A. S. C. RECRUITING FOR MONTREAL AND TORONTO.

The Battery Has Now Fifty-Five Horses—The Militia Y. M. C. A. Attracts Large Numbers.

The militia Y. M. C. A. continues to attract large crowds of soldiers every evening. On Sunday between 125 and 150 letters were written in the rooms. Every evening moving pictures are shown free of charge. Two nights a week the soldiers' entertainment committee provide an entertainment, putting on boxing and wrestling bouts and songs. To-night Ensign Smith, of the Salvation Army, will arrange the programme. On Thursday the university committee will put on an entertainment as usual.

Major Thompson, of the Royal Military College, gave a very interesting lecture on military law to the officers of the 21st battalion in the armouries on Tuesday afternoon. These lectures are a great help to the officers.

A detail of officers composed of the following assembled in Tete de Pont barracks on Wednesday to hold a district court martial, trying two members of the battalion; Major C. C. Bennett, president, with Major W. A. Mitchell, C. A. S. C. and Capt. C. P. Fee, C. F. A.

Lieut. George K. K. Wilgress, of the 41st regiment, has been attached to the 21st battalion for instructional duty, and is posted to a company.

The 17th battery on Tuesday received twelve very fine horses that were purchased in other places. Fifty-five horses are now stabled in the brick stables near the bridge.

The Army Service corps here are recruiting steadily to fill the vacancies in the corps in Toronto and Montreal. Eleven men will be sent to Toronto for the motor-transport section. To fill the vacancies, 178 men are necessary.

The number of Ottawa soldiers now at Kingston comprises 128 of the 42nd regiment and 80 from the Governor General's Foot Guards. Ottawa ladies hope to be able to send 208 vests made of warm waterproof cloth, 208 heavy bed socks, 208 pairs wristlets, 208 cholera belts, one of each to each Ottawa soldier with a Christmas card and greeting.

Pte. G. Smith, of the 14th regiment, has transferred to the 21st battalion to go overseas.

AN INTERESTING CASE

RECALLED IN A JUDGMENT JUST RENDERED.

Action Was One For Damages on Account Of a Collision in the Napanee River—Each Vessel Put In a Claim For Damages.

A decision which has just been rendered in the appellate division before Mulock, J., Clute, J., Riddell, J., Sutherland, J., recalls a most interesting case.

Shipman vs. Phin—Francis King (Kingston) for plaintiff, H. A. Burbridge (Hamilton) for defendant. Appeal by plaintiff from judgment of the chancellor of March 11th, 1914. At the trial the action and counter-claim were each dismissed without costs.

Judgment: Plaintiff's appeal is allowed with costs and defendant's appeal is dismissed with costs. Referred to the master at Kingston to assess and apportion the damages, having regard to section 918 of the shipping act, with power to deal with the costs of reference.

This was an action for damages on account of a collision in the Napanee river, when the schooner Winnie Wing, owned by Reuben B. Shipman, towed by the tug Ray Stanton, of which Captain Grant Pyke was master, was sunk by a small scow owned by W. E. Phin, towed by the tug Maggie R. King, belonging to the same owner. Each vessel claimed damages against the other and the action was tried at Napanee with W. S. Herrington, K.C., and John English, of Napanee, acting for the plaintiff, and H. A. Burbridge, of Hamilton, acting for the defendant. The trial judge, Sir John A. Boyd, chancellor of Ontario, found both vessels in fault and dismissed both claim and counter-claim.

Francis King was consulted and advised acceptance of the findings of fact, but also advised an appeal against the decision on the ground that when both vessels are in fault, even if the action is brought as this was in the supreme court of Ontario, instead of in admiralty, the damages should be equally divided. This appeal was taken and the defendant entered a cross appeal claiming that the supreme court had no jurisdiction. The appeals resulted as above stated, successfully for the plaintiff, and as the schooner suffered much more substantial damage and was raised at considerable expense, the division of the loss will result in a substantial balance in her favor.

Wants $1,500,000. One million five hundred thousand dollars is being asked for by Rev. Robert Laird, formerly of Queen's University, the new secretary of the Presbyterian board of finance. Secretary Laird is adopting a novel method of placing the requirements of the general assembly before the membership by sending out a budget speech, copies of which are to be distributed at the various church doors throughout the Dominion.

Reeve, Halliday Selected. Reeve James Halliday, of Portmouth, has been added as a member of the relief committee of the Kingston branch of the Canadian patriotic fund. The committee will have several cases to deal with at Portmouth, and on this account, Reeve Halliday was appointed on the committee.

WHAT A SOLDIER SAYS:

It is predicted, by those who appear to know, that the first Canadian contingent, unless there is a crisis, will not be used until the end of February. The criticism of our troops by those in power is: "Fine men, in good condition and with sufficient training to go immediately to the front, but they need discipline, and must get it before they go."

"The Oil Industry in Canada," a special film showing the gushers of Sarnia, Ont., and the Canadian North-West, along with many other educational and interesting scenes, will be shown at the Ideal Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday; also a two-reel feature, "Where Fate Disposes," with Bob Leonard, Ella Hall and Edna Mason; "An Indian Eclipse," and a poker comedy entitled, "The Polo Champions," make up an exceptionally strong bill. Concert For The Volunteers.

Several of the members of Sydenham Street Methodist church and others gave a much appreciated concert to the soldiers in the cereal building on Tuesday night. Capt. Elmit represented the officers of the battalion, who were unavoidably absent, owing to classes being held in the armouries. Col. Sergeant McCracken, George Smith gave a recitation, Mrs. R. G. Andrews, W. J. Eva and D. Couper gave solos, Miss B. Chown gave several interesting selections, accompanied by Mrs. M. VanDreaser, and B. Couper. Elmer Davis deserves credit for the success of the entertainment.

Light refreshments were served afterwards and a vote of thanks tendered to the entertainers. It is likely that the programme will be repeated in the recreation rooms for the men in the right half of the battalion in the near future.
