

NEURALGIA SETTLED IN MILITARY CIRCLES IN HER LUNGS

No Relief From The Pain Until She Took "Fruit-a-lives" CAMPBELLVILLE, ONT., MAY 5th, 1913. "I cannot speak too highly of "Fruit-a-lives". For over thirty years, I have suffered from chronic neuralgia and constipation, experiencing much agony. The neuralgia settled in my lungs and I took bottles of medicine without relief. The doctor told me I would not get better but "Fruit-a-lives" proved that the doctor was wrong by giving me quick relief and finally and completely curing me. "I would not have my present health if it were not for "Fruit-a-lives" and I am glad of this opportunity of giving you this letter about such a splendid remedy as "Fruit-a-lives".

THE SUNDAY SERVICE IN THE ARMOURIES.

Rev. W. E. Kidd Obitiated - The Veterans to Give An Entertainment On the 21st. Rev. W. E. Kidd, chaplain of the 21st battalion, preached his first sermon as chaplain to the soldiers of the battalion in the armouries on Sunday afternoon. The chaplain impressed his audience as being a very earnest and forceful speaker and admirably fitted for the position he has taken. His voice has splendid carrying powers, and he could be clearly heard throughout the armouries. He chose as his text Acts xvii, 6: "And when they found out they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, These that have troubled the whole world upside down are come hither also." He stated that if, as chaplain of the 21st, it was in his power to help the men spiritually he would be amply repaid for his work.

A letter received from a member of the R.C.I.A. at Salisbury Plain gives the impression that the men will never be used on the front. The situation seems to be to the writer that the reserves on Salisbury Plain will never be used and that the men will return to Canada in the spring. The writer mentioned February.

The executive of the Kingston Veterans' Association has decided to hold an entertainment in Ontario Hall on Monday, December 21st, for the soldiers. An extensive programme is being arranged.

The clothing and necessities that will be supplied to every soldier who sails overseas with the second Canadian expeditionary force is as follows: Pair ankle boots, drab forage cap, drab jacket, pair drab puttees, service shirt, pair of canvas shoes, Balacava cap, pair woollen gloves and sweater jacket. Mounted men are also issued with cloak, pair of drab pantaloons and pair of service pantaloons. Dismounted men are also issued with great coats; pair of drab trousers and pair of service trousers.

The list of necessities issued is as follows: Two pairs bootlaces, one pair braces, hair brush, shaving brush, clothes brush, hair comb, two pairs woollen drawers, table fork, housewife, holdall, clasp knife, table knife, lanyards, razor, two grey flannel shirts, two woollen undershirts, two pairs socks, table spoon and two hand towels.

Reeve Bromley, Pembroke, has made a practical gift to Pembroke's soldier boys at Kingston. All of them have been given waterproof match cases, each one with the name of the recipient and Pembroke Ontario, engraved on the end, so that besides keeping the matches dry in all kinds of weather and under all conditions they will serve as a means of identification on the battlefield. The boxes are a new contrivance and are much appreciated.

After the service in the armouries on Sunday afternoon the 21st battalion took a short route march, in command of Major C. C. Bennett, through the streets, before returning to their quarters.

Lieut. T. C. Urquhart, of Toronto, has passed the Army Service Corps examinations recently held in that place, and has been gazetted to the Kingston branch.

The Army Service Corps is recruiting up to full strength of 106 men. At present the corps is thirty strong. The recruits are coming in rapidly. Orders have been issued to recruit sixty-five more men for the Army Service Corps in Toronto and Montreal.

The R.S.A. course will finish on Saturday. Applications are already being received to take the course that commences on January 4th.

On Sunday evening Rev. John Webster gave a short service in the Ontario Hall to the soldiers. He chose as his text, "I will return and go unto my father."

It is announced that officers of the non-permanent militia called upon for service in Canada will receive from the government, after they have been on duty at least three months, an allowance of $100 towards the cost of uniforms and equipment. When any of these officers is selected for overseas service he will receive an additional $50.

On Monday night Queen's Glee Club is giving its final programme for the season to the soldiers in Ontario Hall. There are a hundred voices in the club.

IMPORTANT CHANGES In The Canadian Pacific Train Service. The attention of the travelling public is respectfully directed to the improved train service via "Lake Ontario Shore Line" in connection with Toronto-Montreal route. Commencing to-day the following fast trains will be operated via Oshawa, Port Hope, Cobourg, Trenton and Belleville, instead of Peterboro, Hawkeston, Tweed and Sharbot Lake as heretofore.

LIEUT. HUGH M. INCE In R. M. C. Graduate Writes Of Work at Front. James Ince, Toronto, has received a letter from his son, Hugh McCarthy Ince, only "random" of the late Dalton McCarthy, and a first lieutenant with brevet rank in the Royal Field Artillery, now at the front, attached, however, to the Royal Horse Artillery. This letter was begun at the British base at Havre, France, on the 10th of November, and finished from some point on the battle line on the 16th. It tells the story of his rapid rise in the British army from a young graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston, on a "trip" to England in June to a lieutenant in Royal Horse Artillery at the front with the allied armies in November.

