REYNOLDS-SMITH WEDDING. Ceremony was Performed On Christmas Morning.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 101 Pine street, on Christmas morning, when Miss Laura Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Smith, was united in marriage to Charles A. Reynolds, by Rev. W. A. Reynolds, pastor of the bridegroom. Leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away, the bride walked gracefully into the parlor, dressed in a gown of white satin de chine, trimmed with net and pearls. She wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms and lily-of-the-valley. The couple were unattended. The wedding march was played by Miss H. Smith, sister of the bride. An arch had been constructed in the parlor of evergreens and holly and under this the nuptial knot was tied. The room was also tastefully decorated with flowers.

After the ceremony the bridegroom presented the bride with a beautiful gold ring, set with pearls, and to the pianist he gave a handsome gold barpin.

A wedding breakfast followed later. It was spread upon a table adorned with pink and white carnations and lily-of-the-valley. Many presents were bestowed upon the bride from her many friends, showing the high esteem in which she is held.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will take up their residence at 26 Frontenac street.

MARRIED AT SASKATOON.

The Hyde-Tysick Nuptials Celebrated On December 10th.

At three o'clock on Thursday afternoon, December 10th, at St. John's Church, Saskatoon, the marriage took place of Miss Alice Tysick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tysick, of Brooks, Ont., and Arthur G. Hyde, of Floral, Sask. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Greenhalgh, of Kingston, assisted by Canon Smith, in the presence of a large number of friends. As the wedding march was being played by Mrs. E. B. Smith, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, William Strong, and was greeted with ivory satin with trimmings of shadow lace and white carnations with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white carnations, white chrysanthemums, large white lilies and lilies of the valley. She knelt on a white hand-embroidered cushion. The choir rendered the nuptial hymn, "The Voice that Breathes O'er Eden." The bride was given away by William Strong, and was attended by Miss Letitia Johnston, who wore pink satin lace trimmed, and a hat of pink velvet with black plumes. The groomsmen were Harold E. Armburg, of Kingston, and the guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Strong, 804 Sixth avenue north, where the wedding supper was served. The table was prettily decorated with mauve chrysanthemums and white myrtles, and white ribbons floated from the electric chandeliers over the table. The wedding cake, and the table. The hostess wore a costume of gray satin trimmed with heavy lace.

The bride received many valuable presents from numerous friends, which she highly esteems the young couple had in that city.

The groom's gift to the bride was pearl necklace; to the bridesmaid, a pearl brooch; to the organist, a silver meshbag, and to the groomsmen, a pair of gold cuff links.

Among the guests were the groom's brother and sister from Asquith; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nowell, Asquith; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Barr, Rev. A. E. Greenhalgh, Canon and Mrs. E. B. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston.

The bride's travelling suit was blue portin, and she wore a hat to match with white plumes. The bride and groom left the same evening on the Grand Trunk Pacific, amid the good wishes of numerous friends who went to the station. The honeymoon will be spent in Toronto, Perth and other eastern points.

He's Not English. "Tim" Healy has just arrived in London after a visit to America, and has been telling that when the Mauretania arrived at Liverpool a small army of officials boarded the vessel and insisted on inspecting everybody's passports; for it was believed that there were twenty-two German reservists with spurious passports among the passengers. "Are you English?" "No-o-o-o," roared the famous Irish K.C., M.P. Had they said British, Tim would have raised his hat. But English—never. Like a true Irish patriot, the Emerald Isle is the only country Tim recognizes.

Bath Road Reports. Bath Road, Dec. 26.—"Sandy" Tait has resigned, drawing his milk to Kingston to his customers. The school section No. 3 has closed Wednesday for two weeks' holidays for Christmas and New Year's. The roads are in a very bad condition owing to the large snow and wind storms. Mrs. Keys, sr., was unfortunate in losing one of her horses. Mr. Greer is going to build a new barn in the spring. Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, of Trenton, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bridge; John Hyland and his daughter, Miss Lottie Hyland, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bridge; M. J. Hyland left Thursday morning for Hamilton, where he will visit till after Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hamilton spent Christmas with J. Hyland, who gave a dinner party.

Sunbury Items. Sunbury, Dec. 24.—The weather continues cold with a quantity of snow. Sleighting is excellent and with the holiday season on it is being enjoyed by all. Rev. A. F. Shorten, of Inverary, preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday to a large congregation. The discourse given was an eloquent and profitable one to all who were present. The Methodist society held their annual Christmas tree on Sunday evening this week, in the village hall. A large number were present and a good programme was rendered, being both lengthy and varied. A goodly sum was realized.

Ritchie Bros. are pressing a quantity of hay, which they will dispose of shortly for a good figure. The town hall has of late been remodelled and now presents a neat and attractive appearance. Sunbury cheese factory, which is still running, will close the coming week after a most profitable season's run. The village stores are now stocked with Christmas goods and a large patronage is being daily received. Those who attended the Christmas market on Thursday report a very cold drive.

Certain Of 1881 Champions. The Port Hope Guide has the following reference to the late Senator Kirchhoff: "We regret to announce the death of Senator Kirchhoff, who died in Ottawa last evening. For many years he was a resident of this town and was known as one of the prominent cricketers of his time. He captained the Port Hope Cricket Club for many seasons and led them to victory by winning the championship of the province in 1881. There are only two members of that club now residing here, Dr. F. J. Brown and W. S. Bletcher. He was known by his team mates as 'Kirk' and was a jolly good fellow and the life of the boys on the cricket field, who were greatly attached to him, and those who are left of that team to-day will surely recall his passing away."
