Frontenacs vs. Aberdeens.

Both the Frontenacs and the Col legiates had a practice on the covered rink on Monday in preparation for their games this week. The interest is very keen in the game on Wednesday night, as the Aberdeens are a very fast team. The game is bound to be one of the fastest that the city has seen in a long while, as nearly all of the Frontenacs are vet erans of last year's teams. The cold weather has made the ice, all that can be desired and even with moderate temperature for a day there would still be sufficient good hard ice to make the game interesting. The Ottawa papers seem confident have abolished the sale of liquor to that their team will be the victors, their soldiers, but our nation has but the local fans who know their men who will place their arms vote stood: that there will be a large turn-out | be a turning away from our sin in No. of soldiers at the game as in the this respect for if we fail, there is not Cereal Works there are over a hun- a nation that will sink to greater No. 13 dred men and officers of the Ottawa depths.

"Tom" Marks' Company Opens a Week's Engagement.

A capacity house greeted the return of "Tom" Marks, the old favorite of other days at the Grand last evening. "Tom" still possesses the Irish humor and rich brogue which won him so many friends in the past. He is surrounded by a talented company. The play last evening dealt with the high financiers of Wall Street, and the church, "Father O'Neill," was the leading role and was taken by Tom Marks. who portrayed the character of an ideal Irish priest and a man, who teaches and lives up to "The Golden Rule." "Dick Stanley," in Wall Street ,who speculated in stock by the advice of a friend, who was a former admirer of his wife and out of revenge works his ruin. He handled his role capably. Dale," Arthur Herbert, took the part of a villain in the deal. "Tom Corcoran," W. L. Philip, was the boss of the ward and a base seller. "Heaman Hauser," Chris. Allen