Lieutenant Ince is a stalwart young Canadian of twenty-two years weighing 135 pounds without his clothing, and measuring 6 feet 1.25 inches in height. He graduated from R. M. C. last June and went to England. When war broke out he offered his services and was gazetted a second lieutenant with brevet rank. He was stationed at first at Aldershot with the Royal Field Artillery. Later he was sent to Bordon and helped to train two batteries for Kitchener's second army. He was sent about the 10th of November to Havre, France, with the Horse Artillery as a brevet first lieutenant, but it is not known whether he is to be permanently transferred to the Horse Artillery or not. The Horse Artillery is distinguished from the Field Artillery in that the men are all mounted, and they are attached to cavalry. Hugh Ince is with "F" battery, of the 14th Brigade, Royal Horse Artillery, 7th division of the British army in France. In his letter he describes a battle between a German battery and a British aeroplane. The battery fire was accurate enough, but the aviator was so clever with his twists and turns in the air that he escaped.

IMPRISONED AS ENGLISH SPY. Major Ker, Formerly Of The R. M. C., Made His Escape. Major C. A. Ker, D.S.O., one of the staff officers at the Royal Military College, who recently left here for the front, was imprisoned two years ago with two other English officers, on the charge of being spies. They were taken while looking over German fortresses along the Rhine. One of the officers had a camera. Major Ker managed to escape. He spoke German fluently.

FIGHT HAND-TO-HAND

ALLIES ADVANCE IN BELGIUM, BUT LOSE HEAVILY. German Losses Were Three Times as Great - One German Regiment Flanked and Wiped Out.

Paris, Dec. 14 - The most desperate fighting of the month on the extreme western line of the battle-front was resumed to-day in the region from Ypres, through Armentieres and Labasse. The Germans have met the attacks of the French and British in this region with a vigorous counter-offensive, which has resulted in extremely bloody, hand-to-hand fighting. The allies have slowly advanced their lines, trench by trench, but it is admitted their losses have been heavy. The German losses, however, are three to one greater than those of the allies. In charge alone, along the Labasse canal, an entire German regiment is declared to have been practically wiped out after it had taken a French trench. The French, aided by the English territorials, succeeded in flanking the Germans, few of whom escaped.

POLICE IN THE DARK

With Regard To The Murder at Whitley. Whitley, Dec. 14 - Although four days have elapsed since the murder of William Stone, night operator at the G.T.R. station at Whitley Junction, neither the local nor the provincial police are any nearer to the solution of the mystery. The theory that robbery may have been the motive for the crime has been abandoned absolutely. If he had had any scuffle with any person determined to rob the office it does not seem reasonable that after he had been shot he would have called the police and the Belleville operator and then turned out the lights. Then again the money would have been easily obtainable. The reputation that Stone had gained as a fearless fighter who would not allow any person to lounge about the station, may provide the key to the mystery. The only theory which seems at all feasible is that some person who bore him a grudge, came to the station with the deliberate intention of evening his score with Stone.

MODEL SCHOOL CLOSING. A Presentation Made to Principal W. F. Inman. The Kingston Model school session closed on Friday after a strenuous week of examinations. That the students have enjoyed the session and have valued the efforts put forth in their behalf is shown in a beautifully engrossed address which they presented to the general principal, W. F. Inman. The address was accompanied by another tangible proof of their appreciation in the form of a handsome silver tea service.

The address stated that the students would bear away with them the recollection of a master just, fair-minded and devoted, affectionately enshrined in their memories. It spoke of his high example, and equitable, considerate, well-ordered personal conduct in manner and deed, which had impressed them deeply. Under Mr. Inman's rule they always felt that he had their best interests at heart.

MUCH HEAVIER VOTE CAST. Total Is 355 More In Recent Dundas Contest. Winchester, Dec. 14 - The official figures in the recent Dundas bye-election for the provincial legislature give the majority of the conservative candidate, Irwin Hilliard, K.C., of Morrisburg, as sixty-two he polling 2,084 votes, while the liberal candidate, John Alexander Campbell Ormond, obtained 2,022.

The significant feature in these figures is that the total vote is 355 higher than that polled in the last general election, 29th June last, and an increase of 549 over the total vote in the general election of 1911, a most unusual thing for a bye-election.

German Press Displeased. The Hague, via London, Dec. 14 - German newspapers which have just been received here show that the German press, although prohibited strictly from criticizing any acts of the government during the war, is much displeased by the sudden change in the leadership of the German military forces. They state that Count Von Moelke has been "politically sidetracked" as chief of the general staff, and that supreme command has been given to a "war minister," whose behaviour towards the Reichstag in the Zabern incident was insulting.

May Cut It Out. Ottawa, Dec. 14 - At a special meeting of the council a by-law to give the ratepayers an opportunity to vote on the abolition of the board of control was given first reading. It will likely be voted on at the January elections.

You will never regret using White Rose flour. A sample of the productiveness of Canadian farm lands is found in the experience of D. M. Engle, Humboldt, Iowa, who owns a quarter section at Glenora, Alberta. He rented this quarter for 1914 on the basis that the renter was to furnish everything except threshing and hauling, and one-third of the net receipts were to go to the owner. Although only 80 acres were in crop, Mr. Engle received a profit of $612.65, which is his net rental of the land for one season.
