GERMANS LOSE TSING-TAU

ALLIES PUSH ON TO OCCUPY OSTEND

They Are Advancing Between the Flooded Area of Belgium From Which the Germans Retreated and Ocean.

Germans Entrenched to Northeast of Ostend--Enemy is Massing Troops at Lille, Evidently to Make Another Attempt to Break Through the Lines of the Allies.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Advices from the front to-day say that the allies are pushing north between the flooded area of Belgium and the ocean, apparently with the intention of occupying Ostend.

The Germans are reported to have heavily entrenched to the northeast of Ostend, and to be preparing for an expected attack.

There is also severe fighting to-day on the French right, where the Germans are desperately endeavoring to break through the French advance toward Metz.

Germans Massing at Lille.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Once more Lille holds the centre of attention along the fighting line in the north. The Germans are massing troops there in enormous numbers. It is considered certain that, baffled along the Belgian line, they will make another attempt to win through to the coast from the south of Lille. Success would isolate a large allied force and cut the coast lines of communications. It is known, however, that this will be an almost impossible task, as the forces opposing the Germans in this section have themselves been heavily reinforced.

German Attacks Repulsed.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Violent night and day attacks by Germans on the Anglo-French front southeast of Ypres and on the British line at Neuport-Chapelle between the canal of La Bassée and Arras, and against the British position on the Oise, have been repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy.

To-day's official statement declares that not only are the allies holding their own at every point, but that at certain positions they are pressing forward. The situation along the Yser is described as comparatively calm. The French, it is announced, have occupied Hautcourt and Hogeville.

CITY OF TSING-TAU HAS BEEN CAPTURED

The Japanese and British Succeed in Taking This German Fortified City of Kiau Chau--Brilliant Charge Completed Victory.

