At The Grand. Manager Branigan during the past few days has been the recipient of many commendatory letters from patrons regarding the quality of the vaudeville which he has been presenting at the Grand Opera House, and a continuance of the policy is being the demand for popular price amusement. Among the acts booked for next week are the following: Sam Kalnoa, Hawaiian instrumentalist and singer; Whiting and Whiting, singers and dancers; Smith and Sumner, comedy sketch; the two Canadian Pennies, novelty singing and dancing act; Alice Ware, "that versatile girl," acrobatic dancing and singing act; the Gray Duo, phenomenal double-voiced singers. The vaudeville performances next week have been so arranged that provision has been made for the presentation of two big travelling combinations. "The Appet," which has just completed an engagement at the high-priced theatre in Toronto, will be seen here on Monday evening, and the big musical success, "The Choicest Soldier," will be presented on Thursday evening. On announcing these two offerings Manager Branigan wishes the public to note the prices—both being offered at 25c, 50c, 75c, and $1. The regular vaudeville performances will be given as usual on the afternoons of both Monday and Thursday as well as the balance of the week. Kingston is fortunate in securing amusement of such a high standard at this scale of prices.
