REV. DR. BLAND'S VIEWS

COMING OF THE SLAV WILL HELP WORLD

But the Hour of the Great Race Has Not Come Yet, Says Rev. Dr. Bland.

Winnipeg Free Press.
"I like the expression 'The People's Forum.' The very word 'Forum' stands for absolute freedom of discussion, which nothing need fear except what is false. As long as freedom of speech prevails, no error need be feared."

"We must recognize frankly that God's family of the nations will be diverse. Nature abhors uniformity. No race can dream of asserting itself as to another or suppressing other nations."

"Prussia expresses herself perfectly in the strong, cunning, remorseless Bismarck. England expresses herself in Nelson, and the United States in Lincoln. And the dumb masses of Russia express themselves through Tolstol."

"Tell an Englishman or a Scotchman that the golden city of God is beyond the verge of the horizon, and they will ask whether there is a railway to it, with sleeping and dining cars. Tell the same thing to the Slav, and at once his face lights with rapture and he sets out for the city not asking what the road is like or even if there be a road."

"I believe the Slav is destined to teach us how to live in peace together and breathe freely; how to turn our cities from canners into gardens; how to live in love and joy. New York and Chicago are not joyous and glad some. We need someone to teach us the forgotten, undiscovered art of brotherhood."

"Empires have always failed and always will fail. There never has been an empire that has not come to grief. Men have tried to build babel towers, only to come to confusion and collapse. Their capitals are rubbish heaps. Empires are against the principles of God. They always provoked wild revolt; they always went down in blood and strife. The colonial and demagogical pride of men in making empires has filled the centuries with slaughter."

"What of the British empire? The British empire is not an empire. It is essentially not an empire. There may be some suspicious of empire between Great Britain and her crown colonies and India, but the relations between Great Britain and her self-governing dominions are not imperial except in name. The British empire is a federation, a sisterhood of nations; everyone of them standing upon exactly the same plane as the mother nation herself."

Above are extracts from a remarkably forceful and greatly inspiring address delivered yesterday afternoon to the People's Forum by Rev. Dr. S. G. Bland. A large audience listened to the doctor throughout with the closest attention and evident appreciation. During the afternoon selections were given by the Norwegian Glee club, and much enjoyed.

While the human race was one, said Dr. Bland, and while God had made of one blood all the nations of the earth, yet within that limit there was infinite variety. Racial differences were very marked, and there were also enormous differences of complexion. There were little Laps and tall, brawny Scotsmen, Russians and Afghans, Climatic and other influences set firmly the different types. Even the Canadian and Australian differed from the motherland Briton. The southern American differed from the northern American.

But no nation had a monopoly of the good gifts of God. Every nation had its defects and its excellencies, the world was to notice the different contributions the different races had made to civilization and progress. Greece had laid the foundations of intellectual life, of art, science and philosophy. The Romans had given the world political sagacity, a sense of law and order.

The people who must for ever be acknowledged to hold the first place in human history were the Jews. That race had given to the world a religion which was obviously destined to make itself a universal religion. He was not without hope that some day the nations would come to recognize the true character of Jesus.

For thirteen or fourteen hundred years the Teutonic race had been the most distinguished figure in the history of the world. That race included the English, the Germans, the Scandinavians and many others. As far as the world had won liberty, it owed it to the Teutonic peoples. They had uplifted the human mind and freed the souls of men. Science in its practical and utilitarian form was the work of the Teutonic race.

There was another great people, almost dumb as yet, said Dr. Bland. So far it had been pushed back into subjection by the Teutonic race. He meant the great Slav people. All efforts to absorb the Slav had failed and would fail. Some people feared the coming of the Slav. They asked whether, if Germany ceased to be a menace to the rights and liberties of the world, the Slav race might not step into her place.

Ideals and devotion to ideals, he (the speaker) did not know what it was. It was, he believed, the high destiny of the Slav to supply this need. What perversion, what blind folly it was for Canadians to look down upon the Slav as the sewer digger! "I tell you," said the doctor with warmth, "that the historian a thousand years hence will say that the contribution of the Teuton was to dig the sewers and lay the foundation for the master builder, who, in all probability, will be the Slav."