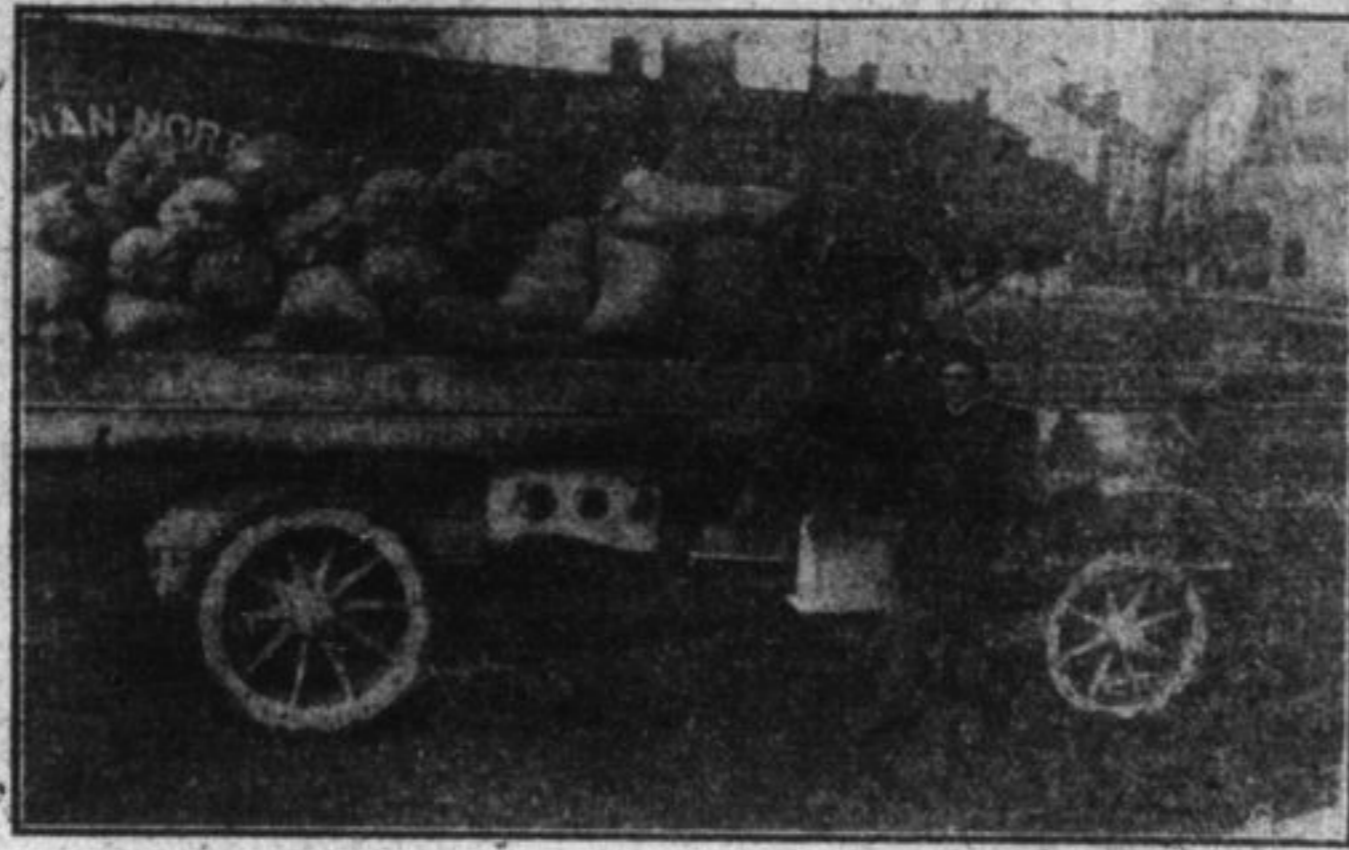

Tokio, Nov. 7.—Japan is to-day celebrating her first victory of the present war. Extra editions of newspapers tell of the surrender of the strong German fortified city of Tsing Tau, the chief city of Kiau Chau, at seven o'clock this morning. It is said that the occupation of the entire concession will be completed to-day.

While complete details of the surrender are withheld for the present, it is known that it was due to one of the most brilliant charges in history. With Gen. Yamada at the head of a picked column of Japanese and British troops, the central fort was taken by assault.

While big siege guns and battalions kept up the continuous bombardment on the position, hammering holes in the walls, the picked column made up of infantry and engineers, slowly slipped up on the fort. Finally on a signal they dashed forward and managed to gain an entrance, taking the fort garrison of more than 200 men. With this fort in their possession, the result was no longer in doubt. Its guns commanded the city and the other forts, and there was no surprise when at daylight a white flag appeared on the weather observation tower. Immediately the bombardment ended.

The German garrison, made up chiefly of reservists, who reported to Governor Waldeck when the war first began, has maintained a stubborn defense for sixty-five days. The Jap-British attacking force could have taken the forts some time ago by sacrificing many men, but decided to wait a favorable opportunity, which came yesterday.

Kaiser Asks The Sultan to Protect Jews

New York, Nov. 7.—The safety of Jewish people in Turkey has been the subject of representations made to the Porte by Germany, according to a statement given out here last night by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States. The statement read: "Some time ago the German imperial government warmly recommended to Turkey the protection of Hebrews of whatever nationality. Recently, prior to the outbreak of the war, this recommendation was renewed. "It had been feared that the numerous Hebrews in Turkey would, in case of war, be endangered, not only on account of their religion but also for their non-Turkish nationality. Many Hebrews who have resided in Turkey for years are not, up to this day, Ottoman citizens. "It is, therefore, reassuring to learn that Germany has warmly recommended to Turkey the protection of all Hebrews, irrespective of nationality."

SO MUCH FOR SUCCESS.

Will be Able to Pay One Per Cent. of Debts.

New York, Nov. 7.—The Success Magazine company, which ceased publishing its magazine two years ago, will be able to pay about one per cent. of its debts. This magazine was edited by O. S. Marston, author of many books on achieving success and happiness. Edward S. Kaufman, as referee, yesterday reported that the liabilities are $44,253 and the net assets for distribution $4,354. The largest liability item is $138,232 due the Bulkley Denton company for merchandise.

The Cases Dismissed.

Bellefonte, Nov. 7.—Percy Showman, Trenton, brought action against Canon Armstrong, rector of that town, for $5,000 damages arising out of an article which he had written. Showman also brought suit against Editor Young of the Trenton Courier for $5,000 because he published this article. The cases were consolidated. At the close of the plaintiff's case W. C. Mikel, for defendants, moved for non-suit. The judge allowed the motion, directing the jury to find a verdict for defendants, and dismissed plaintiff's actions with costs.

Prisoners in Germany

London, Nov. 7.—Advices received from Berlin are to the effect that up to last Sunday the German concentration camps and hospitals held the following prisoners: French, 2,138 officers and 188,614 men. Russians, 3,121 officers and 178,679 men. Belgians, 537 officers and 34,907 men. British, 417 officers and 15,730 men. Total—Officers, 7,213; men, 426,034.

The Watertown, N.Y., Produce Exchange gave a banquet to 175 guests on Friday evening. Henry Spicer, aged ninety-four, one of the charter members, was in attendance. Mrs. Frances Munda, democrat, will be Arizona's first woman state senator. She was elected by 600 majority.

Germany is to detain all British between the ages of seventeen and fifty-five who are residing in Germany. Henry Ryan, Messina, N.Y., had his eyesight destroyed and his arm badly burned by an explosion in the aluminum works.

Three of the New York counties which voted, Tuesday, on establishing tuberculosis hospitals gave substantial affirmative majorities.

The estate of the Cyrenus and Myron Leasure, Watertown, N.Y., will be sold and it is thought will realize several thousand dollars. At one time the man were supposed to be very poor.

John F. J. Ramsden, Jr., of Syracuse, held in Rochester on a charge of killing his wife, may never be tried. It is said his health will snap under the strain of intense suffering and that death will cheat the courts. Amasa Lucas, of Barnes' Corners, N.Y., suicided by hanging.

BUYING AN AUDIENCE.

In buying advertising one does not purchase so many square feet of white paper, and so many gallons of printers' ink. The advertiser, always in a newspaper, buys an audience, made up of people who pay to hear what he has to say, just as they pay to learn the news of the market and the articles thereon. And when the audience is gained, the merit of the merchandise must make good the money expended.

NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

What is Found in The District Exchanges

J. J. Kingston has sold his farm to Stanley May, of Hillier.

Dr. B. B. Benson, veterinarian, has been appointed an official veterinarian. The house of John A. Wallace, Picton, was struck by lightning Sunday night. The damage was light.

The barn of Robert Sullivan's farm, near Picton, was burned on Saturday evening last. There was insurance on the building but none on the contents.

The Bell Telephone central office staff, Picton, presented Lieut. W. A. Spriggs with a wrist watch prior to his departure for Kingston with the volunteers.

Alexander Buchanan, Picton, died on October 25th, after a week's illness, following a critical operation. He was a Presbyterian, a good-living man, and a hard worker.

The engagement is announced of Elizabeth Uddis, only daughter of the late Mrs. Mary Brock, Wallacestown, to Bruce Parley Burley, of Wellington. The marriage to take place quietly this month.

On Wednesday last, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Moffatt, Colden, Mrs. James J. McLaughlin passed away. The deceased lady had been in poor health for some time. The remains were taken to Lanark for interment.

Copper Sent To Italy Goes To the Krupps

London, Nov. 7.—The British steamer of Italy, of the Apollon Line, bound from New York to Mediterranean ports, has been detained at Gibraltar. The authorities there state that the Italia has contraband of war aboard. Information is in the possession of the British government, it is said, which proves conclusively that very large shipments of copper, rubber and other commodities are passing through Italian ports on their way to Germany. In New York large purchases of copper are being made by representatives of houses in Rotterdam, Amsterdam and Copenhagen, who, it is stated, are working on German account. Directions at the same time are given that these consignments of copper are to be shipped through Italian ports to the order of various financial institutions which are said to be controlled largely by German capital.

A despatch to the London Telegraph from Odessa by way of Moscow says that twelve Turkish and German transports carrying coal have sunk near Uzungulak, on the coast of Anatolia. Some 880,000,000 of the $100,000,000 which Northern United States banks are to subscribe to the $35,000,000 cotton fund already has been raised.

GOOD HOPE FOUNDERED AFTER AN EXPLOSION

British Admiralty Has News of Chilli Fight.

MONMOUTH IS ASHORE

CANOPUS AND OTRANTO NOT IN THE CONFLICT.

The Glasgow is Only Slightly Damaged—Had Canopus Been There, British Would Have Had the Advantage.

