the battalion using the building in the morning and the left half in the afternoon.

On Wednesday Capt. A. E. Bywater, 49th, was appointed assistant adjutant until further orders.

The guard room in the Tule de Pont barracks will be used for prisoners for the present.

The orders of Wednesday said that inoculation against typhoid is voluntary but no one would be accepted for overseas service who would not volunteer to be inoculated.

THE LATE D. J. GARBUTT.

An Aged Citizen Passed To Rest on Wednesday.

At 6.30 o'clock on Wednesday morning death called away one of Kingston's old residents in the person of Daniel James Garbutt, son of the late Rev. William Garbutt, formerly of Millhaven. The deceased was born at this latter place, but when a young man came to Kingston, where he since resided. Mr. Garbutt was seventy-four years of age. For many years he ran a looksmith business. Since last February he had been in ill-health, owing to heart disease, which necessitated his retiring from business.

The deceased was a member of Sydenham street Methodist church and took an active part in all temperance matters. In politics he was a conservative. Various lodges have been enriched by his membership, the I.O. O.F., the I.O.P., Royal Orange Lodge and Chosen Friends. In this latter organization he was organist of lodge 120, which position he maintained for many years. To mourn his loss there is one daughter, Miss Ida, residing at home, and one sister, Mrs. A. Snider, of Deseronto. The late Mr. Garbutt's wife predeceased him three years ago.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, service being held at the home, 300 University avenue. Rev. Alfred Brown will officiate, after which the remains will be placed in the vault at Cataract cemetery.

DEATH MRS. JOHN MARSHALL.

She Passed Away At Her Home on Wednesday.

The death is announced of Mrs. John Marshall, Colborne street, a woman of very lovable character and a favorite with scores of friends. Several weeks ago she was attacked with paralysis and has gradually grown worse until the end came on Wednesday morning. The deceased was a daughter of the late Thomas Clyde, Cataract, and was married some twenty-five years ago to John Marshall, who with two sons, Howard and Bussell, survives. The late Mrs. Marshall was a member of Sydenham street Methodist church, was active in all good works, and her home was a splendid type of comfort and happiness. She was devoted to her many friends and these will deeply sympathize with those of the household.

NEED OF MEMORY WORK

KEYNOTE OF AN ADDRESS BY MRS. H.M. LEYDA, CHICAGO.

At Meeting of Elementary Division of Ontario Sunday School Convention Wednesday Morning — Children Carry Good Thoughts All Through Life.

The great need of memory work among the children was the keynote of a fine address given on Wednesday morning at the meeting of the elementary division in connection with the Ontario Sunday School convention, by Mrs. H. M. Leyda, of Chicago, in the school room of Sydenham street Methodist church.

Mrs. Leyda is president of the Chicago elementary graded union. She is a most interesting speaker, sets forth her facts in such a way as to grip hold of her audience, and she has listened to with a great deal of interest. The speaker is wrapped up in her work, and it is those who are doing their best to give the children religious training in the Sunday school.

Mrs. Leyda pointed out the great amount of good the children derived as a result of memory work—that of memorizing words of scripture, hymns and poems.

"Everything a child learns in this way will stay with him through life," said the speaker. "Have the children learn some of the very best church hymns. I think there is real joy in singing without a book sometimes. And then in these hymns, in the poems and verses of scripture, the children get good thoughts and these thoughts they carry with them all through life. Use the Bible in this work. Let the children write stories. A person cannot be too small to do right."

"The words of the Bible take such a hold on a person," added the speaker. "I met a young minister on a train one day who told me that it was difficult passages of scripture he had read which held him. All through his life he remembered what he had read."

Mrs. Leyda also spoke on promotions, as her subject took in "Memory work and Promotions," and spoke of the great benefit to be derived from having annual promotion days.

There was a very good attendance at this meeting, which was ably presided over by Miss Bertha Laine, superintendent of the provincial elementary division. As the whole session was given over for work with the children, it was most appropriate that Miss Laine should have the meeting opened with a children's song and the delegates joined very heartily in the singing. After the singing Miss Laine called upon D. G. Laidlaw, of Kingston, for scripture reading.

Two other very interesting addresses were given during the morning. One by Mrs. E. W. Halpenny, Toronto, on "The Development of a Junior Missionary Song," and one by Miss Laine on "Development of a Primary Temperance Song."

Both were of a very interesting nature and provided a bountiful supply of information for the teachers.

After the addresses the meeting took the form of departmental conferences when the following were discussed:

Cradle Roll department, "The Cradle Roll Standard," Beginners Department, "The Beginners Programme;" Primary department, "Organization and Equipment;" Junior department, "Plans for Junior Temperance Teaching."

During the time the meeting was on at Sydenham street church, there was also a meeting of the secondary division of the First Baptist church, and this meeting was well attended. Elmer G. Johnston, of Brockville, presided. The programme included the following: "The Why and How of a Girls Organized Class," by Miss Violet G. Fleming, of Brampton; "Graded Lessons in Principle and Practice," by E. D. Otter, Pembroke Y.M.C.A. Community boys' work secretary and an address by John L. Alexander, superintendent of the secondary division of the International Sunday School association.

The first general session of the convention opened in Sydenham Street church this afternoon.

T. F. Harrison was present at both the morning meetings and extended a warm welcome to the delegates. He expressed the hope that they would enjoy their stay in Kingston, and that the convention would be a most profitable one.

Mayor Shaw will deliver the official address of welcome at the Thursday morning session.
