

MACHINE GUN SECTION TO BE ORGANIZED IN THE 21ST BATTALION.

Recruiting Will In Future Be Done by Regiments—Less Than Three Per Cent. of Applicants Rejected.

The organizing of a machine gun section of the 21st battalion will commence immediately. In the orders of Monday, the names of three men from each company were to be sent for employment in the machine gun section. The men must be "active, intelligent and known good shots."

The names of the men are to be sent to S. M. East, Edward, who is, with Lieut. W. Swanwick, controlling the rifle drills. The machine gun section is composed of eight men. A subaltern, sergeant, corporal, twelve privates, two first line transport drivers have resigned.

Pte. J. Maxwell was appointed corporal in the transport section on Monday. In future all of the recruiting will be done regimentally, instead of through the O.C. of the different companies as formerly. Recruits must apply at the orderly room in the armouries at 9.30 a.m., daily.

Small Number Rejected. The 21st battalion members have now all passed the medical examination and the officers examinations commenced on Monday afternoon. It was found that less than three per cent. of the men were rejected which goes to show that the examinations at local points are very strict. At Valcartier, between eight and nine per cent. of the volunteers were rejected and had to return home. The rule was then made that the fares of any men sent home from mobilization points in the organizing of the second contingent, should be paid by the doctor who examined and passed them at the local recruiting point. In one village in this district, the local doctor, taking no chance, only accepted twenty-four out of fifty-four who applied. This new rule has saved the country a great deal of expense and saved men much inconvenience. Men are not brought to the city from their home place, where they have resigned positions and made sacrifices, only to be sent back again after a week's stay.

Sunday Services. It is the intention of the militia department to hold services in the armouries every Sunday until the battalion leave for the front. These services are after the form used in

The Militia Divine Service order. The order of service is somewhat similar to that of the Anglican churches. The sermon is omitted and only a five minute talk by the officiating clergyman is given. During the service the commanding officer, adjutant and two majors stand in the front. The officers are in a line and in lines about four paces apart the men of the battalion stand shoulder to shoulder. On Sunday it was certainly an impressive sight to see eight hundred khaki clad soldiers and the citizens in the galleries singing to the music of the R.C.H.A. band, "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus."

An incident worthy of note is the quick way in which the officers and men, without an order, came to attention when the national anthem was sung. Of course this is quite the right thing to do, but every one of the eight hundred men came to attention without hesitating. On Sunday next Bishop Bidwell will officiate.

Thy Physical Drill. It is wonderful the way the physical drill has straightened up the soldiers. The men when they came round shoulders and a slouchy walk. Now they are soldiers. The officers, of course, have all had more or less experience and set the example of throwing their shoulders back. The physical drill consists of shoulder and leg and running and breathing exercises.

It is unlikely that an ambulance corps will be formed here. Three have been organized for the second contingent in other places. Each company of a battalion provides its own stretcher-bearers but outside of the sanitation there will be no medical attachment from the city.

Lieut.-Col. Biggar, director of transports and supplies, is expected in the city on business with the Army Service corps.

The new motor-transporters are in the city. They are a brilliant red and look like "hurry-up" waggon. Two cars for the use of the head-quarters are expected.

Four more officers arrived in the city on Tuesday from St. John, N.B., to take a course in the Royal School of Artillery that opened in the Tete a Tete barracks on Monday. One more is expected to arrive from Halifax, N.S., on Tuesday night. Four more N.C.O.'s arrived from Toronto to take the course.

The Grand Trunk. Teaches Apprentices With New Correspondence Scheme.

A correspondence course is to be one of the novel advantages enjoyed by Grand Trunk apprentices for the first time this winter.

W. D. Robb, the general superintendent of motive power, has some six hundred apprentices in his department of the railway's work. The young fellows being trained in the various locomotive shops of the company at Montreal, Stratford, Battle Creek and other points. The benefits of this training are kept in the shops and if satisfactory are asked to sign indenture papers binding them for the period their trade calls for—mechanists for five years, pattern-makers and boiler-makers for four years.

During this apprenticeship the boy has to attend classes arranged by the company and is taught mechanical drawing and practical mechanics. Examinations are held periodically to test the knowledge of the boys and at the end of the term a final examination is arranged for the whole system, the marks being compiled and the station having the highest percentage receiving a cash prize. Prizes are also given to the individual prizes are also given to the boys.

