CANNOT BANK MONEY

That Has Not Been Received—Soldiers' Wives Waiting.

Another soldier's wife writes as follows to the Whig:

"Reading in your paper of Saturday, the the wives of the soldiers of the P.A.S.C. and 34th field battery had not received their husbands' assigned pay, I wish to say that neither have the wives of the 14th Regiment, who are now at Salisbury Plain, received one cent of their husbands' pay since September 21st. They tell us we must wait patiently, but will the fit one's stomachs wait until that money is forthcoming? Then again, one reads of them complaining of the soldiers' wives not-banking their husbands' pay. We can't bank that which we do not receive."
