NOT REALLY HONEST.

What the Customers Should Impose On Dealers.

Renfrew Mercury.

It is stated by the Kingston Whig that there is a certain Canadian dealer who purchased $600 worth of German articles last summer and received them just before the war broke out. Not having paid for them he is now, says the Whig, $600 in pocket as a result. Possibly the dealer of whom the Whig tells can avoid payment as a result of the war, but the evasion would not speak strongly of honesty. Still the Whig's statement would suggest that the dealer is going to take credit on his books for $600. If all Canadian dealers handling German goods are to do likewise, it would work no harm for the Canadian public to at once begin a boycott of German-made goods offered for sale here. There would be a hardship to dealers if all German-made goods on their shelves had been paid for; in such cases the dealers should be served with a notice by customers that when present stocks are depleted the made-in-Germany brand will no longer find favor. At any rate, customers ought to leave the impression with dealers that to again make imports from Germany will be to court bankruptcy.

Marine Notes.

The steamers Keyport, Keywest and W. H. Dwyer will be laid up in Kingston.

The steamer Port Dalhousie is expected to be laid up here and the steamers Keybell and Mapleton will also go into winter quarters here.

Archie Kerr has taken the building in Picton, formerly occupied by Alva Williamson as a livery, and is having it fitted up as a garage.