This year it has been decided to improve the opportunities of the apprentices at small stations where it has not been possible to keep such instructors. Correspondence courses, mapped out, along the most improved lines, have been adopted for this purpose and the boys will be in touch with their theoretical studies with headquarters in Montreal. Text books have been compiled by the company in both drawing and mechanics suitable to the requirements and these have been made as practical as possible, so that the practical work may line up with the theory taught.

The quality of the work done by the apprentices was shown this fall when apprentices from the Stratford shops obtained first and three seconds in mechanical drawing competition at Canadian National Exhibition, at Toronto, while the Montreal boys took two first prizes.

Henry Of Prussia. Prince Henry of Prussia, younger brother of the Kaiser, is a man of a different calibre. In many respects he can hardly be regarded as a typical German, and he must have inherited some of his more English characteristics from his mother, the Empress Frederick.

A bluff sailor-man, he forms a marked contrast to the stiff and starched Prussian junkers by whom he is surrounded. He was the first German royalty to sail in an airship, having cruised in a Zeppelin when aerial travel was in its infancy, and been at the helm for part of the voyage himself. He is the Kaiser's oldest aviator in point of actual age, and one of the most zealous. The thirty-eighth qualified pilot's license issued in Germany was awarded to him.

He has one passion—and that is the sea. Like Von Tirpitz, he believes that Germany's future lies upon the water.

He was his father's favorite. Once, during the reign of the Emperor Frederick, an American ambassador expressed to the emperor his admiration of the crown prince. "Yes," responded Frederick, "William is a fine lad, but you should see my boy Heinrich."

He is an enthusiastic motorist and an equally enthusiastic swimmer. A good all-round sportsman, in short. Some years ago he visited the United States. Driving through Ohio he got one morning he was accosted by a newsboy: "Hello, Hank! How are you?" yelled the irresponsible youth.

The Kaiser's brother grinned from ear to ear. "I'm all right! How are you?" was the unexpected reply. It is not difficult to understand the popularity of such a man. He does not take himself too seriously.

QUEEN'S AND M'GILL LOCAL TEAM WILL TRY HARD FOR A WIN.

Capt. V. Leod Has Quinzy and Cannot Play—A Win For Queen's Would Give 'Varsity the Championship.

If Queen's win in Montreal on Saturday Varsity will be the championly union. If Queen's loses Varsity and McGill will play off the tie. This may be in Kingston. However, as Queen's must make a showing this year they are going down to Montreal to win. The team with two weeks' rest in fine condition, except J. P. McLeod, the captain who is suffering with quinzy and will not be able to play. The rest of the team is going into a hard practice this afternoon and on Wednesday. Two practices only were included in last week so the men are certainly not tired out. The Montreal team is somewhat weakened, and besides has less confidence after its defeat by Varsity on Saturday. The officials for Saturday's game will be W. J. Morrison, of Montreal, and E. O. Slicer, of this city. The former will referee as he was umpire in the McGill-Queen's game here three weeks ago. The game will certainly be an interesting one as it is Queen's last chance to put itself on the rugby map.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY. Kept Her Locks Dark, Thick, Glossy, With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home, is messy and troublesome. For 50c you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use formula called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound."

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover that it is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

CONTROL DISEASE. Have Stamped Out Foot And Mouth Epidemic.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Control of the foot and mouth disease at the Chicago Union stock yards, which was placed under quarantine last Saturday has been brought about, state and federal authorities announced today.

For the first time in forty-nine years, since the organization of the yards, not a living cow, steer, or sheep was in the enclosure today. The last infected animal was shot to death and buried in quicklime yesterday. In all, 1,012 animals, valued at $56,000, have been slain since the quarantine was ordered. The work of fumigation, it was expected, would be completed to-morrow.

TO HONOR BELGIAN KING. Have Changes Name of Principal Boulevard.

Paris, Nov. 10.—The Journal says that the authorities at Havre have changed the name of the principal boulevard from Maritime to Albert I, in honor of the Belgian king, whose government is actually based on this thoroughfare. One post office on the Boulevard Albert I is considered quite Belgian, so that a letter posted here to another part of Havre requires a five-cent stamp and received the Belgian post mark. A letter mailed to Brussels required only a two-cent stamp.

Ships For New Zealand. Ottawa, Nov. 10.—New Zealand ship continues to supply Canada with large quantities of foodstuffs and leather emphasizing the anomaly that even in war time Canada is an importer of agricultural products and pays custom duties thereon.
