

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-tives" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

45 GOVERNMENT ROAD, Oct., 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for 18 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has and left my hands and perhaps never will but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months."

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, retail size, 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Zbar's Ice Cream Parlor

Choice Candies of all kinds in bulk or fancy boxes. Also serve all kinds of hot drinks.

Seasonable Fruits.

Phone 1125, 290 Princess St.

FREE HANDSOME MUFF
GIRLS—This beautiful muffs will keep you warm and cozy during the winter months. It is made of the finest quality material and is very stylish. It is also very comfortable and will keep you warm and cozy during the winter months. It is made of the finest quality material and is very stylish. It is also very comfortable and will keep you warm and cozy during the winter months.

TWO WOMEN TESTIFY

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Their Health—Their own Statements Follow.

Halliburton, P.E.I.—"I had a doctor examine me and he said I had falling of the womb, so I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. All the bearing-down pains have vanished. I have gained ten pounds in weight, the discharge is all gone, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I think any woman is foolish to suffer as I did for the sake of a few dollars."

"You can use my letter as a testimonial. It may encourage other poor women who suffer as I did to use your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. G.W. COLACUTT, Halliburton, Lot 7, P.E.I.

Read What This Woman Says:

New Woodville, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in thanking you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had bearing down pains, was dizzy and weak, had pains in lower back and could not be upon my feet long enough to get a meal. As long as I had on my back I would feel better, but when I would get up those bearing down pains would come back, and the doctor said I had female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only medicine that helped me and I have been growing stronger ever since I commenced to take it. I hope it will help other suffering women as it has me. You can use this letter."—Mrs. Cassie LLOYD, New Woodville, Clark Co., Ohio.

THE CALL OF THE EAST.

By Thurlo Fraser, William Briggs Toronto, Publishers, 351 Pages, $1.25.

Another book by a new Canadian author is welcomed—"The Call of the East" by Thurlo Fraser, who is not so many long years ago graduated as a brilliant student from Queen's University, Kingston. In this city, where he is well known and kindly remembered, the book will no doubt be received with pleasure.

"The Call of the East" is a missionary romance, the scene being laid in Formosa, where Presbyterians are conducting an active missionary propaganda. A splendid tribute is paid by the author to Rev. Dr. Mackay, the late veteran missionary, an outline of whose work in the Orient is briefly sketched. It may be interesting to note just here that Mr. Fraser is Dr. Mackay's successor in this part of the mission field. While there is little or no plot in the story, and while the style will scarcely prove attractive to those uninitiated in Presbyterian missions, yet one must admit that Mr. Fraser knows the China coast and that he writes with deep conviction.

WHEN LOVE FLIES OUT OF THE WINDOW.

By Leonard Merrick, Mitchell Kennerly, New York, Publisher, 309 Pages, Price, $1.20.

"A delightful little book" will undoubtedly be the reader's verdict as he lays this volume down. It is light and breezy, yet carries an all-important lesson. It is a very human tale of theatrical life. The heroine, Meenie Weston, was brought up in luxury in the English home, only to find herself penniless on the death of her father. She now had to depend for her living upon her voice, and was tricked into accepting an engagement in Paris. Her adventures there are gruesome and repulsive. On the English coast, she meets a man who offers her a life of easy virtue or the cold bed of the Seine. At this critical moment she is rescued by a countryman. She marries him, and the latter part of the book is taken up with their matrimonial adventures.

THE NEW ROAD.

By Neil Munro, The Musson Book Co., Toronto, Publishers, 374 Pages, Price, $1.25.

Not only will this story be found interesting to the lovers of romance, but it should possess a peculiar appeal to the Scotch, inasmuch as it deals with the period following the last Jacobite uprising in Scotland. The road is the military road from Stirling to Inverness, which the highlanders successfully defended against the forces from the lowlands and took much of the power and prestige from the chieftains. The adventures of the hero and his companion on a journey from Inverary to Inverness read more like the stories of J. Fenimore Cooper and his pathfinders. The interesting figures of the Duke of Argyll and Simon Fraser (Lord Lovat) are introduced as leaders of rival factions for and against the new road. The hero ultimately marries the right girl and remains in possession of his patrimony, which the villain has illegally usurped.

CORDELLA BLOSSOM.

