

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S

PROF. JOHN MACNAUGHTON, OF MCGILL, PREACHED

In Convocation Hall on Sunday Morning—Cross Takes Shape of Sword in the Great War—Inter-Faculty Assault at Arms.

Prof. John MacNaughton, of McGill, formerly a professor at Queen's, was the preacher at Convocation Hall on Sunday morning. His text was taken from I Corinthians ii, 2: "For I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified."

The preacher said that the real athlete in the men who cannot see that it is God's own voice he hears. The God whom we are to worship makes Himself plainly visible in the most concrete form, and Paul finds Him in the last place he expected to find Him, on the cross. This is the essence of the New Testament.

Paul's idea was that the cross could do no good to any one who would not share it. It was not truth, he saw there, but love. It was not defeat he saw there, but victory, even in the midst of defeat. It was not death he saw there but life through death, not weakness but power.

Life here below must be worth living since God deemed it worth dying for. If our life does not contain God then nothing does. Men to-day need a great leader in whom great truth beams like a clear flame. The situation confronting Paul faces us to-day in the shape of a battle between light and darkness. The cross is the only weapon in this war, but the sword is the shape it must take.

Paul as a citizen of Rome had a great reverence for the sword, but imagined God's kingdom was coming without any effort other than that of being prepared. If he could have looked into the future he would have seen the standard of the cross raised on high as a sign of liberty by England's heroes, Nelson, Drake, etc. They laid the foundations of freedom on two continents. Every man of Queen's who lives up to the old traditions of his college should take part in the present day conflict. Acquit you like men under the sign of William the Conqueror.

A short meeting of the Alma Mater society was held on Saturday night. John Dawson, secretary of the athletic committee, stated that so far the skating and hockey season had been most satisfactory. The hockey team looks good for another championship, and the excursion run to Ottawa was a complete success.

On Saturday afternoon the inter-faculty assault-at-arms was held in the gymnasium and some excellent boxing and wrestling bouts were staged. Medicine had men in each event, and as a result carried off the championship, with arts second, and science third. The assault was held with an idea of bringing out all the new material, so that many of those taking part were freshmen, among whom was some excellent material. Five pounds was allowed in each event, but all taking part in the college assault on Saturday, February 13th, must be exactly down to weight. All who had taken part in any intercollegiate assault were barred from Saturday's bouts.

The best exhibition of boxing was put on by Peavor and Givens, in the 158 class, and Peavor, the winner, looks like a comer. The battle between the heavyweights, Throop and Whittaker, was a close one and it took extra rounds to decide the winner. In the wrestling, Warner (115) looked good, while Caverhill (158) and Waddell (heavy) will make some of the old-timers go the limit. During the afternoon, Warner and Appleby won an exhibition boxing bout. The boxing was pulled off in three three-minute rounds. The results were:

Wrestling—115, Warner (medicine) defeated McDonald (arts) in two straight falls; 125, McLennan (medicine) won from Eshao (medicine) on an aggressive fight; Eshao (medicine) won from Byshe (science); 135, Inwan (arts) lost to Clark (medicine); 145, Fraser (medicine) won on two falls from Wrong (science); 158, Caverhill (arts) defeated Fraser (medicine), Fraser being injured; heavyweights, Whittaker (arts) three Gooch (medicine) twice.

Boxing—125, Sellery (medicine) out-pointed Hamm (arts); 135, Countryman (arts) defeated McGregor (science); 145, won by Dawson (science) on default; 158, Peavor (medicine) won from Givens (arts); heavyweights, Throop (arts) defeated Whittaker (medicine).

Fencing—McIntosh (arts) defeated Caverhill (arts); McIntosh (arts) defeated Farnsworth (science). Total points—Medicine, 7; arts, 4; science, 1.

The Late Joseph Longmore A respected resident of Camden East, in the person of Joseph Longmore, passed away on Sunday, Jan. 4th, at the home of his son, Dr. Bruce Longmore, Campbellford. Here he had been for the past three months. The remains were taken to Newburgh on Tuesday. The funeral service was held in the Presbyterian Church and the body buried in Newburgh cemetery.

To Extend Rink The civic rink on Mack street is to be extended so that a much larger skating arena can be enjoyed. Just as soon as the necessary permission can be secured from the Canadian Pacific railway, a new skating rink will be made on the company's property on Rideau street. Assistant Fire Chief John Elmer is looking after the rinks.

More Prisoners Transferred On Sunday afternoon seventy-five more prisoners were taken from Fort Henry and transferred to the detention camp at Hearst, Ont. A week ago a similar number was taken away and this now considerably reduces the fort population.

IN MILITARY CIRCLES

THE SECOND R. S. A. COURSE FINISHES ON FEB. 13TH.

Brass Band For the 21st Battalion—Gambling at Poker Has Been Prohibited.

The examinations for certificates of military qualification in the Royal School of Artillery will begin on Wednesday. On Wednesday morning the officers will be given mounts, and each in turn will be given an opportunity of showing how well he can command and give orders to a battery of artillery. The course finishes on February 13th.

The 21st Battalion has some excellent hand talent, and on Saturday evening eight members surprised the secretary of the militia Y.M.C.A. by giving an impromptu concert. The music supplied was very good, and after a more complete organization, the band ought to have a band that will rival the pipers in the quality of music they can furnish.

On Sunday evening, in Ontario Hall, Rev. A. Brown conducted the usual after-church service, choosing as his subject, "Wisdom a ways are the ways of pleasantness and peace." He said that a Christian had no right to commit sin. The sacrifices made in becoming a Christian were counterbalanced by new pleasures.

Gambling is forbidden in the king's regulations, and little games that have been taking place heretofore have been ordered stopped. Card games are not prohibited, but gambling must cease.