WILL CHECK BABIES.

So That Mothers Will Be Free to Tango.

New York, Jan. 8.—Department stores and moving picture shows have already provided nurseries for babies whose mothers are being entertained, and now the restaurants are falling into line. A popular Columbus Circle restaurant announced yesterday that every Wednesday afternoon, young mothers can come and tango while their babies are being cared for in a specially provided nursery. Not only that, but the babies will be given fresh milk, and marshaled in the tango floor at five o'clock sharp, and the prettiest given a gold cup.

WAR BULLETINS.

A British eyewitness' official despatch says that the progress of the allies during the last few days has been marked by keen fighting but permanent results.

Despatches from the front Thursday night indicated further important gains in Alsace, with several German field guns captured.

Following more demonstrations in favor of the allies on Thursday afternoon in Rome, several arrests were made, but the cabinet was summoned to a special session at night to discuss the situation.

Owing to the war, British exports in 1914 decreased 475 millions and imports decreased 356 millions.

Romania has officially entered the war on the side of the allies.

One thousand Canadians are in English hospitals with various serious complaints.

The Germans are apparently weakening in the Warsaw zone.

New French guns are proving most effective in Alsace fighting, and are battering the German artillery into silence.

It is feared that the Turks have commenced a general slaughter of christians in Asia Minor.

The allies are moving to retake the city of Lille immediately.

NEVER SO SAVAGE A WAR.

Pillaging, Ravishing, Burning, Murder Practices of Germans.

Paris, Jan. 8.—The commission appointed on Sept. 23rd to inquire into accusations that German officers had acted "savagely and inhumanly" against French civilians and soldiers says in its report, made public by the French cabinet: "We must conclude that there never has been a war between civilized nations of so savage and ferocious a character as that waged upon our soil by our implacable adversary. Pillage, ravishing, burning, murder, and ordinary practices of our enemies, and facts collected in many cases prove that the German claims that the killing of civilians was due to firing of the population on troops are unfounded."

"We found proof of the existence in the German army not only of a systematic plan for burning villages, but the possession of elaborate material for this purpose, including torches, grenades, fuses, oil sprayers, sticks of inflammable matter and sacks of tablets composed of very inflammable compressed powder."

The commission affirms that it has distinguished carefully between fires caused by bombardments, and those said to have been set by hand when no fighting was in progress. It is stated that the object was to intimidate the population, thus spreading terror and panic ahead of the invaders.

"Ravishings of women and girls were so frequent that the number of cases established was only a small part of those which might have been investigated," the commission says. "The victims of these odious acts generally refused to testify, because it would compromise their future."

The cabinet has been withholding the report of the commission because, it is said, it did not desire further to excite public feeling. It was only upon the demand of Georges Clemenceau, the former premier, and others that the cabinet decided to make public the report.

ALD. GRAHAM LIKELY

To Be This Year's Chairman Of the Board of Works.

As far as can be ascertained in municipal circles, the next chairman of the Board of Works is likely to be Ald. Graham, who, it is claimed, would be a good man to handle the works department in a "tight" year. Ald. Graham advocates economy, and his conferees seem to think that he should carry the Board of Works flag this year.

DEATH OF MRS. BRADLEY

SHE PASSED AWAY AT FRIENDS IN VANKLEEK HILL.

The Carnegie Library Proposition Defeated At the Polls—The Officers Of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association.

Gananoque, Jan. 8.—At the home of her son, William P. Bradley, Vankleek Hill, Christina McLaughlin, relict of the late Esau H. Bradley, Gananoque, passed peacefully away. Her remains were forwarded to Gananoque yesterday, and the funeral was held this afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Meggs, Osborne street, to Gananoque cemetery. She lived here for a number of years and was well known and held in high esteem. She leaves a family of two sons and one daughter, William P. Bradley, Vankleek Hill, Harry Bradley, Ottawa, and Miss Ethel Bradley, New York. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. A. E. Meggs and of John McLaughlin, both residents of Osborne street.