By George Randolph Chester, McClelland, Goodchild & Stewart, Toronto, Publishers, 384 Pages, Illustrated.

The author who gave us J. Rufus Wallingford, the get-rich-quick gentleman, presents in this new volume an entirely different story—the cleverness and caprice of an American woman of beauty and talent who has great social ambitions. Her plots and manoeuvres to obtain social position for herself and political place for her elderly husband, furnish the groundwork of an interesting story. It is essentially a woman's book, and we cannot imagine any woman who would not read it with delight. To me, too, it is fascinating and illuminating.

BIG CONTRACTS FOR AUTOS

England and France Place Orders With Western Firms
Chicago, Nov. 27.—Orders from Great Britain aggregating more than $15,000,000 worth of automobiles, wagons, sleds, harness, and other equipment of a similar character have just been brought back from England by Frederick S. Fish, her. But beneath this roundness lurked a subtle and unscrupulous mind, combined with a most delicate touch. The leading booster of the city, Jim Flooper, is a most attractive person, and easily falls a victim to Cordelia's wiles. His wife, Georgia, who is Cordelia's dearest friend and fellow conspirator, is a bewitching and bewilderment young person. Then there is Col. Vatterson Blossom, Cordelia's husband, an honorable gentleman of the old school; he is the hero of municipal improvement associations, citizens' leagues, etc., and is adopted by the city in a secret—largely through Cordelia's machinations—and gains great official honors. Cordelia is not only a social rival, Mrs. Fikys, and she comes president of the rather exclusive Club. Finally she receives Washington as an established social leader and her husband a member of the senate. Thus does ambition crown itself with glory.

OUR BIBLE IN THE MAKING.

By Rev. J. Paterson Smyth, B. D., Litt. D., D. C. L. Sampson-Low, Marston & Co., London, Publishers, Illustrated.

Rev. Mr. Smyth, archdeacon of St. Andrew's church, Montreal, and late professor of pastoral theology, University of Dalhousie, is not only a preacher of unusual force but also the author of some important religious works, including "How We Got Our Bible," "The Gospel of the Hereafter," etc. The aim of the present book is to reassure men in the present disquiet—to sketch the story of the making of the Bible simply and frankly in the light of modern scholarship. This story is a very different thing from the story of how we got our Bible, which in our day has been told by many writers in popular form. The latter begins with the early manuscripts of our present Scriptures, and traces their story down through the centuries till they appear in the printed collection of books, which we now call the Bible.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH OF JUNE.

By Grace S. Richmond McClelland Goodchild & Stewart, Toronto Publishers, 404 Pages.

Mrs. Richmond, the author of "Red Pepper," "Brotherly House," etc., possesses a peculiar delight in describing with tenderness and striking fidelity the home life of the majority of people with its joys and sorrows, its tragedies, its romances. Her heart is warmed by all that is highest and best in our national life. The opening chapter in this new book, "The Curtain Rises on a Home," comes as a pleasant expectation. Roberts, the heroine, is a splendid character. She declines the love of the "poor young millionaire" until he has accomplished something useful in the world. And, stimulated by love, he does it. He rescues a collapsing department store business, and becomes a shrewd and successful business man.

BEDESMAN 4.

By Mary J. H. Skirne, McClelland Goodchild & Stewart, Toronto Publishers, Price, $1.00.

"Bedesman 4" is a sweet and pretty little story, presenting a vivid picture of English rural life. The hero, David, son of a quarryman, is an unusual lad, with a longing to acquire an education. A stranger visits the town, meets David and sees great possibilities in the boy. Through his influence David becomes a bedesman in an old foundation school, and his life here is lovingly told. Next he goes to Oxford, where a pretty love story develops. The character of David's mother, a splendid woman, is beautifully drawn.

HOME UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

Between the Old and New Testaments. By R.H. Charles, M.A., canon of Westminster.

The Alps. By Arnold Lunn.

Common Sense in Law, by Paul Vinogradoff.

The Church of England. By Rev. Edward William Watson, Oxford.

Sex. By Prof. Patrick Yeades and Prof. A. S. Thompson.

Chaucer and His Times. By Grace E. Haden, Oxford.

The Growth of Europe. By Prof. J. A. J. Cole.

William Morris. By A. Clutton-Brock.

Above all published by Williams & Northgate, London, as part of Home University Library of Modern Knowledge, Price, 60c. each.