Sergt. Alfred Woodrowe, of the 14th Regiment, has been taken on the strength of the 21st overseas contingent. He will act as master tailor, with the rank of sergeant. For many years he was employed at Livingston Pros' store as a tailor. While with the 14th Regiment he was attached to "B" company.

Col. T. D. R. Hemming and Major J. Hamilton, last week, made an inspection of the buildings in Belleville that will be occupied by the 29th Battalion. The buildings to be used will be those of the Dominion Canneries company. Alterations are under way, and will be finished in about two weeks' time.

Lieut. J. D. Fraser, Sergt. Palmer and Corpl. C. Emery, Ottawa, are here to take a six weeks' course of instruction in the machine gun section.

Major Donald Hector MacLean, has been awarded the colonial forces' officer's decoration, according to general orders of a recent date. Major MacLean has served his king and country as an officer for twenty years.

A very handsome line of post cards in plume of the 21st Battalion, Queen's Engineers, 22nd Battery, Kingston members of the second contingent, and officers of the second contingent, has recently been issued by the College Book Store.

Pte. Chads, A.M.C. has just received word that his cousin, Lieut. H. C. Chads, of the North Staffords, has lost his life at the front. The North Staffords were the regiment which was re-entrained by the Princess, Pte. Chads' father is also at the front.

The military divine service was conducted by the chaplain in the armories on Sunday afternoon. Afterwards the battalion took a short route through the city.

An Ottawa despatch says: Capt. R. W. Tennant, of Belleville, will likely be the eighth doctor in the second contingent. Seven have already been chosen.

A beautiful line of pennants and pillows, made in two sizes, showing the correct crest of the 21st Battalion and the Royal Canadian Engineers, of the finest wool felt is now being shown in the College Book Store. Be sure to send one of these home and to your friends.

The old fort at Prescott, after receiving but scant attention for over half a century, has once more become a place of interest for Germans, Austrians and Turks. Even its name, that of Fort Wellington, is once more known. Seventy-five prisoners are now quartered there and accommodation is being made for 400. It will act as an overflow from Fort Henry of Kingston.

Weather Notes. A moderate disturbance is centred in the Mississippi Valley, while an area of high pressure, accompanied by cold weather, covers Manitoba and Northern Ontario. During Sunday snow and rain fell in South-Western Ontario and moderate snow falls occurred in Eastern Ontario, Quebec and the maritime provinces.

Resigned From Inspectorate. William McIntosh, school inspector for Centre Hastings, and who was for many years inspector for North Hastings, has tendered his resignation to the County Council, to take effect at the end of July of this year. The resignation was accepted. For forty-one years Mr. McIntosh has been a county inspector.

WEDDED IN THE WEST

Marriage of Miss Anna M. Neilson and Arthur L. Coleman.

The marriage took place on January 15th, at Newham, Sask., of Miss Anna Marion, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neilson, Winnipeg, to Arthur Leonard Coleman, third son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Coleman of Watson, Sask. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Love, assisted by Rev. A. P. Hussey.

The bride is a graduate of Queen's university, taking the degree of B.A. She is a niece of J. H. Metcalfe, ex-minister of parliament, and formerly resided in Kingston. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Neilson. The groom who is a prominent farmer of the west, was supported by his brother, Albion Coleman.

Following the ceremony, a supper was served at the home of the groom's mother. Arrangements had been made for the wedding to take place in the fall, but owing to the fact that the groom volunteered for service at the front with the third contingent, the plans had to be altered. With several other young men joining the third contingent the groom left Newham for Humboldt via Watson, where quite a demonstration was held in his honor. A large crowd assembled to meet him, flags were hoisted and patriotic songs were sung, the groom being given a very hearty send-off. To the bride and groom the very best wishes of a large circle of friends both in the east and west will be extended.

HEAVY FALL OF SNOW. A Heavy Storm Prevailed During Sunday Night. The weather man is keeping up his record for a variety of weather. Following the cold snap of Friday and Saturday, the Storm King held sway, and as a result of his work about eight inches of snow on the level fell during Sunday night and Monday morning. The snow drifted, and when citizens awoke on Monday morning, paths were filled up again, and the man of the house had to get busy with the snow shovel.

The street railway service was hampered, and it was not until the big broom had made the rounds that the cars were able to make their trips. The city engineer had quite a staff of men at work shovelling snow on Monday morning. Teams were used to carry the snow off Princess and King streets.

Can You Write One?—Thirteen Prizes to be Awarded in a Letter Writing Competition. Some years ago the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of the province of Ontario for the best letters describing cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition and yet there must have been thousands of other users of the pills who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize. To all these another letter writing competition is offered. Thousands of cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never been reported. These will furnish the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

The Prizes. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received, or before the 1st day of March, 1915, from residents of Ontario on the subject, "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and ten prizes of $2.00 each for the next ten letters.

The Conditions. The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or one that has come under his or her personal observation. More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literally and absolutely true.

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statements made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement. Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award. The writer of each letter must observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows: The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., Letter Contest Department. Belleville Lady Dead. Saturday night pneumonia caused the death of Mrs. Hannah Clark, aged sixty-two years. The deceased had resided in Belleville and was widely known at that place. James Reid, undertaker, who looked after the remains had them transferred to Belleville Sunday afternoon.

CAMPBELL BROS. Makers of Furs. All the Trouble Is Not In the Cities. The Renfrew Mercury says: The Kingston Whig is of the opinion that if the police enforced all the by-laws of the city about fifty per cent. of the people of Kingston would be in the police court a good part of their time. This could hardly happen if by-laws were codified. Through codification there would occur the elimination of obsolete ordinances, the repeal of what is objectionable or unnecessary and probably a better observance of all. It is not by any means in the cities alone that if all the by-laws on the municipal books were enforced there would be trouble for half of the population very often.