The plebiscite for the Carnegie library proposition was defeated here on Friday last, at the polls by 233 to 297; majority against, 86. The Young Men's Organized Bible Class of Grace Church, the No. 24, entertained the organized Young Ladies' Bible Classes at a banquet in the lecture room of the church last evening with a George Knapp, Ottawa, was spent. Mrs. John McLaughlin is confined to her home on Osborne street, suffering from the effects of a fall, whereby she broke her arm. The inaugural session of the town council will be held on Monday morning. Charles E. Bradley, confined to his home by illness for several weeks is able to be about once more.

The Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association has elected these officers for 1915, and duly installed them at its last regular meeting: W.M., Mrs. George Toner; Dep., Mrs. John LaSha; R.S., Mrs. Richard Anderson; F.S., Mrs. Olive E. Grier; treasurer, Mrs. Hugh McKanday; chaplain, Mrs. William Ruppel; D. of C.'s Mrs. William Taylor; Sr. Com. woman, Mrs. D. Butler; L.G. Com., George Knapp; O.G., George O'Brien; lecturers, Mrs. Byron Dustin and Mrs. David Andrew; guardian, Henry Smith. Frank R. Barnhart, Deseronto, owner of the coal schooner, Horace Fisher, was in town on Wednesday. Miss Ella Stewart, South St. Marie, is holidaying here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stewart, First street.

SAFETY UNDER SHELL FIRE

Instruction For Benefit Of Coast Town Inhabitants.

London, Dec. 26.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—"How to keep safe under shell-fire" is the title of a statement given to the press by a prominent army officer, for the benefit of coast towns.

"The first fact to bear in mind," he says, "is that no buildings in this country, however substantial, offer any protection against bombardment by warships. The biggest gun brought into action by the Germans at Scarborough and Hartlepool were of 12-inch calibre. These fire a projectile weighing about 900 pounds one of which would be sufficient to lay the great cathedral of St. Paul in ruins."

"The other guns used were 11-inch, 8.2-inch and 9.9-inch, throwing respectively shells weighing 700, 250 and 100 pounds. The lightest of these projectiles would go through the walls of any building as if they were brown paper, and its bursting charge of high explosion or the flying splinters their annihilating effect."

"The inside of a house, then, is the very worst place to be during a bombardment, for if a shell strikes the building and the inmates have the luck to escape direct injury from the explosion or the flying splinters they are almost certain to be buried in falling debris or imprisoned and at the mercy of the fire which usually breaks out."

"The next most unsatisfactory place is the street. Shells bursting on the hard pavements are most destructive to their own splinters of steel are added flying fragments of stone, each a deadly missile. The power in the street is also in imminent danger from the falling walls of that so burning about."

"Where then is safety to be found? The only place to be recommended is a cellar, and that must be deep and strongly vaulted. If such a place is available its use is recommended. Go into it the moment bombardment begins and stay until you are quite sure all danger is past. If the building above is supplied with gas, turn it off at the meter. If possible, take candles, food and water with you into your subterranean quarters, for the time of your stay is uncertain and your exit may be blocked by debris."

"Apart from such a cellar, the best place to be when shells are falling is the open country, well away from hard roads and trees and buildings. A nice soft ditch, out of sight of the enemy on the reverse slope of rising ground, is the position that I should choose."

"Whatever is done, let it be done without panic. Panic adds immensely to the sum of the danger; it means blind rushes in which the weaker ones always suffer, it means also the overlooking of avenues of safety and neglect of many precautions."

"Curiosity is one of the strongest impulses in human nature; often it is stronger than the fear of death, and so has fatal results. We had experiences of this at Hartlepool and Scarborough, when the German shells began to fall, people crowded out into the streets, curious to see what was going on. And many such were among the killed and wounded."

W. H. Groves, private secretary to Premier Roblin, and former well-known newspaper man, died, aged sixty.

The man who is always looking for trouble overlooks many a good opportunity.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifying darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.