Each of the important and interesting topics dealt with in the above-mentioned volumes is lucidly and authoritatively treated. The same high standard of excellence attained in previous publications has been maintained.

THE RED VIRGIN.

By G. Frederick Turper, Hodder & Stoughton, Toronto, Publishers, 310 Pages, Illustrated, Price, $1.25.

"The Red Virgin" is an old-fashioned novel of romance and intrigue. From first to last it is a breathless contest between love and right on the one side, and hate and conspiracy on the other, for the possession of the regency, and afterwards the throne, of Grinind. The author's half-conceals and half-reveals, under fanciful names, places and personages connected with present-day movements in Great Britain and on the continent, and, in the process, builds up a romance of high order, portraying the life of the no-doubt of arms but also the clash of passions, with the destiny of a Kingdom at issue. One is pleased to note that the hero who saves the situation is an Englishman, and not, as usual in these romances, an American. The story culminates in a supreme sacrifice of love, and abounds with thrilling situations. It is, withal, a capital yarn.

ANOTHER BIG BRITISH ORDER.

Another big British order, let to the Cudahy Packing company of South Omaha, calls for five million one pound tins of corned beef. As a result of this contract the Cudahy company has expanded its big canning plant in South Omaha, which had been closed for several years.

Every man can give advice, but not every man can prove his value.

Every man can give advice, but not every man can prove his value.

many even ruined in soul and body." "The Growth of Europe," is an interesting volume, containing a study of the surface features of Europe. Prof. Cole shows how these surface changes are related to the movements of European men and seas. Numerous illustrations assist the reader in following the argument.

"The Church of England," by Rev. Edward W. Watson, professor of ecclesiastical history at Oxford, should be of interest to all students of the church. It deals with the Anglo-Saxon period, the Reformation, the condition of the church under Queen Elizabeth and the Stuarts, and in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. It is an ably written treatise.

OUR BIBLE IN THE MAKING.

By Rev. J. Paterson Smyth, B. D., Litt. D., D. C. L. Sampson-Low, Marston & Co., London, Publishers, Illustrated.

Rev. Mr. Smyth, archdeacon of St. Andrew's church, Montreal, and late professor of pastoral theology, University of Dalhousie, is not only a preacher of unusual force but also the author of some important religious works, including "How We Got Our Bible," "The Gospel of the Hereafter," etc. The aim of the present book is to reassure men in the present disquiet—to sketch the story of the making of the Bible simply and frankly in the light of modern scholarship. This story is a very different thing from the story of how we got our Bible, which in our day has been told by many writers in popular form. The latter begins with the early manuscripts of our present Scriptures, and traces their story down through the centuries till they appear in the printed collection of books, which we now call the Bible.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH OF JUNE.

By Grace S. Richmond McClelland Goodchild & Stewart, Toronto Publishers, 404 Pages.

Mrs. Richmond, the author of "Red Pepper," "Brotherly House," etc., possesses a peculiar delight in describing with tenderness and striking fidelity the home life of the majority of people with its joys and sorrows, its tragedies, its romances. Her heart is warmed by all that is highest and best in our national life. The opening chapter in this new book, "The Curtain Rises on a Home," comes as a pleasant expectation. Roberts, the heroine, is a splendid character. She declines the love of the "poor young millionaire" until he has accomplished something useful in the world. And, stimulated by love, he does it. He rescues a collapsing department store business, and becomes a shrewd and successful business man.

BEDESMAN 4.

By Mary J. H. Skirne, McClelland Goodchild & Stewart, Toronto Publishers, Price, $1.00.

"Bedesman 4" is a sweet and pretty little story, presenting a vivid picture of English rural life. The hero, David, son of a quarryman, is an unusual lad, with a longing to acquire an education. A stranger visits the town, meets David and sees great possibilities in the boy. Through his influence David becomes a bedesman in an old foundation school, and his life here is lovingly told. Next he goes to Oxford, where a pretty love story develops. The character of David's mother, a splendid woman, is beautifully drawn.

HOME UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

Between the Old and New Testaments. By R.H. Charles, M.A., canon of Westminster.

The Alps. By Arnold Lunn.

Common Sense in Law, by Paul Vinogradoff.

The Church of England. By Rev. Edward William Watson, Oxford.

