Women At Forty. There is a beauty quite apart from youth - the beauty of the mature woman. Some there are that maintain that beauty does not reach its zenith under the age of thirty-five or forty. In a measure this is borne out by the events of the antique past which may likewise be paralleled with instances of our own day. Helen of Troy appeared on the scene at the age of forty. Cleopatra was past thirty when she met Anthony. Aspasia, married to Pericles when she was thirty-six, was a figure brilliant in her world for thirty years. When Diane de Poitiers was past thirty-six she won the heart of Henry II, and he but half her age. Anne of Austria was thirty-eight when described as the most beautiful woman of Europe. Mile. Mar was heralded as the greatest of beauties at forty-five, and Mme. Racamier was at her best between the ages of thirty-five and fifty. Mme. de Maitland was forty-three when united to Louis, and Catherine of Russia thirty-three when she took seat on the throne which she occupied for thirty-five years. All these women were world-famed for their beauty and gave the direct to that worthless old saw that beauty is the power of "sweet sixteen." The dew of youth and a complexion of roses it must be admitted sometimes combine in a face that is unmovable, irresponsive, utterly lacking the expression which goes to the making of a perfectly molded visage. "The Bohemian".

Nearly Caused Death. A stranded American tourist in Switzerland at the outbreak of the war nearly brought about the death of a great friend living in Germany by sending him the following telegram: "Kate all gone. Wire thirty beans." The German censor took it to mean that some German town, Kiel probably, had been attacked and wiped out. The person to whom the wire was addressed was arrested, and would have been shot. Luckily for him a German officer who had lived in America was able to convince the authorities that the message was only a request for monetary aid in American slang.

$8,500.00 Damages Awarded in Street Railway Accident. Nervous system so terribly shattered that paralysis set in. Examined by eleven doctors. Recovery attributed to use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mrs. MAY WRIGHT, 113 1/2 King St. W., Toronto, has written of her wonderful recovery as follows: "On May 25th, 1913, I met with an accident when a Bathurst St. car crashed into a Queen St. car and I was thrown over three seats and under the front seat. As a result my spine was badly injured and paralysis set in. My nerves were shattered and for a whole year I was in a completely helpless condition. I had no appetite and could not sleep and when it was necessary for me to appear in court I was carried in on a stretcher. I was examined by eleven doctors and among them were several of the very best medical authorities in the city of Toronto. Some of these doctors claimed I could never recover and the court awarded me $8,500.00 and costs. The most wonderful part of it all is the benefit I have obtained by the use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD. Gradually and certainly this great nerve restorative has built up the nervous system until I am getting back the old time health and vigor. I sleep well now, appetite and digestion are good, and I cannot say enough in praise of this great medicine." Facsimile of final check received by Mrs. Wright in settlement of Court's award.
