VOICE OF THE PULPIT

"THE SIN OF SUICIDE," TOPIC OF SERMON.

By Rev. Alfred Brown in Sydenham Street Methodist Church — Anniversary Sunday in Cooke's Church.

In Sydenham Street Methodist church Sunday evening, Rev. Alfred Brown preached on "The Sacredness of Human Life and the Sin of Suicide." The speaker took his text from Acts XVI, 27-28: "And the keeper of the prison awakening out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, 'Do thyself no harm, for we are all here.'"

Mr. Brown said that these same words should be written over every intoxicating cup, every gambling den, and asserted that everyone of them was the source from which the greatest evil emerges. In many cases they lead to murder and suicide, which is directly against the will of God, according to the sixth commandment. He who takes his own life is as much a murderer as he who kills his fellow-man, asserted the preacher.

Illustrations were given by Mr. Brown which all tended to show that suicide was a crime against society and unlawful in the sight of God.

Cooke's Anniversary.

Sunday was anniversary day at Cooke's church and the attendance at both the services was unusually large. The choir rendered a special programme of music, Miss Goldie Bartels assisted the choir with her violin.

The auditorium and gallery was filled to overflowing at the evening service when the sermon was preached by Rev. W. J. Clark of Westmount, Que., who preached a forceful sermon, taking as his text, Psalm exix, 19: "I am a stranger in the earth; hide not thy commandments from me."

The speaker dwelt on the value of the home life and the love of home. Home was a place everyone loved dearly. It was surrounded by an atmosphere of love. A person was always touched with the words, "Home, sweet home, be it ever so humble, there's no place like home." To find God was to be at home. He was a great help in time of trouble.

First Baptist Church.

Rev. W. Daniels, B.A., of Toronto, conducted the services on Sunday morning in the First Baptist church. He spoke on "The Call of the West." For well-known reasons the financial condition of Canada's west this year was very bad. It would require $20,000 to carry on the work of the mission stations for the year and unless the amount was forthcoming it would be absolutely necessary to cease carrying on some of the good work now being done. The appeal was urgent. He spoke on the great number of converts that were being made and the splendid work that the missionaries were doing.

Bishop Mills at St. Paul's.

The Bishop of Ontario preached in St. Paul's church on Sunday evening, to a very large congregation, one of the most interesting of sermons. He took his text from Isaiah xlv, 22, and Isaiah xliii, 25: "I will blot out as a thick cloud thy transgressions and as a cloud thy sin."

His lordship gave the significance of the word "transgressions" and also dealt with the word "sin," referring very interestingly to the subject of original sin and then pointing out Jesus Christ as the perfect Saviour of the sinner. He instanced many ways of offending against God, quoting from St. James about that unruly member of the tongue, and referring to the sins of thought and of deeds. The only one who can save us from sin and also give us power to conquer sin is Jesus Christ.

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S

THE SUNDAY SERVICE IN CONVOCATION HALL.

Dramatic Club to Play at Rockwood — Some Students Want Sunday Service Changed From Morning to Afternoon.

The large congregation present at the Sunday morning service at Convocation hall was treated to one of the finest sermons heard this term. Rev. W. J. Clark, D.D., of St. Andrew's church, Westmont, was the speaker and his topic was "Life." He compared the two versions of life as given by the writer of Ecclesiastes and St. Paul in the second book of Timothy. The verses of Ecclesiastes may be summed up in the words "Vanity, all is Vanity." Paul's version of life on the other hand was a song of triumph.

Leading aside these judgments we are agreed that Paul's version is to be preferred. It is better to end our life's journey on the high road of success than in disappointment and sadness.

Our lives cannot follow the lines of those of Paul or the writer of Ecclesiastes, but all our lives will approximate to one or other of these plans. We will live either to satisfy self, to make self the centre of the universe, as if this life were all or we shall live as St. Paul did and keep the body under and forget self, for eternity.

At the Alma Mater meeting on Saturday evening, the following committee was appointed: H. S. Lockett, (convener); W. A. McIntosh, Arts; W. V. Williams, Science; D. Calhoun, Medicine; E. Frank, Theology.

The secretary was empowered to sign a contract for the engagement of the Grand Opera House for the night of Nov. 30th. It was decided to expend not more than $50 to buy new palms for the decoration of Grant hall. It was decided to ask the Alma Mater election candidates to address a mass meeting after the night of Nov. 30th, if necessary, thus doing away with the necessity of calling a special meeting for that purpose.

The secretary was instructed to wire congratulations to the Varsity Rugby team on winning the Inter-collegiate championship.

The Dramatic club which will this year stage the "Rogues Comedy" at the Grand Opera House, Nov. 30th, has been invited to Rockwood and will put on their play there on Tuesday evening. Capt. and Mrs. Prideaux have kindly consented to act as make-up artists.

By defeating arts '16 on the lower campus on Saturday afternoon, by a score of 4 to 0, medicine '15 won the MacClement cup, emblematic of the inter-faculty soccer championship. The arts' team put up a good brand of football but medicine by their greater weight and aggressiveness were able to win out quite handsily.

The play during the first half was fairly even but Carmichael managed to score one, putting medicine in the lead. When the second half started medicine rushed matters and soon Carmichael scored another. This was followed by two more goals, Stackhouse and Carmichael scoring in succession. Final score 4 to 0. The highest winners for medals were Box, Stackhouse and Carmichael, while Paynter and Clark were the pick of arts '16.

The Q.U.M.A. met Saturday morning with the president, A. J. Wilson, in the chair. J. D. McCrea wanted the society to approve of a former resolution to have the present hour of Sunday service changed to 3 p.m. but it was decided to get each organization to appoint one representative to confer with Principal Gordon before any steps were taken.

McDougall, president of the Y.W.C.A., gave the society an address — on China and its religious needs. W. Scott spoke on the "Volunteer Movement in Foreign Missions," and also gave the history of the foundation of the volunteer band.

The Mathematics and Physics club will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Prof. J. Matheson.

WON'T MIX.

Had Food and Good Health Won't Mix.

The human stomach stands much about it, it won't return good health if you give it bad food. If you feed right you should feed right, for proper food and a good mind is the sure road to health. "A year ago I became much alarmed about my health for I began to suffer after each meal no matter how subtle it ate," says a Western woman.

"I lost my appetite and the very thought of food grew distasteful with the result that I was not nourished and got weak and thin. My home cares were very heavy, for besides a large family of my own I have also to look out for an aged mother. There was no one to shoulder my household burdens, and come what might I must bear them, and this thought nearly drove me frantic when I realized that my health was breaking down."

"I read an article in the paper about some one with trouble like mine being helped by Grape-Nuts food and acting on this suggestion I gave Grape-Nuts a trial. The first dish of this delicious food proved that I had struck the right thing."

"My uncomfortable feeling in stomach disappeared as if by magic and in an incredibly short space of time I was again myself. Since then I have gained twelve pounds in weight through a summer of hard work and realize I am a very different woman, all due to the splendid food, Grape-Nuts." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.