Sex. By Prof. Patrick Yeades and Prof. A. S. Thompson.

Chaucer and His Times. By Grace E. Haden, Oxford.

The Growth of Europe. By Prof. J. A. J. Cole.

William Morris. By A. Clutton-Brock.

Above all published by Williams & Northgate, London, as part of Home University Library of Modern Knowledge, Price, 60c. each.

Each of the important and interesting topics dealt with in the above-mentioned volumes is lucidly and authoritatively treated. The same high standard of excellence attained in previous publications has been maintained.

THE RED VIRGIN.

By G. Frederick Turper, Hodder & Stoughton, Toronto, Publishers, 310 Pages, Illustrated, Price, $1.25.

"The Red Virgin" is an old-fashioned novel of romance and intrigue. From first to last it is a breathless contest between love and right on the one side, and hate and conspiracy on the other, for the possession of the regency, and afterwards the throne, of Grinind. The author's half-conceals and half-reveals, under fanciful names, places and personages connected with present-day movements in Great Britain and on the continent, and, in the process, builds up a romance of high order, portraying the life of the no-doubt of arms but also the clash of passions, with the destiny of a Kingdom at issue. One is pleased to note that the hero who saves the situation is an Englishman, and not, as usual in these romances, an American. The story culminates in a supreme sacrifice of love, and abounds with thrilling situations. It is, withal, a capital yarn.

ANOTHER BIG BRITISH ORDER.

Another big British order, let to the Cudahy Packing company of South Omaha, calls for five million one pound tins of corned beef. As a result of this contract the Cudahy company has expanded its big canning plant in South Omaha, which had been closed for several years.

Every man can give advice, but not every man can prove his value.

Every man can give advice, but not every man can prove his value.

PERRIN'S TIPPERARY BISCUITS

While the kiddies are bound to want them for their patriotic pictures of troops of the allied armies, Union Jack, British Bulldog, etc., the grown-ups will be just as enthusiastic about their delicious flavor and golden-brown crispness. At your grocer's every biscuit guaranteed.

S. S. PERRIN & COMPANY, LIMITED, LONDON, CANADA

SWEET CIDER, 30c per Gallon

Coast Sealed Oysters, 60c per Quart

D. COOPER
Phone 78 241-2 Princess St.
PROMPT DELIVERY

Removal Notice

I have removed my office to 40 Brock Street, next door to Metcalfe's meat store, opposite Henderson's.

S. Roughton,
Manager, the Mutual Life Assurance Co., of Canada.
Phone 610.

COAL

What you are looking is the kind we sell

Scranton Coal

Is good coal and we guarantee prompt delivery

Booth & Co.
Foot of West Street

How to be Sure

Shopkeepers and merchants throughout the Dominion are giving magnificent support to the "Made in Canada" movement.

Occasionally a shopkeeper, through lack of accurate information, may express the opinion that a certain class of article is not made in Canada, or is made only of an inferior grade.

If you are conscientiously trying to give "Made in Canada" goods first call in all your purchases, do not be content to relax your efforts just because you happen to receive this answer.

The shopkeeper may be perfectly sincere in his opinion, but there are other people who are more likely to have full and accurate information.

Why not write direct to the Canadian Manufacturers Association, Montreal, Toronto or Winnipeg? They have agreed to constitute themselves a general information bureau for the assistance of those who are trying to live up to the "Made in Canada" idea, and a line to them will always bring you prompt and reliable information, as to how and where to obtain the article you desire most conveniently and most quickly. If it is not made in Canada they will frankly tell you so.

"Canada First" is Everyone's Duty

The Universal Time Saver.

"TIME IS MONEY!" It is more than that—it is the realization of results, in the pursuit of business or happiness.

The telephone increases the value of every minute. It adds to every man's efficiency. Successful business today depends upon the utilized minutes.

Just now, when trade is not so brisk as it was two years ago, the long distance telephone is enabling men in all lines of business to devise new ways and means of keeping the wheels turning, and they are doing it at greatly reduced expense. They are finding that travelling expenses may be greatly curtailed, and in many cases cut out altogether, by a carefully-planned use of the long distance telephone. They are reaching the city, town and rural districts by Bell Telephone line, and in the satisfaction of the personal talk and the saving in cost are finding the solution of their "slack times" problems.

How can the long distance telephone help you?

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station.

The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada.