

A SIMPLE WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent Falling Hair and End Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

CONDEMNED FOR TREASON

Shepherd With White Goats Betrayed Battery to Enemy.

Chalons-sur-Marne, Nov. 18.—A Frenchman, Alfred Durot by name, has been sentenced to death by court-martial for treason. During the battle which raged around Rheims on September 9th the French artillery operating near the village of Puiseux was subjected to a terrific bombardment by the Germans, no matter how often they changed their position. A careful watch was kept and it was discovered that a mile in front of the French batteries a shepherd was feeding his flock, among which were five snow white goats.

The shepherd was arrested, and inquiries showed that during the German occupation of Puiseux he was the only inhabitant who had not been molested and that he had been given the white goats, whose presence was to signal the position of the French guns. Durot admitted his guilt.

PLAGUE OF GLANDERS. Horses in Michigan Are Seriously Affected. Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 18.—Another disease among live stock even more deadly than the hoof and mouth disease, has been discovered in a southern Kalamazoo county, where many horses have been found suffering from glanders.

Already inspectors have killed seventeen head. Because of the highly contagious nature of this disease and its fearful effects officers are working with utmost speed to wipe it out. Not until yesterday did it become known that the disease had become spread about the south end of the county. Horses fall victims to the disease and human beings who contract it easily.

Complaint was made that some of the farmers who own horses suspected of having the disease are endeavoring to hide them and an officer was called to investigate. Glanders is a highly contagious and very destructive disease of horses, asses, mules, etc. It is characterized by inflammation of the mucous membranes, especially of the nose, and a discharge of sticky matter, and by an enlargement and hardening of the glands beneath and within the lower jaw. It ends fatally after a short and hectic course. It may be transmitted to dogs, cats, sheep and human beings. Bovines are immune.
