The man, seventy-years of age, who had come from Brockville, had been rejected about a week before, but he 'bobbed" up again. He had seen service in three or four wars, and was very anxious to be a "Tommy Atlins" again. The commander of the company in which the old soldier wanted to enlist, assured him that the king appreciated his patriotism, and that the commanding officer of the 21st would be proud to have him in the ranks of his command, but that this was impossible: he was too old. The old fellow, a six-footer, though disappointed, appeared to be satisfied with the "verdict," and when parting to take the train assured the captain

Service At S. A. Citadel

A service for soldiers was held at the Salvation Army citadel on Sunday afternoon from four until five o'clock. Some choice band selections and addresses were given which thrilled the hearts of all who were fortunate enough to attend The body of the citadel was fairly well filled and the soldiers were given a hearty welcome. It was announced that another concert will be given on November 30th, which the soldiers are cordially in-

"Annie Laurie."

'In "Annie, Laurie" a new Scotch play by Howard McKent Barnes the discriminating public will be given an apportunity to see a play that is not only thrilling and true to life, but clean and wholesome as well. It tells a story of a young girl's loyalty to the girl friend she loves; a devotion that weathers the storms of suspicion, doubt and misery, and in her darkest hour when the entire world is against her, it is Annie who believes in her innocence and purity. they say that it is a natural oc- J.