London, Nov. 7.—The following official statement was issued last night: "The admiralty now has received trustworthy information about the action on the Chilean coast."

"During Sunday, the first of November, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and considerable sea. The German squadron declined action until sunset when the light gave it an important advantage. The action lasted an hour. "Early in the action both the Good Hope and the Monmouth took fire, but fought until nearly dark, when a serious explosion occurred on the Good Hope, and she foundered. "The Monmouth hauled off at dark, making water badly, and appeared unable to steam away. She was accompanied by the Glasgow, which had, meanwhile, during the whole action, fought the Leipzig and the Dresden.

"On the enemy again approaching the wounded Monmouth, the Glasgow, which also was under fire from one of the armored cruisers, drew off. "The enemy then attacked the Monmouth again, but with what result is not known. "The Glasgow is not extensively damaged and has very few casualties. Neither the Otranto nor the Canopus were engaged. "Reports received by the foreign office from Valparaiso state that a belligerent warship is ashore on the Chilean coast and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. "Energetic measures are being taken on this assumption to rescue the survivors. "The action appears to the admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

War Tidings.

The steamer Potsdam, sailing from New York next Tuesday, will carry a large shipment of Red Cross hospital supplies to Germany.

A large German steamer has been blown up south of the Danish island of Langeland, in the great belt, by a mine, said to have been placed by the Germans.

"Now that the war is reaching the climax of its violence, we must anticipate that all the living forces of Germany will be thrown into the conflict, and that the German navy will no longer remain inert. We must expect to be attacked at home, and must not rest under any comforting illusions that we shall not be assaulted," says the military expert of the London Times.

ASKED RUM AS MEDICINE.

Wanted It To Guard Against Cold and Disease.

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—Replying to the protest made by the German association against the misuse of alcoholic drinks, and against the German crown prince's appeal for rum for troops in the field, the lord-chamberlain sent to the association this reply: "I declare in the name of his imperial royal highness, that the appeal does not mean these drinks are wanted for refreshment and stimulation of troops, but are needed as medicine against cold, dysentery, and so forth, which has been recommended from the medical point of view."

THE HUNGRY WOLVES ARE ON THE TRAIL

And the Dead and Wounded Germans Are Their Prey Just Now.

Petrograd, Nov. 7.—To-day, throughout all Russia, is a holy day for national thanksgiving to celebrate the continued advance of four great Russian armies now in the field against her enemies. Two armies are advancing on German soil, one on Austria and another on Turkish, and all according to the report of the war office, are at this moment victorious. Russians are finding the German wounded, in their retreat, in terrible condition. At many points the wolves have come down from mountains and across the steppe and have eaten bodies of the dead and wounded. The retreating Germans are destroying everything in their path.

Epirus has been annexed by Greece.

VIGOROUS ACTION DEMANDED.

If Allies Refused to Be Fooled, Scandal Would End.

Petrograd, Nov. 7.—An agitation is on foot here for the adoption of stronger measures to prevent Germany from getting practically all the supplies which she requires, in spite of the British blockade. Newspapers here express the opinion that it is time for the allies to drop their kid glove war on sea and to act a little more as Germany would if she ruled the waves.

"Not a day passes, it is alleged, without fresh cargoes for Germany being shipped in Danish, Swedish and Norwegian bottoms, and although all these ships sail for neutral ports, and have for destination another equally neutral port, it would be easy enough to establish the contraband nature of their traffic if only the allies made up their minds to be fooled no longer. It is added that diplomatic intervention is far too platonic in such a matter which involves the prolongation of the war, perhaps, for years. The allies are no longer justified in confining themselves to protests. A few vigorous examples are all that would be necessary to end scandal, the paper says."

TWO GERMAN CRUISERS POSSIBLY CAPTURED

Tokio Report Says Japanese Fleet in Pacific Took Them While Coaling.

London, Nov. 7.—An unconfirmed report cabled from Tokyo to-day says that the Japanese fleet in the Pacific has captured the German cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, which on Sunday defeated Admiral Cradock's fleet. The report from Tokyo says that the cruisers were caught while coaling. The admiralty has no confirmation of the report. The claim that the cruisers could be taken while coaling does not seem credible, inasmuch as they took on coal and supplies while at Valparaiso on Monday.
